SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1854.

THE LATE COLLISION.

Now that the first shock of grief and sorrow for the late melancholy disaster, is over, by which two hundred human beings were drowned, the newspaper press are discussing the question of the culpability of the officers of the Arctic, which vessel was running at a speed of about 13 knots, through the dense fog. This great speed was undoubtedly unsafe, unless bells were rung or whistle sounded at short intervals, to warn vessels in the neighborhood of their proximity. All the blame seems to have been thrown upon the officers of the Arctic, while the French steamer Vesta is not mentioned in the matter.

After the collision the Arctic was found to be so severely injured, that all hope was gone of saving the ship, and the attention of those on board was directed to the best means of saving their lives. But with the Vesta the case was different. The damage sustained could be shortly ascertained, and when found to be comparatively small, as it was, the captain of that ship should have immediately used his best endeavors to discover the other ship which he had struck, and ascertain the amount of her damage, and take off the passengers should it have been necessary. Bells should have been rung, guns fired, and rockets sent up, which would have called answers from the sufferer. Indeed the Arctic did fire minute guns, for some time, which would have been a sufficient guide for the Vesta, to have found her, and render the aid which those minute guns demanded. It is very easy for landsman to say what should or should not be done in certain cases of danger, but, for the participants of that danger to execute, is another matter. Cool, collected, and well directed action in time of great danger is what makes the hero. Aside from the carelessness of fast running in the fog, without making signals, if this were the case, we think the greatest blame falls on the Vesta and her officers, for their cowardly action in immediately running for port after having cleared herself from the wreck, and taking no thought for her comrade in distress.

THE GRAIN TRADE.—The Boston Courier, after receiving the Europa's advices, says that in England "the activity in the grain trade and the recent rise in prices had come to a pause, though the London Mercantile Gazette, a paper always in favor of high prices, inclined to the belief that the upward movement had not reached its maximum, and that the prices of wheat would yet rule higher. It was admitted on all hands that the harvest of Great Britain and the continent had produced well—that there was an abundant yield—yet there was a simultaneous rise in the European markets, which were strengthened by the fact that prices were higher in America than in Europe."

This looks a little like the two boys "down east," who in the days of the Maine Land speculation, went into a room together, and in a single hour made a hundred dollars each by swapping jackets.

ELECTIONS.—The reports, thus far, from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, are very unfavorable to the present administration; and if the remainder of the returns are of the same character, the whigs and anti-Nebraska men have elected most of their candidates to Congress.

The democrats in these three States appear, as Senator Douglas said, not to understand his bill for the promotion of liberty. He and his associates will soon find out that the true democracy of the country are not with them—that the sober second thought of the people does not approve the breach of faith—does not submit to be led by reckless and hair-brained adventurers who abuse and pervert the democratic name while they violate all democratic principle, and make liberty only a catchword and a pretence. Names will go a great way for a time; but when the acts and things are in too direct and palpable contradiction to the names,—the people halt! the fast men pass on—and land—who can tell where!

☞ The New York Musical Review, for Oct. 12, contains among other music, a simple and beautiful hymn tune and hymn, words "I cannot always trace the way—but God is love." We predict, for this tune, sung in these words, a wide spread popularity, and general use.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for October, 1854, was duly received from Fetridge & Co., Boston, via Mr. Shores of this city. We have just received another copy, from Federhen & Co., Boston, via J. P. Morse of this city.

The number is well filled with interesting matter, and profusely illustrated, particularly the article on Saint Napoleon, and that on the Himalayas.

In Utah, on the death of a man, his property descends to the Mormon Church, his wives and children not being recognized as heirs.—The church is the sole heir of his property.

THE CHOLERA IN THE ARMIES.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Constantinople, has the following notice of the mortality in the allied fleets and armies:

I have lately learned from good authority that up to the present time the French have lost since their entrance into the Turkish dominions, by casualties and diseases, nearly 10,000 men, and their allies upwards of 4000 men. For two or three weeks the deaths by cholera in the French camp at Varna were computed at 210 per day; and the bodies of the victims were taken out in vehicles, and thrown into trenches, some of them perfectly naked. So rapid was the disease that a sentry would roll over from his post very suddenly, be carried off, and in two hours his body would be but an inanimate piece of clay.

In almost every case it seemed as if the destroyer fastened his gripe on those apparently better able to sustain it; but their robust strength and vigorous frames only afforded a more luxuriant banquet, a richer pasturage. Disease would sieze, probably on the same day, a fine, sinewy-looking Highlander and a little, diminutive, dried-up Irishman; with ravenous appetite the cholera would in a few hours hurry to his grave the reduced frame of the Scotchman, while it would in many cases, turn from the latter with disgust, not deeming him worthy of the sacrifice. All, both officers and men, concur in saying they never witnessed such an unhealthy campaign, and even those who have been in India would sooner encounter the hardships of the Sikh war than retrace these past scenes.

A WONDERFUL RAILROAD INCIDENT.—As the Portland train was passing through South Malden, on its way up to Boston on Thursday afternoon, a Scotchman who complained of being sick and was consequently allowed by the Conductor to go into the saloon, fell out of the car window beside the track while the train was running at a speed of 40 miles an hour. A brother of the man, who was attending upon him, came to the Conductor and told him that his brother in reaching out of the window had lost his balance and fallen outward. The story seemed so unlikely that it was not believed till persons went into the saloon and found the man missing. Mr. Cram, the Conductor, with some reluctance, as some gravel trains were behind him coming on, after sending out his flag men and stationing others upon the rear car to warn advancing trains, backed the train a mile and a half to the spot where the man fell from the window, and found him sitting beside the track, unhurt, and not even a bruise or scratch upon him. Considering the great speed at which the train was running at the spot and the size of the man, who weighs about 190 pounds, it is really a wonderful escape. It may be that the high speed of the train was his safety, and falling close beside the car, the wind of the passing cars perhaps buoyed him up to some extent, and dropped him upon the ground as gently as a feather.—Newburyport Herald.

THE COLLINS FAMILY.—The Europa has arrived at Boston, and the Courier states that she brought 26 of the survivors of the Arctic disaster, who all express the opinion that Capt. Luce went down with the ship when she was engulfed by the waves—in fact reiterating the reports which have before been received with regard to the disaster. One of the Arctic's passengers, who came by the Europa, states the melancholy fact that he saw Mr. and Mrs. Gale and child, and Mrs. Collins and son perish in the water before his eyes. They were lowered down in a boat from the ship, the craft capsized, and her human freight was lost in the waters.

SHIP BUILDING AND FREIGHTS.—The future seems ominous for our ship builders. Freights are falling rapidly, the demand for ships decreasing, California and Australia markets glutted, the grain trade on the continent dull, and everything betokens a decided diminution in the profits of the two past years.

The most unfortunate class of vessels is the clipper kind, in which fortunately few of our ship-builders have invested. Those which have paid for themselves, when freights were high, may be considered as among the lucky.

Prospects are more encouraging in other respects. Money must soon be easier, and the present forced prices of the necessaries of life must come down a decided figure. At this latter circumstance we rejoiced. Exorbitant demands for every day staples affect the interests of just that portion of the community who are least able to endure them.—Bath, Me., Tribune.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 12.—Vermont Legislature convened to-day, and both branches were harmoniously organized. The Senate elected H. Barrett as their clerk, and Mr. Chapman as his assistant, both Fusionists.

In the House, G. W. Grandy, Esq., was chosen Speaker on the first ballot. The ballot stood—Grandy, Whig, 141; Bartlett, Democrat, 50; McLean, Free Soil, 23; scattering, 4. J. M. Slade, Esq., of Middlebury, Republican, was unanimously elected clerk.

The Albany Evening Journal relates a singular circumstance which recently took place in that city. A man having disguised himself as a woman, sought through an intelligence office and obtained a place in a respectable family as servant maid. After remaining in service some time, long enough to commit several robberies, she was arrested in the act of leaving, her trunks searched and various stolen goods discovered. She was sent to prison and placed in the female ward.—But her sex was discovered by the matron while superintending her bath, and he, the hitherto she, was placed in proper quarters.

The amount of money sent back from this country to Ireland by her poor emigrants, for the assistance of their connexions there, is a most striking phenomenon. It is ascertained, through the medium of the Anglo-American banking houses that from the year 1848 to 1853, the amount has gone on gradually increasing from about two millions of dollars a year! A return now before us makes a total of £4,351,000 sterling for that period; the amount for the last year alone of the return being £1,404,000 sterling, or upwards of seven millions of dollars.

LOCAL.

POSTPONED.

JULIEN'S CONCERT which was announced in the papers and bills for this evening, has been unavoidably postponed to Monday evening, at the Temple.

The Worcester Spy notices his concert there, and says:

"Of all the Musical wonders of this wonderful musical age, Paul Julien, himself, is certainly the most remarkable that has visited us, and his performance came fully up to the recommendations that preceded him. He received the most enthusiastic plaudits of the large and discriminating audience, and was repeatedly and rapturously encored. He has certainly won golden opinions in this place, as well as a golden reward.

☞ Mrs. Macready's Sunday evening Reading of Scripture, Sacred Poetry, &c., as advertised to-day, is something new here—and we are not sure that it has been done elsewhere. The selections are, half of them, from the writings of eminent and devotional women. In reading such passages she will excel.

For the Chronicle.

SONNET TO MRS. MACREADY,
After attending her Dramatic and Poetic Readings.

Another Star within the Heaven of Fame!
Another Queen to guard the realm of Song!
Another Aspirant 'mid the eager throng!
Worthy the guerdon of a glorious name;
Oh fair Enchantress! Empress of the heart!
Thou hast a magic power at thy command!
Thou dost but speak and wave thy fairy hand,
And troops of shadowy forms to being stand.
Sometimes, like strains of music loud and clear
Thy tones ring out to thrill the list'ning soul;
Or, from thy lips such tender accents roll,
We can but give the tribute of a tear,
And fall beneath the influence of thy sway:
Our souls like willing captives led away!

Portsmouth, Oct. 12, 1854. A. L.

A LOAD OF CHIPS—a complimentary load, came down to us from the building yard of Geo. Raynes, Esq.—perhaps with the idea that our interest in navigation might be improved by the donation. We propose to make a bonfire of them to commemorate the event.

MAINE THANKSGIVING.—This New-England festival is to take place on Thursday, the 30th of November;—not the 13th.

LAUNCH OF THE SANTEE.—We understand that orders have been to-day received from Washington to launch the Santee about the 15th of December.—Gazette.

MAN SHOT.—The Newburyport Herald learns by a late arrival, that Mr. Edward Greenleaf, of Newburyport, was killed by a gun-shot on board schooner Vera Cruz, between the islands of Ometepe and Sapetero, opposite Vining bar. The schooner was a revolutionist craft. There were 21 persons on board at the time: the other 20 made their escape, and the vessel was seized. Mr. G. had just returned from the mines. For a long time he was in the employ of the Nicaragua Transit Company. He was buried by his friends on the island of Sapetero. Mr. G. had resided at Greytown and Virgin Bay for the last three or four years.

The Small Note Law in Ohio, which proscribes the circulation of other States below the denomination of $10, went into operation the 1st inst. The Cincinnati bankers make their currency to consist of notes of $10 and upwards of Eastern, Kentucky, Indiana State Bank and two of the Indiana Free Banks, and of Ohio notes of all denominations. The Indiana free paper not in the list fell to 1 1-2 per cent. discount for small notes, and 1 per cent. on large notes; but the law was generally disregarded by the shop-keepers, hucksters, &c., who continue to take small notes as heretofore.

A NEW REPUBLIC.—The Maryland colony in Liberia is now a free and independent State. The new constitution, containing a clause which prohibits the traffic in ardent spirits, was adopted by the people on May 29th; and on the 6th of June, William A. Prout was elected Governor, and B. J. Drayton, Lieut. Governor. The new Governor was for many years Secretary to the late Governor Russwurm.

HORRIBLE.—The Manchester Mirror is generally good for two or three paragraphs respecting some terrible event or catastrophe that has taken place in New Hampshire within twenty four hours previous to its publication. The most extravagant and astounding item we find in last Saturday's paper is this:

Brother Beard of the Nashua Telegraph, has been presented with a shawl for his own wear. He has heretofore been down on shawls—now one is down on him.

The census in Scotland has lately been taken, from which it appears that in that country is the most thoroughly compact body of Presbyterianism in the world. The approximation to religious unanimity is greater in Scotland, than in any other country in the world. On the morning of the census Sunday, there were in all 943,951 persons at church. Of these 820,000 were Presbyterians, and 120,000 belonged to various other sects, amounting in all to about thirty.

LAWRENCE'S

CHERRY PECTORAL.

W. F. LAWRENCE: DEAR SIR,—

It gives me pleasure to state that your CHERRY PECTORAL has given utmost satisfaction wherever it has been used. Some of the most distinguished physicians of the state, are in the habit of purchasing it in bulk, and profess themselves highly gratified with its remedial effects. I can recommend it with confidence as a very superior medicine, and have no doubt that it will earn for itself an enviable reputation. E. H. ROLLINS.

CONCORD, Sept. 20, 1854.

Mr. Rollins is one of the most extensive dealers in drugs and medicines in New England. As the Cherry Pectoral was first introduced in Concord, we subjoin the certificate of John F. Brown, formerly bookseller and publisher, and now city clerk of Concord, N. H., our former agent:

This certifies that I have been an agent for the sale of the medicine, now extensively known as Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral; that so far as I know it has given good satisfaction; that I have repeatedly sold it to physicians in quantity; that I am acquainted with the manufacturer of the Pectoral; that he is a physician of good repute, and that I believe him qualified to conduct the complex operations necessary for the manufacture of this medicine. JOHN F. BROWN.

CONCORD, N. H. April 6, 1854.

The above are but few of the many testimonials in favor of Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral. It is used under the sanction and approbated at Dartmouth College by Prof. Dixi Crosby, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty of the N. E. states. It is

J. W. CLARK

GIVES notice of his intention to recommence instruction in the several branches that are usually taught in an adult Singing School, on the evening of MONDAY, Oct. 16th, in ACADEMY HALL, at 7 o'clock. The course of instruction will be particularly adapted to the class which honored him with their respect and confidence, last winter, and whose patronage, with others who have sufficient knowledge of the elementary principles of Vocal Music, to read common psalmody, is respectfully solicited. The correct style of performing the Monophonic, Polyphonic, and Homophonic forms of musical composition, which will be of great advantage to leaders, and prominent members of choirs, will be fully exemplified. In addition to the book which was adopted last winter, the class will have the gratuitous use of a work that contains several of the great compositions which were performed at the Musical Congress held in the Crystal Palace, New York, under the direction of M. Julien. A Glee Book will also be introduced during the term, which has been used by the best musical societies in Boston and New York, and will be furnished to the class without extra charge.

The term will consist of 24 lessons. Terms, for ladies, $1.00; gentlemen, $1.50, payable on the evening of the second lesson. s27

GREAT FIRE AT NEW BEDFORD.—A fire broke out about half-past eleven o'clock in the evening of the 4th, in the lumber yard of Horatio A. Kempton, on the south side of Hillman, between Foster and Pleasant streets. The flames raged with great fury with a strong breeze from the south-west; and spreading from the lumber yard, destroyed several houses.

The value of the whole property destroyed, including the buildings, lumber and furniture, is estimated at from $35,000 to $40,000.

A passer by first discovered the fire, and gave chase to a man who was at that moment escaping from the yard. He did not succeed in catching him. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

The fire raged furiously until half past 1 o'clock, when it was got so far under as to prevent further spreading.

We are pained to say that Mr. Jethro Hillman, a worthy citizen and well known naval architect, during the fire experienced such a fall as will probably prove fatal. He was at the time upon the roof of one of his sheds in his shipyard, extinguishing the falling sparks. His skull was found to be fractured, and when we left him this morning no hope was entertained of his recovery. Geo. F. Barker, Esq., who volunteered to save the books of Mr. Cushing, was badly burned in the hand. Jonathan Smith received a severe cut over the eye.—New Bedford Mercury, 12th.

LYNCH LAW IN MARYLAND.—The Baltimore Sun of Wednesday, contains the particulars of the execution of the negro man, Dave Thomas, by a mob, in Denton, Maryland, a few days since. Thomas had been convicted of the "murder in the second degree," of a man by the name of William H. Butler. The verdict occasioned much dissatisfaction among the populace and an attempt to break open the jail on the day of his conviction was only prevented by the prompt interference of the officers of the law. On the night of the 7th inst., however, two days afterwards, an excited crowd assembled, and after securing the Sheriff by tying him, burst open the jail doors and seizing the prisoner, hung him to a plank which they nailed to a window in the second story of the jail building. When life was extinct the body was cut down and conveyed into jail, and then the mob proceeded to set at liberty two other prisoners, one of whom had been sentenced to the penitentiary. The Sun says that this was one of the most daring outrages ever perpetrated in Maryland.

25 Cent Daguerreotypes
AT
DAGUERRIAN GALLERY,
No. 8 Daniel Street.

P. SALEN takes pleasure in announcing to the world, and particularly to the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has all at once discovered a new process to take

ELECTRIC DAGUERREOTYPES
BY STEAM,

For the extremely LOW PRICE of 25 cents.

Many will say this is another HUMBUG—common cheap stuff, like those taken in Boston and about elsewhere, for 25 and 50 cents. No, ladies and gentlemen, it is the steam and electric power that beautifies these Pictures; and for their durability you have the guarantee of Mr. Salen, who is established here, and has given proof to satisfaction.

Mr. S. has an extra department for those who wish to procure a Picture for the regular fair price, and will be attended to without delay, as usual.

The new cheap Pictures or Electrotypes will mostly be taken by the celebrated artist, Mons. Heavtontetoromenas.

NOW is the time! Come one, come all! When the electricity is gone, all will be over. 1ws16

Daguerreotype Notice.

ALL Persons who obtain Pictures at either of the twenty-five cent Rooms, will be furnished with GOLD CASES for said Pictures at BOUTELLE'S Saloon on Hanover street, for 12½ cts.

"Honest industry seeks only its own reward."

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be creat.d at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel, making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his MOONLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community,

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste. and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

IRELAND.—A most diabolical outrage has been perpetrated in Ireland. About 900 inhabitants of the town of Enniskillen and the adjoining neighborhood proceeded by railroad to Derry, on the 15th, and had a grand Protestant and Orange celebration. As they were returning, the train came in contact with a large fragment of rock placed upon the rails near an embankment, throwing the train off the rails, instantly killing the stoker, and more or less wounding numerous others, including Lord Enniskellan. It is stated to have been a deeply laid Popish conspiracy, and suspicion of it was entertained before hand, so that unusual precautions were taken, and the train was going at a very slow rate at the time, otherwise the loss of life must have been frightful.

The new church, corner of 20th street and 4th avenue, New York, which is being built for the Society of which Rev. Dr. Bellows is pastor, is composed of pure white marble, alternating in horizontal lines with bright red brick! The particular order of architecture is not stated; but we fancy the church must look very much like cheap calico.—Boston Mail.

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.
DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for
HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.
The virtues of this herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The native, when bitten by a rattle snake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.
If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth.
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.
For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.
Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; also removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.
FOR DYSPEPSIA
A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.
FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.
It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.
FOR COSTIVENESS.
One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.
FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,
It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivaled; sometimes a single bottle is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S
GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM
THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thorough scientific analysis of the celebrated
MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,
In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.
Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undertake a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in the walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.
Medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.
This Balsam—owing to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.
The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called
DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,
In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.
IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutive Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,
Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,
This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.
SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,
May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.
IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,
This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.
FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,
This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.
FEMALES
Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.
Those troubled with periodical turns of
HEADACHE,
Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.
It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE
SYSTEM.
Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable
Nursery Medicine,
Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for
CHILDREN,
Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.
This Balsam is put up in unique Metallic Cases, containing a colored pamphlet, containing particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.
Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.
Price One Dollar.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.
Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———,
"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.
SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,
Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S
GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoro' scientific analysis of the celebrated
MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,
In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.
Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.
The medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.
This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.
The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called
DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,
In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.
IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutive Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,
Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,
This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.
SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,
May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.
IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,
This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.
FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,
This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.
FEMALES
Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.
Those troubled with periodical turns of
HEADACHE,
Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.
It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE
SYSTEM.
Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable
Nursery Medicine,
Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for
CHILDREN,
Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.
This Balsam is put up in unique Metalic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.
Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.
Price One Dollar.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1854.

ADVENT CAMP MEETING.

A noble meeting tent, with a rude pulpit, and ruder benches, near the Exeter Railroad Depot, accommodated a dozen ministers, who also acted as choristers, and a thousand or two of people.

In the midst of the singing, we entered and took seats, on a warm afternoon. A preacher, with a good voice and pleasant countenance, named his text as soon as the hymn was sung, and went on preaching an hour, saying many excellent things in a very ingenious way—then he went on for another hour, during which most of the brethren were tired, and many went out: at the end of another half hour we went out also, without being quite convinced, leaving the sermon still unfinished. The encampment was convenient, and for dry weather not very uncomfortable;—but yet not remarkably inviting. The cooking and eating tent was on a large scale, necessarily;—for the eaters must be numbered by thousands in all. Since the meetings commenced, one man, a consumptive, from Londonderry, has died; one child has been born in one of the tents; and twenty three persons have been baptized.

Some of the speakers had fixed the burning day on the 11th of October, at 11 o'clock.—That day passed. Others fix it on the 1st of November; others certainly within 1854; others still, some time in '55.

For the Chronicle.

WHO ARE FASHIONABLE?

Messrs. Editors:—I do not understand exactly what is meant by the word "fashionable," so often mentioned of late. Does it mean those who wear fashionable clothes, with or without brains, or the literary, or the rich? The literary man is generally apt to be careless about his dress; the rich man has enough to do in looking after his business and casting up his interest money; so it cannot be either of these; and those who dress very much and have little brains, are the laughing stock of all parties. Not being able to make out what class of citizens may be called fashionable, I would take the liberty to ask you who the fashionable part of community are? Please answer and oblige your old fashioned friend JONATHAN.

When we speak of a genteel and fashionable assembly, we mean a company of men and women whose dress and deportment in public are so elegant as to excite the admiration of the beholder; not unfrequently to move his envy; and often to provoke his imitation.

A rich man may be genteel, or he may be clownish and vulgar. A literary man may be fashionable, or he may be slovenly, or bashful, or indisposed to gentility or even to common civility.

Fashion and gentility pertain chiefly to the outer man, and have no exact relation to the size or quality of the brain. So sensible men may be of two or three classes as to fashions. One thinks little about the fashions, and falls into or out of them as it happens. Another dislikes or contemns them and those who lead in them, but nevertheless, follows them at a distance, in spite of himself. This is the man who determines to be unfashionable; and a hard time he has of it.

Some men are genteel without being fashionable; and some very sensible people are in this category: for while fashion pertains chiefly to dress, gentility has more reference to deportment. A poor man of good sense may be a real gentleman, but a poor man and honest, can hardly bear the expense of following many fashions.

THE ELECTIONS.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The Philadelphia Inquirer of Thursday, in announcing the returns of the election in Pennsylvania, says:

The whigs and their allies have swept the State. Judge Pollock has been elected Governor, and the changes in Congress adverse to the Nebraska bill are of the most decided character. Philadelphia, in the present Congress, is represented by a single whig. In the next they will have at least three members, and possibly four.

Mr. Mott, the democratic candidate for Canal Commissioner, was supported also by the Know Nothings, and of course is elected.—Judge Black, whig, has been reelected to the Supreme Court.

In Philadelphia the majority in favor of the prohibitory liquor law is something like five thousand votes. The complexion of the Legislature it is yet impossible to state with confidence.

The native Americans of Philadelphia, who hold the balance of power in that city and county, have divided their forces between the whig and democratic candidates for office, giving the preponderance to the latter.

The Evening Bulletin of October 12, has the following notice of Congressmen reported to be elected in Pennsylvania:

Whigs 17, Democrats 7, American 1. Of these 3 are Nebraska, and 22 Anti-Nebraska men.

OHIO.—The Fusionists, or Anti-Nebraska men, in Ohio, carry their State ticket by 90,000 majority, and elect about all their Representatives to Congress. There is but one side to the contest in Ohio.

Four of the members elect have hitherto been known as democrats, four as free soilers, and the rest as free soil whigs, but all are now fusionists or 'republicans.'

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—First Presidential Nomination of the Season. A "Democratic General Committee of the state of New Hampshire," assembled at Concord on Wednesday, was called to order by Cyrus Barton, editor of the Reporter, and William Prescott of Concord was chosen Chairman, and William Tenney of Hanover, and William W. Eastman of Sunapee, appointed Secretaries. A committee, consisting of Hon. Edmund Burke, Lemuel N. Pattee, Esq., Amos Hadley, Esq., Dr. James F. Sargent, Reuben G. Wyman, Stephen C. Badger and Cyrus Barton, were appointed to draft resolutions defining the principles of the Democratic party of New Hampshire, and an address to the people.

Mr. Burke, from this committee, brought forward a series of resolutions laying down the Democratic doctrines as adopted by the Convention of the party at Baltimore, in 1852, and declaring—

"That the present incumbent of the Presidency having, in the structure of his Cabinet, in his appointments, and in many of his administrative acts, departed widely from the principles above set forth, the Democratic party is absolved from any further obligation to give him its support, or to sustain the measures of his administration, except so far as they conform to the principles of the platform enunciated by the Convention by whom he was nominated."

The resolutions thereupon propose Gen. Sam Houston of Texas as the "people's candidate" for the office of President of the United States, and they also renominate for Congress, Messrs. Kittredge and Morrison, leaving the district now represented by Mr. Hibbard to the future consideration of the members of the Committee from that district.

An address "to the people of New Hampshire and of the United States" was also presented, which is written in Mr. Burke's peculiar style, and is marked by his hostility to the administration.

JUVENILE THIEVES.—The Dover Gazette gives the particulars of several robberies committed in that town on Monday the 9th inst. The offenders were four boys from Great Falls, from ten to fourteen years old, named Chas. F. Morrill, Peter Pegan, Chas. T. Smith, and —— Otis.

They commenced depredations by entering the house of Mrs. Sarah B. Varney, on the Turnpike, where they obtained a gold locket and a small telescope. They next proceeded to the house of a Mr. Brooks, near Garrison Hill, where they entered by breaking in a window, (the family being absent) and took a small quantity of change and some other articles of little value. They then proceeded to the house of Mr. Andrew Paul, Fourth street, and entering the front door while the family were at dinner, went up stairs, where they took between thirty and forty dollars in money and several articles of jewelry valued at some fifty or sixty dollars.

They were all arrested, and 33 dollars of the money, with most of the jewelry recovered. They were arraigned before a Justice; the Otis boy discharged on account of extreme youth, and the others committed to jail in default of bonds in the sum of $200 each, to await trial at the next term of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Strafford.

These same boys were arrested in Great Falls but a few weeks since for theft; they are young in years but old in crime. The Morrill boy, who appears to be the leader of this juvenile gang of robbers, came to this town a few weeks ago, and obtained employment in the Enquirer office as an apprentice. From a memorandum book which was found in his possession it appears that he had entered the business in good earnest. His receipts and expenditures were entered in a business-like manner, from which it was discovered that these were not his initiatory steps in villainy.

SOUTH BERWICK MURDER.—The Great Falls Journal states, respecting the developements in the case of the murder at South Berwick, a few weeks since:

There can be little doubt that this man was enticed to the spot where he was found, and murdered, by some heartless villain who had no other object in view than to obtain the small sum of money which he carried in his pocket—supposed to be about $50. The circumstances show it to have been one of the most cold blooded tragedies which has ever been enacted in this vicinity. The officers, we have reason to believe, are upon the right track, and we hope soon to hear of the arrest of the murderer.

MILSIONARY MURDERED BY INDIANS.—We find the following sad story in the St. Paul Minnesotian:

A lady from the neighborhood of Fort Ripley, now in St. Paul, brings information that the wife of Rev. Mr. Spencer, missionary at Red Lake, was murdered a short time since by a war party of Sioux Indians. Mrs. Spencer was sitting in her apartment after dark, when she was fired upon and killed instantly. She was an estimable lady, who had resided several years with her husband as a missionary among the Chippewas. Red Lake is entirely within the Chippewa country, and the murderers were no doubt a war party of Sioux, who were out in quest of Chippewa scalps.

THE VERDICT IN DR. GRAHAM'S CASE.—The New York Evening Post, in alluding to the verdict of the jury in the case of Dr. Graham, remarks:

This will involve an imprisonment in the State Prison for a period of not more than seven nor less than four years. An order for time to make a bill of exceptions was taken by the prisoner's counsel, but we presume Graham will hardly be disposed to expose himself again to the risk of a halter, from which he has so narrowly escaped. His chances for getting a more favorable verdict are not one in a thousand, and all the time that he spends in litigating for a new trial will be just so much added to the term of his imprisonment.

The Savannah Republican, of Saturday, reiterated its advice to keep away from that city until a heavy frost set in.

LOCAL.

Reported for the Chronicle.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

EXETER, Oct. 14.

John Goddard v. S. B. Lord and Geo. W. Jenness. This was an action of tort founded upon a letter of credit sent to Mr. Goddard of Bangor by the defts. giving credit to West & Daby of New York, upon the strength of which Goddard sold about two thousand dollars worth of lumber. The said West & Daby proved worthless, and Goddard brings this action to recover of the defts. the amount of the debt and costs—alleging that defts. know at the time they gave the letter that the party recommended were unworthy of credit,—at least that they did not honestly and actually believe the party to be worthy of credit.

The case was argued with great ability by Hon. John S. Wells for defts. and by Hon. Geo. Evans for Plff. The parties in this case ought certainly to be satisfied with the efforts of their respective counsel.

The charge of Judge Curtis was one of surpassing ability, marked by great clearness, logical precision and beauty of language. It was indeed an intellectual treat.

The case was given to the jury Thursday noon, and on Friday afternoon the jury were discharged, not being able to agree upon their verdict.

This suit has been pending six years. It was tried four years ago before Judge Woodbury, when the jury gave a verdict for Goddard. Defts. appealed to U. S. Supreme Court, and the verdict was set aside. It has now been tried again, with the above result.

Christie & Evans for Plff.; Wiggin & Wells for Defts.

JULIEN'S CONCERT.

The talented young Violinist Julien, who was so well introduced to our musical people, in company with Madam Sontag, is to give one Concert in this city, this evening, at the Temple.

We have already copied notices of Julien's own performance: we now copy from a Worcester paper, a commendatory notice of Mademoiselle Durand.

"But, if Paul Julien did not disappoint his hearers, Mademoiselle Durand certainly did. It was, however, an agreeable disappointment. We entertained the idea, from the very favorable notices we had seen of her, that she was a good singer, but were not prepared to hear one who is justly entitled to rank in the highest class of vocalists. No singer has ever been received with more favor in this place, or left a more favorable and pleasant impression behind her. The audience cheered her with a hearty good will, and repeatedly obliged her to answer their encores. She has a voice of great sweetness as well as compass, and her execution is effective."

The pianist on the occasion, is to be Mr. August Goekel.

THE NEW NORTH CHURCH has begun to receive the slating on its roof, and the frame of the steeple has been carried to its full height, lacking only the lightning rod and vane. This latter appendage, the vane, we have understood, may be dispensed with, unless the city government, or private subscriptions, shall pay for it.

A vane, either the old one, thoroughly repaired, or a new one, would not only be ornamental but useful;—and means ought to be provided, by the city, or otherwise, for the purpose. We cannot doubt they will be.

☞ The adjourned meeting of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society, is to be held this evening, Monday, at 7 o'clock, in the Vestry under the Temple. All members, and all interested in the subject of temperance, are invited to attend.

☞ Mr. Campbell of Concord, will deliver a lecture on the prophecies of Daniel, at the Advent Chapel, Hanover street, on Tuesday evening next.

☞ In the Circuit Court of the U. S., at Exeter, on Friday, the 13th, the jury disagreed on the case, Goddard vs. Lord and Jenness, and were discharged. It is understood that 10 jurors were for giving a verdict in favor of the defendants; the other 2 adverse.

ACCIDENT.—The propeller Gen. Knox, from Boston for Waldoborough, put into this port on Saturday forenoon, having broke the cross head to her force pump. She will immediately repair the damage and proceed on her voyage.

☞ Our Railway Trains on Saturday evening were all late. A slight accident on the Boston & Maine Road detained our Concord Train; and the train from Boston for Newburyport having broken a rail before reaching the latter place, and then run off the track, detained all the later trains on the lower road east and west.

A corpse, on its way from Boston to Eastport for interment, was on board a steamer, whose commander, returning to the wharf soon after leaving, saw fit for some reason to put the corpse ashore. For this, suit is brought against him in the Supreme Court, sitting in Boston, by one of the friends of the deceased. Damages claimed, $5000. The case is now pending.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12.—New Orleans papers up to Friday have been received. Another man has died from injuries he received in the late riots, making the eighth victim.

SICKNESS AT THE SOUTH.—At Savannah, on Saturday, there were five deaths from yellow fever, and among them that of Dr. Sansy is announced. At Charleston, on Monday there were eight deaths from the fever.

The election excitement last night passed off without any serious results. The rejoicing demonstrations of the successful party were very great, but no riot occurred. The Know Nothings intend to have a grand demonstration to-night.

INDIANA ELECTION.—Madison, Oct. 11. The People's ticket in this county has been successful by a majority of about 700. The anti-Nebraska candidate is probably elected to Congress.

TROY, October 13.—Melancholy Accident.—Eleven Persons Drowned.—A ferry skiff was upset in the river, near the steamship dock, about 7 o'clock this morning. It contained 17 persons, including the skiffman, only six of whom were saved. The skiffman, named Geo. Yetto, was drowned. The unfortunate victims were principally young men employed in Messrs. Wheeler & Taylor's chair factory, West Troy, and were at the time going over to their work.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—Our municipal election passed off to-day quietly. Mr. Hinks was elected Mayor, by 2741 majority. In the second branch, two Democrats and eight Know Nothings.

GIVES notice of his intention to recommence instruction in the several branches that are usually taught in an adult Singing School, on the evening of MONDAY, Oct. 16th, in ACADEMY HALL, at 7 o'clock. The correct style of performing the Monophonic, Polyphonic, and Homophonic forms of musical composition, which will be of great advantage to leaders, and prominent members of choirs, will be fully exemplified. In addition to the book which was adopted last winter, the class will have the gratuitous use of a work that contains several of the great compositions which were performed at the Musical Congress held in the Chrystal Palace, New York, under the direction of M. Julien. A Glee Book will also be introduced during the term, which has been used by the best musical societies in Boston and New York, and will be furnished to the class without extra charge.

MORE SURVIVORS OF THE ARCTIC HEARD FROM!

CAPT. LUCE'S STATEMENT.

QUEBEC, Oct. 14; 10 1-2 A. M.—Capt. Luce, of the ill-fated steamer Arctic, with seven or eight of his passengers and five of his crew, were picked up from a raft by the barque Cambria, Capt. Russell, and arrived here last night.

Amongst the persons saved by the Cambria, at Quebec, besides Capt. Luce, are Mr. Geo. F. Allen, son-in-law of Mr. Brown, of the firm of Brown, Brothers & Co., of New York, and Jas. Smith, of Edinburg, Scotland

STATEMENT OF CAPTAIN LUCE.

Capt. Luce arrived this morning on board the Cambria. When Capt. Luce found the Arctic must go down, he, with the passengers (for by this time all the seamen had left, with the exception of the third officer) lost no time in lashing spars together to form a raft.

The life boat was the only one left at the time, and to get the raft constructed, it was necessary to get the life boat into the water, but the oars were left on board the Arctic to prevent the boat from being taken away from the ship.

NEW YORK; Oct. 13.—The Mexican Consul at this port has received a despatch from New Orleans to the effect that the revolution in Mexico is entirely at an end.

Episcopal Convention.—The Special Committee appointed at the late Episcopal Convention to prepare a suitable memorial of the late Bishop Wainwright, reported in favor of the erection of a monumental tablet or memorial window in the new Trinity Chapel, or the creation of a church endowment to provide Sunday schools with books, &c., to be called the Bishop Wainwright Church School Book Fund. The report was referred back to the committee, with power.

Explosion.—At about one o'clock this afternoon, a whiskey still in Pollock's extensive distillery on First street, Williamsburg, exploded with such violence as to throw down a portion of the building. The engineer, Wm. Neal, was instantly killed, and buried in the ruins. John Baglan, fireman, is badly bruised and scalded beyond recovery, and John Parker, stillman, badly injured.

The Evening Post says that Attorney General Cushing has been in this city during the last few days, laboring for the renomination of William A. Walker for Congress in the seventh district, but Walker did not get a single vote.

Mr. Guynet, a French importer, who lost his life in the Arctic, is supposed to have had with him some diamonds and jewelry, amounting in value to $150,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Reciprocity Treaty.—The government has acceded to the application of Mr. Moses H. Perley of New Brunswick, respecting the free admission of Colonial fish caught this season, and has given official assurance of an executive application to Congress for the refunding of any duties that may hereafter be paid on such fish, and for power to cancel any warehouse bonds that may be given henceforth until the reciprocity treaty shall come into full operation. This concession has been made in consideration of our fishermen having been promptly admitted to the in-shore fisheries of the Provinces, and to all the profits of the present fishing season. Mr. Perley has managed his negotiations skilfully and successfully. He now goes to Quebec, on other business connected with the treaty, which it is expected will finally be completed in a few weeks, satisfactory information having been received from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Washington correspondent of the Tribune telegraphs that the expected expedition against Cuba, under Gen. Quitman, is still progressing, and that confidential agents of the scheme have been in frequent communication of late with the Government, on the subject; meeting generally with the most decided hostility. The despatch says it was intended that the expedition should start between the 1st and 10th of November next, from Galveston, New Orleans, and other places on the Gulf of Mexico; six or eight steamers being employed in the transportation.

REPORTED ACQUISITION OF A DOMINICAN PORT BY THE UNITED STATES.—It is announced by telegraph that the Dominican government has ceded to the United States the small island or point of land, on the north east end of St. Domingo, called Cape Samana. The Washington Star says:—"With the port in question in our hands, and properly fortified, we have only so to will it, and no other Power on earth except Spain or ourselves can possess Cuba!" We confess that to us this conclusion of the Star is a non sequitur. We do not see what very great importance attaches itself to such an acquisition in a military point of view, especially as Samana is five or six times more remote from Havana than are the Florida shore and Key West.—Boston Transcript.

DAGUERRIAN GALLERY,

No. 8 Daniel Street.

P. SALEN takes pleasure in announcing to the world, and particularly to the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has all at once discovered a new process to take

ELECTRIC DAGUERREOTYPES

BY STEAM,

For the extremely LOW PRICE of 25 cents.

Many will say this is another HUMBUG—common cheap stuff like those taken in Boston and about elsewhere, for 25 and 50 cents. No, ladies and gentlemen, it is the steam and electric power that beautifies these Pictures; and for their durability you have the guarantee of Mr. Salen, who is established here, and has given proof to satisfaction.

Mr. S. has an extra department for those who wish to procure a Picture for the regular fair price, and will be attended to without delay, as usual.

The new cheap Pictures or Electrotypes will mostly be taken by the celebrated artist, Mons. Heavtontetoromenas.

NOW is the time! Come one, come all! When the electricity is gone, all will be over. 1we16

Daguerreotype Notice.

ALL Persons who obtain Pictures at either of the twenty-five cent Rooms, will be furnished with GOOD CASES to fit said Pictures at BOUTELLE'S Saloon on Hanover street, for 12½ cts.

"Honest industry seeks only its own reward."

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 427 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel, making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and properties are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,
Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinnest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers, each drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S
GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoro' scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.

Medical properties of there waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutive Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,
Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,
This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.
SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,
This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.
FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam if at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metalic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Morning Chronicle.

From our Correspondent.

THE EXETER CAMP MEETING.

EXETER, Oct. 16, 1854.

The Second Advent Tent Meeting here, virtually closed on Sunday, but a small meeting was held on Monday morning, prior to the separation of all. I understand that twenty eight persons were baptized on Sunday, notwithstanding the rain; and during the week previous, twenty five others. One of the preachers stated here, that within the last five weeks, he had, among others, baptized five Catholics. It is now expected by many, and has been frequently publicly stated in the meetings here, that the Second Advent will occur on the tenth day of the seventh Jewish month—that is, about the 1st of November. But, whether this is a correct calculation or not, they feel certain of the event within the present Jewish year.

The interest and excitement in the meetings gradually increased until the close. The numbers were greatly increased during the last few days, though of course many went merely out of curiosity, and not because of any sympathy with the sentiments offered.—These latter were usually the only cause of complaint, so far as order was concerned; and it is to be regretted that their conduct caused the speaker, once at least, to pause in his remarks, and request them not to smoke in the tent, &c. The conduct of these outsiders, in returning to the town, also, at the close of the meetings, was far from praiseworthy.

One evening, on visiting the ground, I found nine preachers on the stand. The first part of the meeting was spent in listening to the repeating, from the stand, alternately, passages of scripture; to which the whole congregation responded Amen, with more feeling and interest than it had been our wont to witness elsewhere. These people have at least faith to recommend them, though it may be in a mistaken cause; and it is to be regretted that those who affect to think so lightly of them, do not copy a little from them in this respect. Men and women, old and young, did not hesitate to rise and address the congregation, and impart their experience, real and imaginary, in the cause. The singing I could not but notice favorably; and it was often the cause of remark, that so large a crowd should be able, with so little practice, to perform so well. The preaching was generally earnest and to the point, and suited to the class of people for whom it was intended.

I noticed one tent marked "Portsmouth, N. H.;" and saw some very respectable mechanics from your city constantly on the grounds. There was also a tent marked "Scituate, R. I.," among the encampment. There have been meetings every day since the commencement.

There has been much said for and against such meetings as this. I cannot say that my observation in this case has impressed me favorably. The tent grounds have been the resort of all the worthless characters about here, and rascals from abroad have been attracted by the crowd; and thus our orderly town has been the scene of unwonted rioting and wickedness. I think most of our order-loving citizens have learned, that although the gathering may have left some money in our traders' tills, the social effects have more than counterbalanced this. Besides this, is to be taken into consideration the evil social influences on the meeting itself—of children neglected, as well as men and women, of insufficient and improper food, undue excitement, &c. We are not sorry the meeting has closed, and shall not be desirous of seeing another in this vicinity soon. J.

Brother Douglas has a hard time in his own State. He seeks every opportunity to address crowds, if he can get them together. His appointment at Springfield was made with the view of taking advantage of the crowd collected there on the occasion of the State Fair. The board of directors, annoyed by this artifice, administered the following caustic rebuke:

Resolved, That the executive board of the Illinois State Agricultural Society deem it due to the industrial classes (which they represent) to enter their protest and express their disapprobation of the course of political leaders, in taking advantage of their annual jubilee and school of labor, to occupy their time and distract their attention by the public discussion of questions foreign to the objects of this society.

Perhaps he thought that the sturdy freemen were as much bound to hear him as the laborers upon his plantation.

NEW CUSTOM HOUSES.—The Washington Union says: All these structures are to be of brick or stone, and thoroughly fire proof, with floors constructed of iron beams and brick work, iron roof, shutters, sills, &c.

That at Belfast, Maine, is to be forty-five by thirty two feet, and thirty-two feet high, and to cost not more than $20,000; that at Ellsworth, Maine, to be twenty-five by thirty feet, and twenty-five feet in height from the foundation, and to cost not more than $10,000.

CAPT. LUCE'S STATEMENT.

Capt. Luce, of the lost steamer Arctic, has published his statement to Mr. Collins, the owner, announcing the loss of the ship, with Mrs. Collins and daughter and son among the rest. He describes the fog, on the day of the disaster, as variable, but objects generally being, at intervals, perceptible at the distance of one-half to three-quarters of a mile, a dense fog set in, occasionally lighting up so that they could see for three or four miles around.

He says:

"At noon, I left the deck for the purpose of working out the position of the ship. In about fifteen minutes afterwards, I heard the cry of "Hard starboard," from the officers of the deck. I rushed on deck, and had just got out when I felt a crash forward, and, at the same moment, saw a strange steamer under the starboard bow. In another moment she struck against the guards of the Arctic, and passed astern of us. The bows of the strange steamer appeared to be literally cut off for fully ten feet, and seeing that, in all probability, she must sink in a few minutes, after taking a hasty glance at our own ship, and believing that we were comparatively uninjured, my first impulse was to endeavor to save the lives of those on board the stranger.

The boats were cleared for launching, and the first officer and six men left in one of them. It was then found that our own ship was leaking fearfully. The engineers were now set to work, being instructed to put on the steam pumps, and the four deck pumps were worked by the passengers and crew. The ship was immediately headed for the land, which I judged to be about fifty miles distant. I was compelled to leave the boat with the first officer and his crew to take care of themselves. Several ineffectual attempts were made to stop the leak by getting sails over the bows, but finding that the leak gained upon us very fast, notwithstanding all our most powerful efforts to keep her free, I resolved to get the boats ready, and have as many ladies and children placed on them as they could carry; but no sooner had the attempt been made, than the firemen and others rushed into them in spite of all opposition. Seeing this state of things, I ordered the boat astern to be kept in readiness until order could be restored. To my dismay, I saw the rope in the bows had been cut, and they soon disappeared in the fog. Another boat was broken down by persons rushing at the davits, by which many were precipitated into the sea and drowned. This occurred while I had been engaged in getting the starboard guard boat ready to launch, of which I had placed the second officer in charge, when the same fearful scene was enacted as with the first boat, men leaping from the top of the rail, a height of twenty feet, bruising and maiming those who were in the boat alongside. I then gave orders to the 2d officer, Mr. Baalham, to let go and drop astern of the ship, keeping under or near the stern, to be ready to take on board the women and children as soon as the fires on board the Arctic should be put out by the water, and the engine stopped. My attention was then drawn to the other quarter boat, which I found broken down, but still hanging by one tackle. A rush was also made for her, when some fifteen persons jumped in, cut the tackle, and were soon out of sight. I now found that not a seaman or carpenter was left on board, and we were without any tools by which we might construct a raft, which was our only hope. The only officer left was Mr. Dorian, the 3d officer, who aided me, and with the assistance of many of the passengers, who deserved the greatest praises for their coolness and energy in doing all in their power up to the very last moment when the ship sunk.

The chief engineer, with several of his assistants, had taken the smallest of our deck boats, and had, with about fifteen persons, pulled away before the ship went down. We had succeeded in getting the fore and main yards and two top-gallant yards overboard, together with such other small spars and materials as we could collect, when I became fully convinced that the ship must go down in a very short time, and that not a moment was to be lost in getting the spars lashed together to form the raft, to do which it became necessary to get at the life boat, the only boat left. This being accomplished, I placed Mr. Dorian in charge of the boat, taking care to keep back the oars so that this boat might not be taken away, as I still hoped to get most of the women and children in this boat at last. We had made considerable progress in the connecting of the spars, when an alarm was given that the ship was sinking, and the boat was shoved off without oars or any means of helping themselves, and when the ship sunk the boat was probably one-eighth of a mile clear of the Arctic. Instantly, at about 25 minutes to 5 P. M., the ship went down, carrying every soul on board with her. I soon found myself on the surface again, and after a brief struggling with my own helpless child in my arms, I again felt myself impelled downward to a great depth, and before I reached the surface a second time, had nearly perished, and had lost my hold on my child. As I again struggled upon the surface of the water, a most awful and heart-rending scene presented itself to my view: women and children struggling together admidst pieces of wreck of every kind, calling upon each other for help, and imploring God to assist them. Such another appalling scene may God preserve me from ever witnessing.

I was in the act of trying to save my child again, when a portion of the paddle-box came crashing up edgeways, just grazing my head and falling with its whole weight on the head of my darling child. In another moment I beheld him a lifeless corpse on the surface of the waves. I succeeded, in company with eleven others, in getting on the top of the paddle-box. One, however, finding all could not be supported on this piece of the paddle-box, left for another which was floating near. The others remained until they were one by one relieved by death. We stood up to our knees in water at the temperature of forty-five degrees, and frequently the sea broke directly over us. We were soon separated from our friends on other parts of the wreck, and passed a terrible night, each one expecting every hour would be his last. At last the long wished-for morning came, accompanied by a dense fog, and not a living soul but our own party to be seen, of whom only seven men were left. In the course of the morning we saw some water casks and other things belonging to our ill-fated ship, but could get nothing that would afford us any relief, and our raft was rapidly settling, as it absorbed water. About noon, Mr. S. M. Woodruff breathed his last, and all the others, except Mr. George F. Allen of New York, and myself, began to suffer excruciatingly for want of water."

That night, all the others on the raft were washed off, leaving only Mr. Allen, a young man, and the captain. At 3 P. M. the next day, those survivors were picked up by a ship which proved to be the Cambria of Quebec, from Glasgow for Montreal, commanded by Capt. John Russell, who had commanded the British bark Jessie Stevens, and was rescued from the wreck of that vessel by Captain Nye, of the Collins steamship Pacific, as will be remembered.

The Captain writes like a man broken down by calamity, and says, as he is about closing:

I have safely arrived at Quebec, but am left without a penny in the world wherewith to keep myself. With sincere gratitude to those from whom I have received such unbounded kindness since I have been providentially thrown amongst them, I am about to separate from them and go to New York, a home of sorrows.

FOURTEEN ARCTIC PASSENGERS SAVED.—Halifax Telegraph Office, Oct. 13.—We exceedingly regret that, owing to the bad working of the line on Thursday, a great blunder occurred in the transmission of the despatch relative to the Vesta. It should have read thus:—"The Vesta lost thirteen of her men. Fourteen of the Arctic's passengers, and thirty-one of her crew have arrived at St. Johns, N. F. These are all of whom we have any account from that quarter. The next news from Newfoundland will be looked for with much anxiety, and should the steamer Osprey touch here on her return from the wreck of the steamer City of Philadelphia, she will probably bring from four to six days later intelligence, and may be expected any moment after Monday."

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—On Saturday, the passengers saved in the two boats under command of Mr. Baalham, second officer of the steamship Arctic, made an informal presentation to him of $350, as a slight evidence of the high estimation which they entertain for him as a seaman, an officer and a gentleman. A like amount was also given him for distribution among the seamen who were in the boats.

It is said that one of the escaped seamen of the Arctic shipped on board the Atlantic on Saturday; but just as the steamer was about to sail, Capt. West discovered the fact, took him by the collar, and marched him ashore, saying that he wished no such men to go to sea with him.

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says:—"The steam frigate Princeton will convey Mr. Wheeler and Consul Fabens to Pensacola, where they will transfer themselves to the frigate Columbia. The force for the harbor of San Juan will consist of the frigate Columbia, the razee Independence, (which is to put in there on her way to the Pacific,) and the steam frigate Princeton.

TWO GIRLS ESCAPED FROM AMHERST JAIL.—Two girls, known at the jail by the names of Laura J. Reed and Jane M. French, alias Margaret Torrence, about 18 or 20 years of age, escaped from Amherst jail yesterday morning. These girls were arrested at Nashua at the time of the late fair, and put in a room at the Pearl Street House, where they broke away and were afterwards retaken. They took with them a horse and wagon belonging to Mr. Holbrook, who lives about a mile and a half from the jail. They jumped out of the attic window of the jail and made their escape. They were found in this city to-day near the Reservoir, and Mr. Munroe has taken them back this afternoon. They put up their horse to "hay and grain" in Cheney's stable, yesterday, the 5th, cool as old stagemen.—Manchester Mirror, 6th.

BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS.—Messrs. Fetridge & Co. have purchased the sole and exclusive right to manufacture this popular cosmetic, for which they have long been agents. The consideration paid is equivalent to no less a sum than ten thousand dollars. We have seen the writings by which the transfer was made, and know whereof we speak. The fact attests the popularity of the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers."

BANGOR, Oct. 16.—Rev. Mr. Bapst, a Roman Catholic Priest from Bangor, was tarred and feathered and rode on a rail at Ellsworth, on Saturday evening. He had previously been threatened.

DEATH OF HON. JARED PERKINS.—A letter from Nashua, N. H., announces the death of the Hon. Jared Perkins, a distinguished Methodist clergyman, and formerly a member of Congress from New Hampshire, died on Saturday last. Mr. Perkins, during his career in Congress, secured the respect and esteem of all with whom he was associated.

JUVENILE DEPRAVITY.—Wm. Kavanaugh, a lad about 16 years of age, was brought before the Newburyport Police Court on Wednesday, charged with larceny of $100 from the house of Henry P. Sargent. He plead guilty, and the case was sent up to the Grand Jury. He acknowledged breaking into four stores in this city within two months.—Herald.

Two Jurymen named McAlpine and Ewell quarrelled in the Court House in Norfolk County, Va., when Ewell drew a knife, and literally cut McAlpine to pieces. The excitement is intense, and lynching has been talked of.

If the finder will leave the papers at the Chronicle Office, or send them through the Post Office to the Publishers, he shall be satisfactorily rewarded for the whole amount of money contained therein. o17

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—A member of the building-committee of the New North (Orthodox) Church informs us, that it is not contemplated to have a vane, or the cardinal points upon the steeple. Now this strikes us, as not only being heterodox, but exceedingly out of taste. If such a mistake is now made it cannot hereafter be remedied, except at great expense. But why build the steeple so high, if it is to be vaneless? A steeple may point heavenwards, so may a Liberty Pole. But it has been said that it is not now the fashion to have a vane; perhaps, too, it may not be the fashion to build steeples, or to know which way the wind blows!

It has also been rumored that the City ought to furnish the vane and points, because it is for the benefit of the City. Why then should not the City furnish the steeple? But what if the Bostonian Aldermanic Functionary (!) cannot find it convenient to leave the Boston Custom-House to attend to his duties here, or in case he should object, for this reason, is that magnificent steeple, the most central and the loftiest in the city, to be hereafter forever vaneless?

We certainly hope not. For the reputation of the building-committee, in coming time, we hope not; and for the sake of Orthodoxy, even, we sincerely hope that a beautful vane, and the cardinal points may yet be placed there,

Where upturned eyes may ever find,
A vane above all other spires,
Sublime, to rightly point the wind,
As did that of our ancient sires.

MRS. MACREADY highly entertained a select audience at the Temple, on Sunday evening. She read the Sermon on the Mount as it is not often read; and throughout her programme proved that it is not her consummate acting, more than her fine intonation, that gives the charm to her performance. Of course on this occasion she laid aside all her dramatic art, and appeared as an orator only—giving an entertainment worthy the occasion and the character of her audience, among whom we notice clergymen and others of the highest standing. Mrs. M. leaves many admirers among our citizens.

MISSING SHIPS.—The list of wrecks and casualties at sea, registered at Lloyd's during the present year, since the first of last January, discloses a frightful catalogue of ships missing, and which are now given up as lost, having, it is supposed, foundered with all hands on board. In all there appear to be no fewer than forty eight, which do not include the losses of the Madagascar and the ill-fated City of Glasgow screw steamer, with which upwards of five hundred and eighty unhappy creatures were lost, nor the San Francisco, nor the Franklin, nor the Philadelphia, nor the Arctic, all first class steamers. Of the forty eight enumerated in Lloyd's list, a large number were vessels bound across the Atlantic, carrying many passengers. The remaining vessels were brigantines and schooners. Strange to say, not a vestige of any one of the unfortunate vessels has turned up, not a fragment has been discovered.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 12.—The Baptist Missionary Convention closed its session this afternoon. It was largely attended. Resolutions favoring the election of a Maine Law Legislature and a Maine Law Governor, after a spirited discussion, were passed by a decided majority. After an excited debate, strong anti-Nebraska resolutions were adopted by a large majority.

SOUTH CAROLINA ELECTION.—Messrs. Aiken, Keith, Orr, Boyce, Brooks, and McQueen are elected to Congress in this State, and there is probably a majority in the lower branch of the Legislature in favor of giving the election of Presidential Electors to the people.

MONTPELIER, VT., Oct. 14.—Hon. Jacob Collamer, of Woodstock, Whig, was to-day elected U. S. Senator for the long term by a majority, in both houses, of about 30, and Hon. Lawrence Brainard, Free Soil, for the short term, receiving nearly every Whig and Free Soil vote.

Gov. Royce's message was delivered this forenoon. It is unusually brief, and is received with much favor by all parties. Upon the liquor law he commits himself strongly to the prohibitory system.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The packet ship Harvest Queen, which arrived here to-day, from Liverpool, had 74 deaths among her passengers on the voyage. The French ship Pescatore, from Havre, which also arrived to-day, had 50 deaths by cholera on the passage.

DISTILLERIES IN CANADA.—A letter from Quebec, speaking of the probable passage of the liquor law there, says the distilleries in Canada East have not increased in number the past three years; the amount of liquor distilled has doubled in this time. In Canada West the number of distilleries has actually lessened in the last three years, and the quantity produced but trifingly increased. In Canada East, 1853, 10 stills, 583,012 gals. Canada West, 1853, 129 stills, 2,145,680 gals. Thus stand the figures. The entire revenue from stills and whisky last year was $63,799.

MISERY IN NEW YORK.—Eighteen thousand people in the city of New York live under ground, that is to say, in cellars, vaults and holes. So Rev. Mr. Cuyler tells us, and his information is derived from actual investigation. He tells of one neglected quarter—a single lodging room or den—in which one hundred outcasts of both sexes herd together, indiscriminately, every night.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT.—The colored stewardess who was lost behaved gallantly. She worked at the pumps in the passage aft, to the last moment. The white assistant stewardess sat in the cabin almost paralyzed with fear, and there awaited death, saying that "she might as well die there as anywhere else."

We take the above statement from the account in the New York papers of the loss of the Arctic. The fact mentioned is worthy of note, in our estimate of the colored race.—Boston Transcript.

PERSONAL.—The Rev. Dr. Waterbury, pastor of the Bowdoin Street Church, Boston, arrived in the Europa, having been absent on a European tour six months. His many friends will be glad to hear that he returns with improved health.

AT
DAGUERRIAN GALLERY,
No. 8 Daniel Street.
P. SALEN takes pleasure in announcing to the world, and particularly to the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has all at once discovered a new process to take
ELECTRIC DAGUERREOTYPES
BY STEAM,
For the extremely LOW PRICE of 25 cents.
Many will say this is another HUMBUG—common cheap stuff, like those taken in Boston and about elsewhere, for 25 and 50 cents. No, ladies and gentlemen, it is the steam and electric power that beautifies these Pictures; and for their durability you have the guarantee of Mr. Salen, who is established here, and has given proof to satisfaction.
Mr. S. has an extra department for those who wish to procure a Picture for the regular fair price, and will be attended to without delay, as usual.
The new cheap Pictures or Electrotypes will mostly be taken by the celebrated artist, Mons. Heavtontetoremens.
NOW is the time! Come one, come all! When the electricity is gone, all will be over. 1ws16

Daguerreotype Notice.
ALL Persons who obtain Pictures at either of the twenty-five cent Rooms, will be furnished with GOOD CASES to fit said Pictures at BOUTELLE'S Saloon on Hanover street, for 12½ cts.

"Honest industry seeks only its own reward."
Daguerreotypes.
A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient ample evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,
No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel,
making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.
He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.
Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful
STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.
These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.
A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

DR. ORDWAY'S
HUMOR DISCOVERY,
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.
Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.
A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.
It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.
One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.
It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Kidney Affects that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings that have had to continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,
Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by
W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c. &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:" and having the name JAS. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

THE WORD "NO!"

That is a very short word. It has a very short meaning sometimes. It often blasts fond anticipations; it may change the whole tenor of a life. In matrimonial matters it would be better that it should be oftener said than it is, for though many of the female sex sometimes say No when they mean Yes, yet more should use the shorter word when they do not.

On Sunday evening, not many nights ago, the Rev. Mr. Thompson performed a marriage ceremony at the Tabernacle—both parties said Yes at the proper time, and the reverend gentleman said Amen.

'I want you to perform the same thing for me,' said a well dressed, youngish man to Mr. Thompson.

'When?'

'Now—right off—to-night.'

'Can't you put it off a little? It will make it rather late.'

'No—the lady says now or never, and I am very anxious. Will you go?'

'Yes; where is it?'

'Close by—only a few steps west of the Park. We are all ready, and will not detain you but a few minutes on your way home.'

Mr. T. went to the place, which was a respectable boarding house, and everything evinced decorum. The lady—young and pretty, and neatly dressed, and altogether a desirable partner for the gentleman—was presented, and a short prayer, as usual upon such occasions, offered, and then hands joined.

'You, with a full sense of the obligations you assume, do promise, here in the presence of God and these witnesses, that you will take this woman, whose right hand you clasp in yours, to be your lawful, wedded wife, and as such you will love and cherish her forever.'

'I do.'

'And you, Miss, on your part, will you take this man to be your lawful, wedded husband?'

'NO!'

We have heard in times past, when showers were fashionable, some pretty heavy claps of thunder; but none that ever rattled about the tympanum of that bridegroom was quite as loud as that stunning little monosyllable.

'No, I never will!' said she most emphatically, and walked away proudly to her seat, leaving her almost-husband looking and probably feeling just the least trifle in the world foolish.

Mr. Thompson remonstrated—not to induce her to change that No for Yes, but for trifling with him in a solemn duty of his calling, and asked for an explanation.

'I meant no disrespect for you, sir, or to trifle with your duty, or the solemn obligation you were called upon to ratify; but I had no other way to vindicate my character. I came to the city a poor sewing girl. I worked for this man. He made proposals of marriage to me, but from other circumstances I doubted his sincerity, and left his employment and went back to the country for a while. When I returned, I found the door of my former boarding house closed against me, and this lady, whom I had esteemed as a kind friend, cold and quite indisposed to renew my acquaintance; and I insisted upon knowing the reason. I learned that this man had blackened my character, denied his proposals of marriage, and said I was—no matter what. I said to the lady, let me come back, and I will prove my innocence. Will you believe what I now say, if he will now marry me?'

'Yes; certainly I will, and so will all who know you.'

'I renewed the acquaintance—he renewed his proposals—I accepted, and said, Yes, get the minister at once. He slandered me—I deceived him. I proved my word true, and his false. It was the only way a poor, helpless girl had to avenge herself upon a man who had proved himself unworthy to be her husband. It was only, at the right time, to say one word—one little word. I have said it. I hope it will be a lesson to men, an example to other girls, and that in many other and different circumstances they will learn to say No!'

'If I was angry for a single moment,' said Mr. Thompson, 'I carried none of it over the threshold. It was a severe lesson, but well applied. I went home pondering upon the value of that word—No!'—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ An old farmer who feared neither God nor man, had hired a devout negro; and to get some Sunday work out of him, he would always plan a case of "necessity" on Saturday, and on Sunday would put this point to the man's conscience. One morning old Sambo proved refractory; he would work no more on Sundays. The master then argued that it was "a case of necessity;" that the Scriptures allowed a man to get out of a pit, on the Sabbath day, a beast that had fallen in. "Yes, massa," rejoined the black, "but not if he spends Saturday in digging the pit for the bery purpose!"

The Rev. Dr. McNeile issued a general invitation to the worshipers at St. Paul's, Liverpool, to a lecture on the evils of drunkenness. Some wag, well acquainted with those church goers who 'like a glass,' got the notice printed as a circular, and sent it round among them, with the words—'Mr. —— and friends are affectionately invited to attend.' Great was the indignation at the Doctor, and especially in quarters that might seem most in need of the lecture.

Mr. Isaac Smith, a highly respectable farmer in Middletown, was found dead near his corn crib, on Monday. His death was probably caused by disease of the heart. After breakfast, intending to take his wife to Newport, he went out and harnessed his horse to his wagon. Being gone longer than his wife expected, she went to look for him and found him dead.

CONVENTIONS.

Mr. Burke's Old Guard, speaking of National Conventions, says—

The day when nominations by National Conventions will be respected, is past. They, like their predecessors, Congressional caucuses, have become obsolete. The intelligent and reflecting people of the United States cannot shut their eyes to the momentous and humiliating fact, that, as National Conventions are at present organized and conducted, no distinguished citizen of the Republic, who has gained the confidence of the people by commanding ability, displayed in a long life of eminent and valuable public service, can aspire to the Presidency. National Conventions rule all such men off the line of promotion to that exalted office. None but men of inferior capacities, unknown to the people, and never thought of except by intriguing demagogues, who, in elevating such men to the highest honors of the Republic, secure thereby their own advancement in inferior spheres, can now hope for a nomination by National Conventions. Instead of being fair exponents of the popular sentiment, National Conventions now stifle and suppress the will and voice of the people.

The only way in which those immense evils can be corrected, and the people restored to their sovereign and constitutional right to choose the Chief Magistrate of the Republic, of which they have been denied by the machinery of National Conventions, is, to take the business of making Presidents into their own hands, to make the nominations themselves—inasmuch as they have to make the elections.

The editor of the Boston Chronicle says:

The last whig National Convention, representing the party North and South, has been held, however it may be with the democratic.

General Houston among the Anti-Slavery Lecturers in Boston.—The Washington Star professes to doubt whether old General Sam Houston is the man announced as about to lecture in Boston against slavery. The Star says that though General Houston's course upon the Nebraska bill, and one or two other somewhat kindred questions, has made him many bitter enemies at the South, he yet entertains no sympathy for anti-slavery whatever.

In reference to this, the New York Evening Post says:

"We presume no one expected that a United States Senator from Texas, and he Sam Houston, was going to Boston to preach abolitionism, for two reasons—the first is because he is not an abolitionist but a slaveholder, and the second is that if he had anything to say against slavery, he is not the man to go first into a free State to say it."

Whether Gen. Sam Houston is for or against slavery is more than we can say. But this is certain, that he has been announced by the authority of leading anti-slavery men in this city, as a lecturer on slavery, on February 22d, and we know nothing against the correctness of this announcement.—Boston Traveller, Oct. 9.

That is it, exactly. A lecture on slavery is not necessarily a lecture against it. The men at the north who say the most against slavery, are quite willing to hear all that can be said in its favor. Washington, our first president, freed his slaves by his will, at the same time forbidding their being sent out of Virginia; and Jefferson, our second slaveholding president, openly avowed the most decided sentiments against slavery, and in favor of its abolition. Thousands of southern men now probably think as he did on the same subject.

The Vesta.—The ship which came in collision with the Arctic, with such fatal consequences, was, as we have said, the French propeller Vesta, built in 1853, at Nantes, about 240 tons, and furnished with an engine of sixty horse power. The Vesta belongs to one of the wealthiest houses of Granville, which equips vessels for the fisheries of Newfoundland. She went to St. Pierre with a load of salt, and was returning to France with one hundred and forty-seven passengers, (fishermen and salters,) and twenty of the crew.

At the time of the accident, the Vesta was going at the rate of ten knots. Exteriorly she has even been worse handled than the Arctic, for her bows were literally carried away; but the division of her hold into compartments saved her. The water which was precipitated by the large opening into the forward part of the ship, was arrested by a compartment of plated iron.

By relieving the centre and stern of all that could be thrown overboard, Captain Duchesne at first lightened the ship, and afterwards caused a sheet to be passed over the bows. Thus guarded against the most imminent danger, he made for St. Johns, travelling with great precaution, and increasing or diminishing his speed according to the pressure of the water on the sheet. He thus reached St. Johns on the 26th of September, at the very moment when a tempest sprung up, which would have caused the inevitable loss of the Vesta, if it had overtaken her at sea.—N. Y. Herald.

This statement clears the Captain of the Vesta of all blame after the accident.

☞ Capt. Luce, of the Arctic, arrived home, at Yonkers, N. Y., on Monday night with three others who were rescued with him. He thinks more persons will yet come to light, saved on pieces of wreck, and picked up by outward-bound vessels.

The New Albany (Ind.) Daily Tribune of Monday, says:—Twenty five negro slaves passed through our city on Saturday last, in charge of a slave holder from the South, en route for the territory of Kansas.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

The undersigned, for themselves and in behalf of the friends of Temperance in their respective towns, would respectfully invite the citizens of Rockingham County, who are in favor of sustaining the present laws of the State against the sale of intoxicating drinks, until other and better laws shall have been enacted by the proper State authorities, to meet in Convention, by their delegates, at Raymond, on Wednesday, October 25, 1854, at 10 o'clock, A. M., the delegates to be chosen to represent the city of Portsmouth by wards, and by towns in all other places, and to be in number four for each Representative said wards and towns are entitled to send to the Legislature. And when assembled and duly organized, the Convention is to consider such matters and transact such business as, in the opinion of the same, will have a tendency to promote the best interests of the Temperance cause in the State, and more especially in the County of Rockingham.

The friends of the cause in the wards of the city and in every town in the county, are earnestly requested to take early and energetic measures to secure a full attendance upon the Convention, from all parts of the county, as business and matters of importance will come before the Convention for its consideration.

September 20, 1854. (Signed:)

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

A PROCLAMATION

For a day of Thanksgiving and Praise.

BY THE GOVERNOR.

Another year has been crowned with the goodness of Almighty God, and it becomes us as the recipients of His manifold mercies, to render united and public thanks to his Holy Name.

We continue to enjoy our inestimable civil and religious liberties—our fields have yielded their increase, and our store-houses are filled with plenty—the enterprise and skill of our citizens in their various avocations have been crowned with abundant success—our educational institutions have been blessed to the furtherance of sound and useful knowledge—peace and tranquillity have prevailed on our borders—we have enjoyed in an eminent degree the blessings of health, while the ravages of disease have filled many sections of our country with grief and mourning.

For these great and undeserved mercies, and in accordance with a custom worthy of perpetuation, I do, with the advice and consent of the Council, appoint Thursday, the thirtieth day of November next, to be observed throughout this State as a day of public Thanksgiving and Praise to the beneficent Author of all our blessings.

And I earnestly request the people of this State to abstain from all employment inconsistent with the proper observance of the day, and to assemble in their respective places of public worship, and unite in offices of thanksgiving and praise. And while we return thanks for our abundant prosperity, let us be mindful of the declaration of our Divine Redeemer, that the poor are always with us, and so liberally dispense of the good things which have been committed to our stewardship, that every heart may abound with gratitude to the Author of all good.

Given at the Council Chamber at Concord, the 28th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the seventy-ninth.

NATHANIEL B. BAKER.

By His Excellency, with advice of Council:
JOHN L. HADLEY, Sec. State.

Drunkenness in Congress.—Hon. Gerrit Smith, in a letter to his constituents, says:

As the friend of temperance, both my lips and example shall ever testify against any night session of Congress, that is not called for by the clearest necessity. What if the majority had appointed the taking of the vote on the Nebraska question in a dram shop?—Would you have had me present? I trust not. But, are you yet to learn that the scenes of a night session of Congress do not always differ in all respects from the scenes of a dram shop? I was present a part of the night session in which the final vote on the Nebraska bill was taken; and I was well convinced that Congress should avoid all unnecessary night sessions, until Congress loves temperance more and rum less. Never did I witness more gross drunkenness than I witnessed on that occasion. I had to remain until 11 o'clock—for I had to remain until I could record my vote against the pro-slavery bill.—After that I hurried away, full of shame and sorrow.

Immense Emigration.—The Burlington Telegraph says—"The emigration into Iowa, at all the crossings, the present season, is unparalled in the history of the past. The steam ferry at that city, (one of the largest on the river,) is kept in constant motion from morning until night, and frequently until midnight. The consequence is, that every evening whole acres on the opposite side of the river may be seen covered with the wagons, tents and cattle of the emigrants. The merchants, grocers and manufacturers are reaping a fine harvest in the way of furnishing supplies to the traveling millions. At present rates, at least 100,000 souls will be added to the population of this State during the present season."

The Indiana Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, recently held at Washington, Daviess county, resolved that it is not expedient to discuss the question of American Slavery from the pulpit. The resolution was passed by a vote of 17 to 2.

The case State vs. Edwin Kimball was put on trial. At the late term of this Court the Respondent was indicted for an assault upon Joseph P. Morse, of Portsmouth, with intent to kill, and pleaded not guilty.

It appeared in evidence that on the afternoon of the 18th of September last the respondent came into the periodical depot of Morse, and there, among other things said that he would give Morse "twenty-four hours in which to leave the city." Mr. M. replying that he had "no occasion to leave so soon," the respondent took up a pound weight and hurled it at the head of Morse. A dangerous wound—two inches long and penetrating to the skull—was inflicted near the left temple, and in consequence Mr Morse was at times delirious, and for ten days confined to his room.

The defence set up was that the respondent had been provoked, (for certain reasons which did not appear in testimony) and that the respondent premeditated "no intention to kill." It was admitted, however, that there had been an assault and battery committed. Such an admission, viz, that an assault had been made upon Morse by the hurling of a pound weight at his head, it would seem is quite sufficient evidence to show the real intention of the respondent.

Hatch, Solicitor, for State. Wells & Towle for Respondent.

The case was submitted to the Jury on Tuesday evening.

Paul Julien's Troupe gave a most excellent Concert, at the Temple, on Monday evening. The company consisted of four performers,—Paul, on the violin; Mdlle. Durand, vocalist; Mr. Charles Weise, who accompanied on the piano; and Mr. August Goekel, pianist. The performances throughout were of the highest character. Paul has much improved since his visit here with Madam Sontag, and he is now, at the early age of fourteen years, a complete master of the violin. The lady vocalist is blest with uncommon personal charms, as well as a fine voice—and she sings well, with just enough of graceful, appropriate action, to give good effect. Mr. Weise accompanied finely; and Mr. Goekel proved himself a finished performer on the piano—one who, while he executes enough of difficulties to show his masterly skill, does not weary by a monotonous solo, of no interest to the common apprehension. This was the case with all the performers, throughout. By some mistake, the piano and music therefor were misannounced;—the instrument used was the Grand Piano, of Hallett, Davis & Co.'s manufacture, and the music chiefly of Mr. Goekel's composition.

We understand this troupe will probably give another entertainment in this city soon; and we doubt not they will be received with high favor, as they richly merit.

Dr. Parson's Lecture at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening last, upon the effects of the southern institution of slavery, was eloquently delivered; and the fixed attention of the audience for about an hour, was evidence that the facts he stated made a deep impression. Dr. P., a citizen of Maine, where he has been lecturing the past year, resided many months in Georgia, and during his southern tour made it his business to get evidence of the true state of southern society. The picture he presents goes far beyond Uncle Tom's Cabin in depicting the general state of immorality in the slave states. If his statements be true, most of us have but a feeble conception of the dangerous tendencies of the slave system upon the industry, the morality, the religion, and the liberties of our common country. Mr. Webster, an overseer on Col. Southron's plantation, in Charles county, was shot dead to-day, by one of the negroes under his charge.

Joseph F. Haley, a printer, formerly of Portland, Me., has been sentenced in Callao, Peru, to five years' labor in a chain gang, for counterfeiting government notes to the amount of $600,000.

An eminent painter was once asked what he mixed his colors with, in order to produce so extraordinary an effect. "I mix them with brains, sir," was his answer.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE BALTIC.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The steamship Baltic, Capt. Comstock, from Liverpool 4th inst., arrived at this port about 6 o'clock P. M.—Her news is very important.

A great battle had taken place in the Crimea, in which the Russians were almost entirely annihilated. Ten ships of war sunk.—Sebastopol has fallen, and the city was in flames. Ten thousand French and English soldiers had been killed, and twenty thousand Russians had been taken prisoners. One thousand guns have been captured; but Menschikoff with the shattered remains of his army, still refused to surrender.

THE WAR.—Eight hours after the Europa sailed from Liverpool on the 30th ult., official news was received of a great battle at the river Alma in the Crimea. On the 21st, the Allies stormed the Russian entrenchments, and after four hours hard fighting, carried them. The English and French lost 2800 killed and wounded, while the Russians lost 6000. Private despatches supply the further particulars; namely, that the Russians, under Menschikoff in person, rallied on the river Katscha on the 23d, and again gave battle to the Allies. He was again defeated and driven into his entrenchments behind Sebastopol, where he again rallied and fought a third battle on the 24th, and was a third time utterly defeated. He then fled with the remnant of his troops into Sebastopol, which was beleagured by sea and stormed by land. The Russian fleet in the harbor of Sebastopol was then burned. Ten ships had sunk. The Russians lost 18,000 men, killed and wounded, when the garrison of 22,000 men capitulated, and were made prisoners. Menschikoff, with the shattered remains of his army, fell back and barricaded the inner harbor, refusing to surrender. Six hours were allowed him to consider the matter, and it is reported, though not officially, that he surrendered at the expiration of that time.

Great rejoicings had taken place in Great Britain and France on account of these glorious victories. An attack on Cronstadt is seriously menaced.

RUSSIAN ACCOUNT.—A telegraphic despatch, direct from St. Petersburg, says that Menschikoff had telegraphed, under date of 25th, that he had withdrawn his troops, unmolested, from before Sebastopol towards Baktschi, on the river Serei, where he will await reinforcements. He adds that Sebastopol had not been attacked up to the 24th.

The U. S. steam frigate San Jacinto had put back to Southampton, with her machinery damaged, having, when off the Texel, broken one of the fans of her screw. She would be detained five or six weeks for repairs.

The U. S. sloop-of-war Plymouth left Hong Kong July 29 for home. U. S. steamer Saranac was at Messina Sept. 19.

A private letter from Liverpool announces the failure, for a very heavy amount, of Edw. Oliver, ship owner.

Liverpool market, quiet for Provisions, Cotton firm.

Breadstuffs—Brown, Shipley & Co. and others report breadstuffs generally quiet, with a limited business at previous rates. We quote Western Canal Flour 31, Ohio 34s.—Good Indian Corn scarce and firm, with a moderate business. Yellow and white quoted 37s.

ELECTIONS.—Ohio.—The Cleveland Herald of Friday has returns which elect the whole whig and anti-Nebraska candidates for Congress. The editor adds that he assisted a Nebraska friend to look over the returns for the purpose of discovering what counties had kept the Democratic faith, but was unable to find one, and after running over the usual strong holds of the party, the Democrat wished him to stop, "to spare his feelings, for the iron had entered his pocket."

INDIANA. — Chapman's Chanticleer has come to hand with as saucy a looking rooster at the head of its columns as usually adorns the New Hampshire Patriot at the close of an election. The Chanticleer boasts that Indianapolis has given an opposition majority of from 150 to 200, and that the majority in the county will be about 100, being a change of 1100 since the Presidential election of 1852, and asks if that vote "does not speak well for the popularity of the present administration?"

Smith Miller and William H. English, Democrat and Nebraska members of the present Congress, have been elected.

MICHIGAN.—It is now pretty correctly ascertained that Upton, anti-Nebraska, is elected over Graveraatt, Democrat, in the Lake Superior Senatorial district, by a small majority. It is the first time that country ever returned a Whig.

The election for members of the Legislature for the districts in the Upper Peninsula take place in September, on account of the difficulties encountering in travelling from that part of Michigan to the capital.

In Baltimore, the Know Nothing candidate has been chosen Mayor by 2741 majority over Mr. Hollins. The latter had last year 3606 majority. The change was greatest in the Democratic wards; the sixth, which last year gave over 600 Democratic majority, now gives more than 1000 the other way.

SINGULAR CASE.—The last number of the Hallowell Gazette tells the following story:

"A yearling steer belonging to Mr. Asa Morrill, of Manchester, Me., was found in the pasture of Ephraim Wadsworth, of Litchfield, on Wednesday, 27th ult., nearly imbedded in a quagmire. He had been missing six-teen days, and it is supposed that he was in the mud all the time. His head resting on the dry ground he was enabled to reach a few bushes, and thus preserved his life. He is doing well."

Lilly Dale.

POTATOES.—The New London Chronicle says:—We are informed by an intelligent and reliable man, who has just returned from an extensive tour through Northern and Western Massachusetts, that potatoes in that region are not only plentiful and of excellent quality, but cheap; that he has not heard a word said of rot nor any other disease since he has been gone, and that they can be purchased at fifty cents a bushel; and he is of opinion that good potatoes can be delivered here at the latter price. Apples of the first quality are sold at Barre, and the adjoining towns, at one dollar a barrel, barrel and all.—New Haven Cour.

A large number of foreigners, it is said, are returning to Europe. Since the first of last August, the whole number of emigrants who have left New York is estimated at 6000, or between 10 and 15 per cent. on the total amount of emigration into this country during the same time. Emigration, particularly from Ireland, is rapidly decreasing.

10 TONS of Unfinished Grind Stone, Also, Finished Grind Stone, For sale by LEONARD COTTON, mch15 17 Pleasant Street.

10,000 Bottles Sold since the First of January.
DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA.:"

and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax; and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the proprietor at one cost, by Messrs. Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; as many may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Chilblains, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting its sufficiency, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

DR. ORDWAY'S
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.
If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone designs of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,
Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.
No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.
PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.
PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, "THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.
Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.
R. R. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. R. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

CULTURE AND FISHING.

The Universalist Quarterly for October, contains eight well written articles, one of which is on Ministerial Culture and Theological Schools, by Rev. Henry Bacon. The following is an extract.

Only culture in minister and people, can furnish the antidote to many of the evils which oppress the ministry. Only this can promote that "plain living and high thinking" which the church demands. Too much of our church doings is on a low scale; and the effort, in too many cases, is to see, on the part of the minister, how little mental effort can be made to suffice for the pulpit; and on the part of the people, how little of directly putting the hand into the pocket for money, will "keep things along."

On the shores of a beautiful river, I have seen two parties twisted up in each other's nets, so that neither could prosecute the labor they were united to perform. Just so it is with narrowness in the ministry, and narrowness in the laity, wherever it exists; a net is thrown into the pulpit, another is thrown into the pews, and the "fishers of men" are only in the nets themselves. The river of progress flows on; it is alive with food; God's heavens bend above it, and his winds fan it, but there those fishers remain, needing a miracle to help them catch anything.

The work is published by A. Tompkins, 38 Cornhill, Boston.

THE WORLD'S CRISIS.

This paper, as we have before named, is the organ of those Adventists who believe in a general burning and destruction, to take place about the 1st of November, 1854. To show, in brief, what their views and movements are, we copy the following business notice from the Crisis of October 18.

OUR LAST PAPER.—Believing that the coming of the Lord will take place on the tenth day of the seventh month, (Jewish time) the publishing Committee have given me instruction agreeably to my own conviction of duty, to give notice that we expect to publish but one more paper, in which we shall give the argument on the chronological periods in connection with the types. We shall publish all that we have means to supply for gratuitous circulation; and Brethren may send in for as many copies of the same as they wish, and if they feel it to be their duty to add more to our means in order to increase the circulation, they can do it in the fear of the Lord.

PASSENGERS OF THE ARCTIC.—The following statement appeared originally in the New York papers:

"Mr. R. S. Williams, of Natchez, one of the passengers lost, was a son of the late Rev. S. P. Williams of Newburyport, Mass., and brother of Mr. S. P. Williams of New York. His wife was a Southern lady, and they had been residents of Natchez for 27 years. They left in the steamor Pacific on the 24th of June last, on a tour of pleasure in part—but Mr. W.'s chief object, as we understand, was to gather information on agricultural interests, with a view to promote those of such a nature in his adopted State (Mississippi.) He had by his own talents, which were of a high order, and his untiring industry, accumulated a large fortune. He was greatly respected and esteemed throughout the State, leaving ten children—whose circle until now has been an unbroken one.

Mrs. Geo. S. Howland, who was lost with her son, was a sister of Mr. Williams, and a resident of Brooklyn."

On this statement the Salem Gazette says:

Mr. Williams was a cousin of Dr. Wm. Williams, of this city, who informs us, that Mr. W., instead of being the father of "ten children," had no children of his own, and his wife, who was a widow when he married her, brought into the family but one child, a son. Mr. Williams's voyage was not a deliberately planned tour. He had gone to New York, for the purpose of making investments, and had done so to a large amount.

While in the city, the plan was formed for a trip to Europe, and as Mrs. Howland, his sister, was not very well, it was concluded that she should join the party, in the hope of improving her health, leaving her husband and two children at home. After they were all on board the steamer which was to convey them to Europe, the son of Mrs. Howland, ten years of age, petitioned his father to be allowed to accompany his mother. Mr. Howland objected, both that he could not spare him, and that there was no time for preparation, but was overcome by entreaties, and parted thus, from his wife and child, never to see them again on earth.

The Portland Argus says that Captain Pratt of North Yarmouth, with his wife and son, were on board the Arctic. He was master of the ship Pamgustak, which was abandoned at sea, not long since, and whose captain and crew were taken off by another vessel, and carried to Liverpool.

The Bangor Mercury says that Mrs. E. K. Collins, who was lost in the Arctic, was a Hallowell lady—her maiden name having been Wingate.

The Philadelphia papers pay high compliments to the virtues and the accomplishments of one of the passengers lost in the Arctic—Prof. Reed of the University of Pennsylvania.

THE GLOBE A NEUTRAL PAPER.—It is quite evident that the Washington Globe has received returns from the recent elections, in Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. The political editor says, "We are truly glad that, though still a democrat, we are now publishing a neutral paper, and are not bound to account for large majorities against our party."

The law makers of the Brazilian Senate Chamber were at last accounts, (Sept. 8) busily engaged in framing a law for the encouragement of fishing companies and the regulation of the fisheries, in order to develope the great riches of the Brazilian coast rivers in this line.

TEMPERANCE.

Messrs. Editors:—It seems to be settled in the minds of most reflecting men, that the unlawful sale of intoxicating drinks must cease, speedily, in all parts of New England, if not in all the Free States of this Union, and, before many years, in all parts of the New World. Happy for suffering millions will it be when the day shall arrive that shall witness the complete triumph of the man-saving principles of Temperance. Thirty years ago it was common to meet intoxicating drinks every where, from the cradle to the grave. They were at all social gatherings,—at family meetings,—in the broad fields among the farmers,—in the work shops of industry,—by the way side,—around the family hearth,—every where; but thanks to the labors and sacrifices of the devoted friends of temperance, it is now but seldom the vile liquors of the day are seen in the rural districts of the country, and in the villages of the interior they can be found only in dark and secret places, where they are kept by men lost to all the better feelings of our nature, and sold to low, degraded men whose days are days of sorrow, and whose nights are sad and gloomy. A little while longer tears will flow from the eyes of the wives, mothers, sisters and friends of the victims of appetite; and sobs and sighs will escape yet a little while longer from aching hearts, whose severest pangs owe their existence entirely to the rumseller's doings; but, I trust, the day is near at hand when no man will be found in New England, so far lost to all good principles, as to be willing to trade in the vile, adulterated liquors of the day, and take poor men's money for what they know carries ruin and death to those by whose hard earned money they live. We will still labor and hope.

The Convention to be held at Raymond, on Wednesday of next week, is intended to aid in the good work of temperance, and I hope every town in the county will be fully represented therein; and what would please many in the interior of the county, would be the presence of woman at the Convention.—Woman has suffered immensely from the intemperance of those with whom she has been connected, and as she has done much for the cause of temperance, I trust she will ever be found in Conventions called to promote the interests of that holy cause. As the delegates are to be four for each Representative any town is entitled to send to the Legislature, why not choose an equal number of ladies with the gentlemen for delegates to the Raymond Convention? At any rate, let the Convention be a splendid one. A. B. C.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—The Catalogue for the academical year 1854–5, shows a flourishing condition of this institution. There are enrolled 353 students: Medical 63; undergraduates—seniors 51, juniors 63, sophomores 72, freshmen 66; scientific school 38—seniors 12, middle class 13, juniors 13. We notice one from Portsmouth, John Burgin Hazelton, among the Sophomore undergraduates. Through the bequest of the late George C. Shattuck, LL. D., an elegant building has been erected for an Astronomical Observatory, and furnished with the requisite instruments and books.

A despatch from Washington to the Tribune says:—

Old Bullion is in ecstacies at the result of the recent elections, especially over the re-election of Mace, and the defeat of Olds. He thinks the Nebraska iniquity is not popular either in the great valley or in the country.—His language is, "it is n't popular, Sir; I thought so in the beginning; Sir, my opinion is confirmed, Sir. It is n't popular. The voice of the people must be obeyed. It must be bowed to, Sir."

SNOW IN THE COUNTRY.—We learn by Fiske & Rice's Express, that it was snowing in Rutland, Vt., Monday morning, and that there was snow on Mt. Holly to the depth of three inches.

The Manchester (N. H.) Mirror of Monday evening says:—

Snow fell in New Boston, Hooksett, and several other towns adjoining us, yesterday, 15th inst. We observed that the Uncanoonuc hills this morning were whitened with the same element.

The Worcester Spy says that in several towns in the north part of the county, there was quite a covering of snow upon the ground Monday morning. There was two or three inches in the town of Princeton.

The Lowell News says that during Sunday there were several snow squalls in New Hampshire and some parts of Massachusetts. Early Monday morning, it snowed profusely in Mason and New Ipswich, N. H., and in Ashby, Fitchburg and Princeton, Massachusetts.—Wachusett, Watatic, Monadnock, the Temple, and other mountains, were clothed in snow white robes.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.—From Indiana, we learn that the election of all the anti-Nebraska Congressmen is certain; that there is an anti-Nebraska majority in the Legislature, and that the anti-Nebraska State ticket is elected by from seven to ten thousand majority. It is supposed that there is a majority in the Legislature in favor of a prohibitory liquor law.

In Ohio, nearly all the counties have been heard from, and the anti-Nebraska majority is over 70,000. The entire Congress delegation is anti-Nebraska.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 19.

In the case, State vs. Edwin Kimball, for assault on J. P. Morse, with intent to murder, the jury did not agree;—but were divided, it is said, 9 for conviction and 3 for acquittal.—This gives cause for a new trial, which will probably take place at the next term of the Court, to be holden at Exeter.

The following named persons were empanneled for the

No. 78, John A. Messer v Moores Bailey, was commenced this forenoon. This is an action of replevin for certain cattle, wagon, &c., attached by deft. who is a deputy sheriff in Salem. Marston for plff.; Bartlett and French for deft.

This case was transferred to the Superior Court.

THE INSANE.

Several years ago, some philanthropic and public spirited citizens of Portsmouth and other towns in New Hampshire, brought before the people of the State, the case of the Insane within its borders. The people were startled, and did not believe there were so many insane, nor that their case was so bad, as had been represented. Investigation showed that the whole story had not been told; the case was worse than the representation.

The State appropriated something for the establishment of an Asylum, in addition to the liberal subscriptions of many individuals. It was to have been located, according to law, in the place where certain conditions should be fulfilled. These conditions were fulfilled in Portsmouth, but by a shameful juggle and fraud, the institution went to Concord.

Of the usefulness of the Insane Asylum at Concord, there is, we presume, but one opinion. And then, as to the present and pressing need of more accommodations there, for increased numbers, there can be no discordant views. It is well known that if the house were twice as large as it is now, it would be filled at once.

The erection of the proposed wing, if executed, would only make the building large enough for a few years: yet let the addition be made, say we. But something more is wanted. There is no good reason why all the insane of the State should be gathered under one roof: but there is, we think, a call for a second State Asylum; to be located in this city.

As a neucleus for this, it has been suggested that an Asylum for the Insane be established in this city by private subscription, and on a limited scale,—with the design of a future enlargement, and of an ultimate transfer to the State, on proper conditions.

The subject is worthy of consideration, and as we think, of action.

NEW CHURCH ORGAN AT NEW MARKET. Messrs. Barton & Cobb, of this city, have just built and put up in the Methodist Church at New Market, an Organ costing acout $700. It has eight stops: open diapson; principal; stopped diapson; bass and treble; twelfth; fifteenth; dulciana; clarabella; and trumpet;—showing twelve registers. The compass is five octaves, from G to G, with subbass connecting, and swell over the whole organ. The case is stained black walnut, with gilt pipes—presenting a very handsome appearance.

The Congregational Society at New Market have put a good new Organ in their church within a few years; the Baptist and Universalist Societies also have for some years had organs, though smaller and of less value than the others.

NAVAL.—Purser Joseph Wilson has reported at this Navy Yard for duty, in place of Purser H. M. Hieskell detached.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.—Washburn is a great name in whig politics. There are two brothers Washburn in Congress, and a third brother has been nominated for Congress in Wisconsin. The present Governor of Massachusetts is named Washburn, and the whigs of the Worcester district have nominated Henry S. Washburn for Congress.—Boston Post.

Mr. Wm. W. Story, son of the late Justice Story, now in Italy, has finished a statue of his father, on which he has been for some time engaged. The statue has been shipped from Italy for America. It has been pronounced by judges who have seen it, to be a perfect work of art.

SENTENCE FOR ABDUCTING AN INFANT.—Mary G. Haley, the female who unlawfully imprisoned and carried away from his mother, Charles L. Bemis, an infant less than four months old, was convicted by the jury in the Municipal Court, and sentenced by the Court to two years hard labor in the House of Correction.—Boston Transcript.

A Scotch paper says:—"It has been remarked that the Highland regiments now in Turkey have suffered less from cholera than the other French and British regiments in the East, and their comparative exemption has been attributed to their wearing kilts made of wool, and that the cases of cholera have been most numerous and fatal in the regiments wearing white trousers."

MORE PARTICULARS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Capt. Luce, of the steamship Arctic, arrived at his home in Yonkers, from Quebec, last night. His reception along the route was quite enthusiastic. He was accompanied by Mr. George F. Allen, of this city; Mr. Jas. Smith, of Natchez, Miss., and Ferdinand Keyn, a young German, all of whom were rescued with him. The latter suffered so intensely while on the piece of wreck from which he was rescued, that he attempted self-destruction twice, but was prevented by his companions, Capt. Luce and Mr. Allen. Capt. L. furnished many additional details as to the probable fate of the unfortunate persons who are missing, &c., and on this subject he says:

"I think it is quite probable and not at all improbable, that we will ultimately hear of the safety of many others. At this season of the year, most of the vessels that pass the spot on which the disaster occurred are outward bound, and I can see no reason why others may not have been picked up in the same manner that I and my companions were. After the gale of the following Saturday, however, I think there was no possible chance for the safety of any who may have been so unfortunate as still to be adrift on pieces of the wreck. They must inevitably have perished. Those who were in the boats, however, could ride out a gale in safety, and might have been picked up days afterwards. Provided the boats were well managed, and their heads kept well to the sea, I do not see that those on board would suffer materially in any ordinary gale. Their want of provisions and water would be the most keenly felt."

Capt. Luce further says "About a minute before the ship went down, I saw Mrs. Collins, with her daughter and son, standing on the deck. The two former, I think, had on life preservers. Master Collins had taken off his coat and boots. Mrs. Child and daughter, of Springfield, Mass., came to him and bade him an affectionate farewell, just as the ship was going down."

In regard to the conduct of young Holland, who fired the signal guns until the vessel sunk, Capt Luce remarked "A more brave, courageous and self-sacrificing being I never knew."

After the vessel went down, a great majority of those on board, as they rose again to the surface, got on the raft which I had caused to be built. A large number got upon pieces of the wreck, doors and other fragments floating near. These gradually separated, and soon were out of sight of each other in the dense fog.

When the last boat was upon the deck, Capt. Luce succeeded in getting Mrs. Collins and a number of other ladies into it, but they were obliged to get out of her again, as the boat was required in constructing the raft.—They did so without any apparent reluctance. Capt. Luce says, in this connection, that the ladies, after the first fright was over, were as calm as can well be imagined under such circumstances, and seemed perfectly resigned to whatever might be their fate.

Mr. Allen thinks he saw Mr. Edward Sanford on a piece of the wreck soon after the ship had sunk.

Capt. Luce highly praises the conduct of Mr. Dorian, the third officer of the Arctic, saying "He behaved most manfully throughout. After I had got on the paddle-box I hailed Mr. Dorian, who was in the boat, and was then in sight, to come to us, although I do not know whether he heard me or not.—Had all in the boat, supposing they had heard me hail, felt so disposed, they could by paddling with their hands, have reached us; but without the aid of all who were with him, Mr. Dorian could have effected nothing."

In regard to the 2d officer, Mr. Baahlan, he says "I instructed him to get a boat down, put a compass in her, and have her in readiness to receive the passengers. He did so, when again the firemen sprang over the bulwarks, falling on top of one another into the boat, and seeing that this was likely to continue, I ordered him to drop out of the way and follow us under the stern of the ship. To my surprise, however, it was not five minutes before he was out of sight, and with no more than half the number in his boat than she was capable of carrying."

As regards Mr. Gourlay, 1st officer, Capt. Luce thinks that by the time the engines had stopped working, the Arctic must have gone fifteen miles from the point where he last saw him. They could not wait for him.

Capt. Luce states that the smallest boat, which left the ship with the engineers, was capable of carrying more persons than the largest boat took away; and that the boats on board were large enough to have carried three hundred safely. While Capt. Luce was preparing one of the boats for the reception of the company with Mr. Gilbert, he found two firemen seated in it. He ordered them out, when one of them replied that his life was as good as that of any person on board. Capt. L. raised a carpenter's mallet and threatened him with death if he did not instantly obey, whereupon he drew a knife.—He did not use it however, but sullenly left the boat.

About half an hour before the vessel sunk, said Capt. Luce, I went below. Upon looking around, I discovered the stewardess of the vessel, Anna Donner, who was the only person below, working at the pumps with all the power she could command. I told her to come up; that she was only exhausting herself, and that it was useless for her to attempt to pump out the ship as it would be to pump out the ocean. "Captain," said she, "I am willing to pump as long as I can work my arms."

APPOINTMENT.—We learn from the Boston Times that Gen. Jas. S. Whitney, of Conway, has received the appointment of superintendent of the national armory at Springfield, vice Col. Jas. W. Ripley, the late military superintendent. Mr. Whitney has for several years been a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and is a politician of the coalition school.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 16.—Col. John Allen publishes a card stating that the fillibustering expedition which has been organized here for some time past, has been disbanded for want of means. It numbered 1500.

Eight persons have died in New Orleans from injuries which they received during the late riots.

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S

GERMAN

HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, for drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and nailed to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.

The medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

Piles, Costiveness, and

WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,

such as

Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutic Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,

Paralytic and Nervous Affections,

CANKER,

AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,

PILES,

PIMPLES ON THE FACE,

Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,

AND ALL

RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS,

COUGHS,

SORE THROAT,

AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE

THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions, or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating, or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE

SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metallic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new; combining all the advantages of the elasticity and cleanness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY, AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the Chillfornia Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him. and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was terribly afflicted of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Pains in the system, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throunh him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1854.

HOW IT STRIKES US.

Speaking of the late sweeping elections, and alluding specially to Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, the New Hampshire Patriot says:

The elections in the first three States above named have resulted much more disastrously to the democracy, than either friend or foe expected. The result in all of them is due to a combination of causes—not to any one alone. Nebraska has not been so potent as other causes, among the most influential of which has been Know Nothingism. But these results will discourage no true democrat. The "sober second thought of the people" will soon do its proper work, and then the banner of democracy will proudly wave aloft again in victory, not only in the States above named, but throughout the Union. "There's a good time coming, boys."

We don't doubt it:—but (as the Scotchman said to the Hutchinsons,) "Won't you be so good as to name the time, sir?"

SUBLIME? OR RIDICULOUS? WHICH?—Mr. Burke and the other hards who nominated Gen. Houston the other day, at Concord, doubtless supposed their acts of salvation to the democratic party and to the country, were most sublime. On the contrary, the Patriot says they are ridiculous, and adds: "But ridiculous as it is, we cannot forbear to caution our Democratic friends not to allow these proceedings to prejudice them in the least against Messrs. Houston, Kittredge and Morrison. They are not responsible for this use of their names. It is the misfortune of public men that their names are considered public property and liable to be used to promote the private schemes of factionists of all stripes. It is not the fault of these gentlemen that their names have been thus used now, and we hope no Democrat will allow these ridiculous proceedings to impair his confidence in either of them."

HEAVY LIBEL DAMAGES.—In the case of Amos Keeler vs. Sheldon P. Church, decided in the New York Court of Common Pleas, the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff to the amount of $5000. The suit was brought to recover damages for the following libel, which appeared in "Church's Report:"

O. T. Keeler. This youth has got married, and has bought a good brick store here at about five thousand dollars, on which he has made the first payment, and has bought out the entire stock of goods of his father (Amos Keeler), who is now evidently endeavoring to swindle his creditors, as he neither pays his debts in money nor turns over his son's notes. They (father and son) are now receiving the attentions of John S. Tropp, who will, perhaps, break up the sale and subject the goods for the old man's debts.

The argument for the defence was that the statement was made in good faith, without malice, that it was circulated among but few persons, and that furthermore it was all true.

MAKING RAFTS AT SEA.—A correspondent of the Boston Courier suggests the following simple and expeditious method of making a raft at sea, in case of shipwreck, when the boats are not able to contain the crew and passengers:

Fasten four spars by their corners, then pass ropes across like a common corded bedstead; cover this frame with one or more strong sails, well secured to the spars; to make the raft more buoyant, lash outside other spars after the raft is launched; or empty casks, if there be time. Such a raft would afford a more comfortable bed than a succession of spars through which there is constant danger of broken limbs from the motion occasioned by waves. I am of the opinion that a raft so constructed would yield more readily to the waves and be less likely to be broken.

In the construction of such a raft as the above, two ropes should be stretched across the fabric diagonally from corner to corner, in order to prevent any collapse, caused by two opposite angles spreading apart from each other.

STERN FOREMOST.—A writer in the New York Herald says,—

The Arctic might have been saved by simply running her stern foremost. Here are the facts:—Water four feet below its surface, rushes through an adjutage with a velocity of 16 feet per second; at five feet, 18 feet; at six feet, 20 feet per second, &c.; consequently, the Arctic, when running with her open bow first, at the rate of ten knots an hour—equal to 16 feet per second—would double the velocity of a leak, at the depth of 4 feet; at eleven knots, a depth of 5 feet; and at twelve knots, a depth of 6 feet, &c. On the contrary, had she been put under "stern way" as a rate of ten knots an hour, her velocity would have been equal to the velocity of the leak at the depth of 4 feet; at eleven knots, 5 feet; and at twelve, a depth of 6 feet, &c. It is clear, therefore, had she been put under "stern way," it would have brought the leak under the contol of her pumps.

A MURDERER IN CONGRESS.—J. W. Denver, who has just been elected to Congress from California, is the man who killed Hon. Edward Gilbert, in a most outrageous duel. His colleague has also murdered a man in the same way.

So says the Lowell Courier.

ATTEMPTED EXTORTION.

On Tuesday night, in Boston, the Chief of Police and his Deputy, Mr. Ham, arrested two men named Andrew J. Locke and Wm. W. Black, for endeavoring to extort money from Peter Hubbell, Esq., a worthy citizen of Charlestown, by threatening to accuse him of the crime of adultery. Some days since Mr. Hubbell was requested by the owner of a building now being finished to inspect it and give an opinion as to its worth. Whilst in the neighborhood of the building he proposed to a lady, whose character is above reproach or suspicion, to accompany him, and she consented and did so. After they had left the building one of the accused notified Mr. Hubbell that he should publicly charge him with the crime of adultery unless he was paid the sum of $1200. The other party averred that he had witnessed the crime, and the money was to be shared between them. Mr. Hubbell was struck aghast with even the threat of suspicion against his character, and without considering the matter offered Black and Locke $500 if they would not carry their threat into execution. But they wanted a heavier stake, and demanded the sum of $1200. A day was allowed Mr. Hubbell to consider the matter, during which time information wns given Mr. Taylor, Chief of Police, and on Tuesday evening the parties had a meeting in a house on Brighton street, the proceedings of which were carefully noted by the Chief and his Deputy. The sum of $500 dollars was again offered Black and Locke, but they indignantly refused to accept one cent less than $1200. This Mr. Hubbell was not disposed to offer, and the extortionists were about leaving the room in high dudgeon, when the officers introduced themselves and took them in custody. In the Police Court, Black and Locke waived the reading of the complaint, and in default of bail in the sum of $1200 each, they were committed for trial in the Municipal Court.—Boston Mail.

It always struck us as the height of folly for any man (but a guilty one) to offer smart money in such a case. In the present instance, however, it led the rogues into a snare.

JOHN MARSHALL.

Some days ago, we published a statement, from the Meredith Bridge Democrat, against a colored man named John Marshall, who had been lecturing in Strafford County.

We supposed the statement against the man must be partly true, only because we found it in a respectable paper—though some parts of it then seemed incredible, as we said at the time.

It now appears that the most important parts of it cannot be true; because the man is at hand, and answers for himself in the Dover Enquirer. He says:

As to my "soliciting money to purchase the freedom of my relatives," it is a lie, and as to my "making a home at Eaton," it is also a lie. It is a lie that I ever offered to pay $100 for a farm for any man or woman—that I ever left any place abruptly—or that I ever attempted to seduce the wife or daughter of any man; and they cannot find the man or woman who will say such a thing, unless it is one like themselves. As to my never being a slave, it is a lie, and I am sorry that it is a lie—and to the charge that I have dealt in slaves, I can only say that the first was myself who is the writer of this piece, and the second was my wife who now sleeps in her grave, and no other family did I ever have.—As to my being the Marshall who stabbed Bachelder in the late riot in Boston, it is also a lie.

The Enquirer remarks:

We publish the above at the request of the writer, and would add that Marshall, as we are informed, while in this town, exhibited satisfactory documentary evidence of his being what he professes to be.

The editor of the Democrat must have been grossly imposed upon.

THE FOREIGN NEWS.—We have stirring news from Europe by the Baltic, at New York. It would seem that Sebastopol has fallen, though the victory of the allies was achieved only after a slaughter, the accounts of which makes one's blood curdle. Ten thousand of the allies are said to have fallen in the conflicts before Sebastopol, and as the reports come from friendly sources, they are perhaps not exaggerated. This loss is probably more than one fifth of the available force which the allies brought into the field, independent of the Turkish auxiliaries. Indeed making due allowance for an exaggeration of the forces of the allies, for those who were on the sick list, and for the detachments left to guard the stores, to cover the landing of supplies, and to keep up the communications, it is doubtful whether more than forty thousand English and French troops were brought into the field, and if so, one man in every four of this number now "sleeps his last sleep," and "has fought his last battle." And this is civilized warfare!—Boston Journal.

THE N. H. PATRIOT.

This paper is the able and unflinching advocate of the regular democratic party in New Hampshire, and the great supporter, in this State, of the present Administration of the Federal government.

In view of the present exigency, the editor is about to issue a daily paper, (or rather 5 per week,) besides the present weekly, which is to be "devoted mainly to politics." It is to begin about the first of November, and continue till the election, next March—price 50 cents for the campaign. He says:

As we cannot thus hope or expect to make a dollar by its publication, but issue the paper solely for the promotion of the democratic cause, we feel no delicacy in asking our political friends to lend their active efforts to procure for it as many subscribers as they may be able.

We say—"Please exchange"—a Daily Patriot from Concord will be quite convenient, not only for political purposes, but for general news.

Court of Common Pleas—Adj. Term.

THURSDAY, Oct. 19.

The case, Cook vs. Brown, commenced on Wednesday, was resumed this morning, and occupied the attention of the Court during the day.

A VIEW.—It is somewhat of a job for those who never rise above the earth except by stairs, to climb to the cap of the new North Church steeple. But when once there, all trouble is paid for by the varied beauty of the scene presented. The bird's-eye view of old Portsmouth, one hundred and seventy feet below; of the harbor, river and mill-ponds; the navy-yard, Kittery, New-Castle, Greenland, &c., very distinct; of Dover, Great Falls, York, &c., farther off; and the mountains in the distance—forms one of the most picturesque scenes. Hanson's Hotel on Dover Point shows very plainly; also a church we supposed to be in York village; Agamenticus seems a near neighbor; Cape Ann stretches out before the eye, and the new Boon Island light-house looms up distinctly. A gentleman up there, with a spy-glass, did us the favor to let us see the derrick being used in building this new tower; but we could not muster faith sufficient to discern it. The horizon was thickly studded with vessels, contrasting beautifully with the deep blue of the ocean.

We are repeatedly receiving practical lessons on the benefit of Temperance, but should hardly have expected to find an illustration so near the clouds. As we were descending in company with a friend, a man had just reached the top of the last ladder inside—say half way up. When he let go his hold upon the ladder, he pitched headlong, and but for a friendly grasp on his collar by our sober friend, would have landed somewhere among the cross-timbers below in double quick time. His preserver remarking that if he was dizzy (and we guess he was, all of that) so soon, inside, he would advise his immediate descent. He clutched the ladder rounds again, and sought safety where less brain is needed.

THANKSGIVING BALL.—We are informed that a grand Ball will come off in this city, at Congress Hall, on Thanksgiving Evening, Nov. 30th.

THE PICKPOCKETS HEARD FROM.—A gentleman of this city informs us that four pickpockets, whose description corresponds precisely to those recently discharged here by our Police Court, were pursuing their light-fingered operations at Hartford, Conn., when the boy and one other of them were caught in the very act. The other two escaped.

PROMPT JUSTICE.—The three pick-pockets and robbers who were arrested at Kennebunk, Me., but a short time since for picking certain pockets, and for robbing a depot, were bound over by the Justice before whom they were brought, to the Supreme Judicial Court, and there indicted, tried, convicted, sentenced & Wednesday evening were ironed & carried to the State Prison at Thomastown. The grand jury of York Co. were reassembled, for the purpose of other indictments, and thus these men had a speedier trial than they would otherwise.

TESTIMONIAL TO CAPT. LUCE.—In the Board of Councilmen, in New York on Wednesday evening, resolutions eulogistic of Capt Luce, and in favor of providing an appropriate testimonial of his conduct on board the ill-fated Arctic, also tendering to him the use of the Governor's room, wherein to receive the congratulations of his friends and admirers, were unanimously adopted. An appropriation of five hundred dollars was made for the purpose.

The citizens of Yonkers, at a public meeting, adopted resolutions calling on Capt. Luce to name a time for receiving the congratulations of his fellow citizens of the town of Yonkers.

THE DIFFERENCE.—The Springfield Republican, in commenting upon the two great events which now occupy the attention of the people and the press, well observes:—"The whole civilized world is thrown into anguish by the loss of two hundred and fifty lives by an accident at sea. Yet it receives, with more of rejoicing than of sadness, the intelligence that thirty thousand men have perished in fighting on the shores of the Black Sea. Such are the incongruities of civilization, and of enlightened education, in this age."

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE, for November, 1854, is just received from Federhen & Co., Boston, via Morse of this city,—is embellished with engravings of Popping the Question, a beautiful fashion print, women and children,—and contains so many good pieces that we would like to see and read it regularly.

A CHILD LOST.—We learn from the Traveller that the quiet town of Rockport was thrown into an excitement on Friday afternoon by the announcement that a little son of Mr. Peter Doyle, three years of age, had strayed from home. A general hunt commenced, and the search was kept up throughout the night by a few noble hearted individuals. At length at about six o'clock the next morning the child was discovered, wet and cold, but otherwise unharmed, in a swamp.

Being asked what he did, and what he heard and saw during his wanderings; he replied, that he picked some foxberries for mamma, but was hungry and ate them up; that he saw one jack-o'lantern, that spoke to him, but didn't come to get him. It said "Henry! Henry!" and he said "What, What." He was cold, but there were no good birds there, for he asked them to come and put some leaves on him; but they didn't. Then, he said, he thought a rat might come, and he kept still and went to sleep.

A FAMILY OF ROGUES AGAIN ON THEIR PINS.—It will be recollected that during the Tukey dynasty a whole family, named Dunnakin, consisting of a father, two sons and a daughter, were arrested and convicted—the sons and daughter of sundry robberies in houses in the suburbs in the daytime, and the father of receiving the plunder. The father and sons were sent to the State Prison, but the daughter, Mary, was let off with a light sentence of imprisonment in the county jail. It seems that the Dunnakins have worked out their sentence, and are again at their old tricks. Alvan, the father, was the other day held for trial on a charge of receiving goods stolen from a store in Lawrence, and his son John was yesterday charged with stealing a trunk and contents, the property of Levi A. Dowley, from a coach on its way from the Boston and Maine depot to the Tremont House, some days ago, and committed for trial in default of bail in $2,000.—Boston Courier.

FIRE IN CONCORD, N. H.—At about 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning the back part of the building on Main street occupied by Brown & Morgan, druggists, was discovered to be on fire; and although the fire companies were promptly on the spot, yet before the fire could be overcome the building was greatly damaged. The stock of Brown & Morgan was principally saved; and that of B. W. Hale, bookseller, was removed without great damage. The stock of W. P. Hardy, in the adjoining store, was removed also. The building is owned by Allison & Brown, and insured in Merchants' and Farmers' Co., Worcester, Mass., for $1,500, which is probably enough to cover their loss. Brown & Morgan were insured for $2,500, in Springfield, Mass; and Hardy was insured in the Howard Company, Lowell. We did not learn whether Mr. Hale was insured.—N. H. Patriot.

A JUST VERDICT.—The Poughkeepsie Herald says that in the September Circuit Court of that district, a teacher was arraigned on charge of cruelty to a pupil. It was shown that for some act of disobedience he had flogged a girl by the name of Frances Gershom, seventeen years of age, with a whip, so severely that black and blue marks were left upon her person for weeks afterwards. The Judge charged the jury that the teacher stood in the place of a parent, and had a right to correct a pupil, but in so doing must exhibit a parent's feelings; and if he exceeded what was necessary to preserve order, he was liable for assault and battery. He further charged that the means used to preserve order should be adapted to the sex, age and habits of the pupil, "and left it to the jury to say whether any possible circumstances would warrant a man, whether a teacher or not, in laying his hands in violence or anger on a grown-up girl."—The jury found a verdict against the teacher for the sum of $365.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18.—Mr. P. B. Manchester, a private banker of this city, stopped payment this morning. It is also reported that the Kentucky Trust Company Bank has suspended payment.

The Failures.—As previously reported, the Kentucky Trust Company Bank failed to-day. The Ohio Savings Bank has also failed.—There was much excitement in Third street this afternoon, and a run was commenced on one or two private banks, which will probably be renewed to-morrow.

QUEBEC, Oct. 18.—In the Assembly, last night, Attorney General McDonald introduced the bill for the secularization of the clergy reserves. It gives the entire fund desired from the reserves to the municipal councils; secures the life claims of the present incumbents, and provides that they may commute their claims on the principle of life assurance.

GOOD EFFECTS OF LATE COURTING.—The Maumee River Times tell a story of some horse thieves who were caught napping, and incontinently fell into the embrace of justice. Becoming cold in their flight, they overtook a country school-house, somewhere in Michigan, where having built a fire and warmed themselves, they fell asleep. A neighboring swain, returning from a sparking expedition about midnight, saw a light, reconnoitered the premises, rallied a posse, and made a grab at the delinquents. The editor of the Times classes the thief-catching as one of the good results of late courting.

An American recently returned from Europe, says the American flour is the best in the world, yet it is notorious Americans eat the worst bread. For the truth of this assertion I appeal to every person who has eaten bread in Paris, Berlin, Amsterdam or Vienna.

When the Baltic was boarded by the John Clemens, with the news of the loss of the Arctic, she was within five miles of the scene of the disaster. The Clemens had found no trace of boats or other material of either ship, excepting the flag staff of the Arctic.

CURIOUS 'WANT' IN A SLAVE STATE.—A Presbyterian clergyman in Louis county, Ky., states that there are now organized in that State twenty anti-slavery churches, and that there is an increasing demand in that region for anti-slavery preachers.

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S

GERMAN

HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoroughly scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.

The medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

Piles, Costiveness, and

WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,

SUCH AS

Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutive Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,

Paralytic and Nervous Affections,

CANKER,

AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,

PILES,

PIMPLES ON THE FACE,

Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,

AND ALL

RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS,

COUGHS,

SORE THROAT,

AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE

THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metallic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their undivided attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-similie of the Manufacturers' name.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sore Breast, Sore Eyes, Burns, Scalds, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Muquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain to relieve as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Choice, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY, AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattle snake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 8 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all pone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1836) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid each by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

THE LAW—WHAT IS IT?

The New Hampshire Patriot says:

The abolition organs are reporting that "Mr. Lecompte, lately appointed Chief Justice of Kansas, takes several family slaves out with him;" and this they state as proof that slavery will exist there.——If Mr. L. takes slaves to Kansas, they become legally free from the moment they touch the soil of that territory; this has been repeatedly decided to be the law of the land, as will be seen by extracts from decisions which we have cited in another article. And as it is not to be presumed that Chief Justice Lecompte is ignorant of the well settled law on this subject, the probability is that if he takes his "family slaves" with him, he does so because he desires to make them free and to have them with him as hired servants rather than leave them behind. At any rate, according to the decisions of the highest judicial tribunals in the land, a slave carried to Kansas becomes legally free just as effectually as one brought into New Hampshire.

In another article on the same subject, the Patriot adds:

Every slave carried there becomes in law a free man the moment he sets his foot upon the soil of either of these territories.——All admit that there is no law tolerating slavery in these territories; and in the absence of such law slavery is illegal.

We assure the Patriot, that we wish all its statements, which we have here quoted, were true. We wish Attorney General Cushing would publish his opinion, or decision, that they are so. But he will do no such thing. The "decisions" which the Patriot quotes, were all made before the passage of the Nebraska bill. The 9th section of this bill, however, as published in the New Hampshire Gazette, provides, among other things, that

In all cases involving title to slaves, the said writs of error, or appeals, shall be allowed and decided by the said supreme court," &c., &c.

This language expressly legalizes slavery there, if words can do it; as it goes on and confers this remarkable power, "without regard to the value of the matters, property or title, in controversy."

Here, in these half dozen quoted lines, slaves are termed property, their value is mentioned, and the title to them is to be tried, not by the people, but by the Supreme Court of the territory—from which the only appeal lies to the Supreme Court of the United States. We would thank the Patriot, or any other paper, to give us any respectable legal opinion, which will so much as pretend to explain away these six lines.

These six lines, however, are not all. The old Ordinance of 1798, shut out slavery from all the North Western Territory. The Missouri Compromise of 1820, drew a dividing line, and let slavery take all south of it, leaving the old Ordinance in force at the north.

The 14th section of the Nebraska bill repeals the Missouri Compromise line—but it does not stop at this point—if it did, the Ordinance would revive—but it puts in a proviso, saying, that it shall not revive any law or regulation of slavery, for or against it, previous to 1820—meaning the ordinance of '98 and nothing else.

Thus, in '98, the old Republicans thought there was need of a law against slavery in the territories. But in 1820, their degenerate sons repealed or destroyed half this law. And in 1854, their more degenerate grandsons repealed or destroyed the rest of it.

And now, somebody, with liberty on his tongue but slavery in his heart, comes and asks us to admire this bill and its makers, because it advocates the great principle of squatter sovereignty—whereby, if the people say "we will have slavery," all is very well; but if they say "No," then the Court will settle the title to the slaves:—and the Judge of that Court is carrying his slaves into the territory just now.

We have mentioned in a former paper the approaching struggle in the British Parliament on the subject of the observance of the Sabbath. There are three parties on this question, the Evangelical, the Latitudinarian, and the High Church. The probable union, at least to some extent, of the two latter, is indicated by the following quotation from the Guardian, a High Church organ:

"The sight of a village green occupied, after the Sunday services are well over, by a friendly game at cricket, with the wives and children of the players sitting socially around, and, perhaps the squire of the parish, who will give them all a stout tea before the evening is over, applauding the good hits—is one which gives us little but gratification, and which, to our mind, no clergyman need hesitate to sanction by his presence."

DAILY PAPER IN FITCHBURG.—Messrs. Plaisted and Baxter have issued the first number of the Fitchburg Daily. It is not a political paper, but will oppose Romanism and slavery.

A young farmer in Littleton, Mass., who visits Boston very often to sell produce, has attracted great notice in that city by his giant size. He weighs 280 pounds; is six feet eleven inches high, and is only 21 years old, and growing yet!

SINGULAR CASE OF BIGAMY.—The Springfield Republican states that Edward Bates has been arrested in that city for living with Miss Wardwall of Otisfield, Me., as his wife, by the consent of his real wife, all the parties residing in Springfield. Miss Wardwell became a resident of Bates's family at Hingham, Mass., whence they removed to the interior of New York, when Bates's wife agreed to vacate the premises, two children being divided between the parties, the wife taking one child, and the husband the other. The parties subsequently removed to Springfield, where they all lived on amicable terms, Bates paying the board of his wife and child. The arrest was made at the instance of Miss Wardwell's father.

The whole affair is singular, from beginning to end. During their residence at Springfield, the two wives have been in the constant habit of visiting back and forth, as if nothing out of the common course of events existed in their relations to each other. But one of the most singular facts in this extraordinary case is, that wife No. 1 insists that the marriage of her husband with wife No. 2, whom she affectionately calls her sister, is all right in the sight of heaven, and that so long as they are all satisfied with the arrangement, they ought to be left unmolested.

It now turns out that Bates and probably the women belong to an organized band of theives. The Springfield Republican, of Wednesday the 18th, says:

"For some time past, the officers of the Western railroad have been much annoyed by frequent depredations upon freight in course of transportation on board their trains, and every effort has been made to discover the perpetrators, but all to no purpose till the arrest of Edwin Bates, the bigamist, a chapter of whose history was given in the Republican of Tuesday. In consequence of disclosures made by him to Officer Walker who arrested him, he was at once suspected of participating in the larcenies above referred to, and finally acknowledged his guilt to Mr. W., and also gave the names of other parties who were connected with the same proceedings, all of whom proved to be employees of the road—assistant freight conductors and brakemen. Mr. Walker accordingly took measures to secure their speedy arrest, which, with the assistance of Officer Comstock and others, was successfully accomplished, three assistant freight conductors and six or seven brakemen being arrested, and about a thousand dollars worth of the stolen goods recovered from their possession. The examination of the parties has been postponed till next week. It appears that a regular system of robbery has been carried on by these men, light merchandize of almost every description having been abstracted by them from boxes and packages of freight on the trains upon which they were employed. There was a mutual understanding among them, that no man should take more than he required for his own use, and while most of them adhered to that rule, some of the more avaricious appropriated enough to stock several moderate sized variety stores. Of the former, however, are several young men who were evidently drawn into the gang and led on by older heads in crime, and are therefore less implicated."

ELOPEMENT AND ADULTERY.—Dr. J. Q. Adams of Haverhill, Mass., was arrested in that place on Sunday evening, Oct. 1, on charge of adultery with a married women, named Eliza Jane Emerson. Mrs. E. came to this town a few weeks ago, and obtained work in the mill, in the room of Mr. Josiah Moulton. She represented that she was from Memphis, Tennessee, that her father and mother were both dead, and that they formerly resided in Haverhill. In the meantime she was receiving visits from Dr. Adams, who she stated, was her guardian. She was very regular at church, and had a class in the Sabbath School, and excited the sympathy and interest of quite a number of our citizens. Her husband got on the track of her whereabouts, came to Dover, searched her things, and found several letters written by Adams, from which it appears that the guilty pair have been on terms of intimacy for nearly two years. A few weeks ago they eloped together, and he finally left her here. While at Dover he came and carried her to Newmarket, Rochester, &c. He was arrested in the Town Hall in Haverhill, while delivering a Lecture, and brought to Newmarket, where he was tried before Thomas E. Sawyer, Esq., of this town, and committed to jail in default of bail in the sum of $400. Another suit has been instituted against him on charge of seduction, and damages laid at $6,000.—Dover Gazette.

ARREST FOR BIGAMY.—Franklin Butterfield was arrested in Great Falls, on Wednesday last, charged with having two wives. Butterfield had been to California and said he had gained the impression that his "old wife" was dead, and married again. Neither the Justice, sheriff, or the "old wife" seemed inclined to believe this story, but Butterfield was set at liberty on his giving the "old wife" a deed of about four hundred dollars' worth of real estate in Exeter, Me.—Great Falls Journal.

THE WALKER DIVORCE CASE.—In the case of Catherine S. P. Walker, by Christian S. Sloan, her next friend, against Wildes P. Walker, tried some time since at New York, it will be remembered the jury were unable to agree, but that subsequently, by the consent of both parties, the matter was put in the hands of a referee, who has since examined into the matter and made a report. On this report Judge Ingraham has entered a decree, granting Mrs. Walker the divorce applied for, with liberty to marry again, and giving her also the custody of the children, with liberty to Mr. Walker to visit them once a fortnight. The plaintiff to have judgment and costs.

AN Italian officer, in Italy, whose love was unrequited, a few weeks since resolved upon vengeance. Arming himself with four revolvers, he repaired to the house of the cruel fair one and shot, successively, her mother, her father, the young lady herself, her uncle and aunt, and finished the tragedy with suicide.

FIRES IN NEWBURYPORT.— The Herald states that the large stable and sheds of the Ocean House, Newburyport, were destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock on Thursday evening; with about 12 tons of hay in the loft, and 100 bushels of grain in the barn. The horses and carriages were mostly saved; one horse it is thought perished, and ten or twelve harnesses were burned. The loss is fully $1,200, on which $500 is insured. It falls with much severity on Mr. Hamblet, who has been untiring in his efforts as a landlord, and has not been adequately remunerated for the care and labor which he has bestowed on his business. There had been no light in the second story, where the fire broke out, during the evening. The fire endangered a compact and combustible neighborhood. The barn on the estate of Mr. Joseph Boardman, adjacent, was damaged in the roof.

The Engine house, No. 7, caught fire Wednesday evening, and was so much damaged as not to be worth repairing. The loss to the city will not be far from $600.

☞ The Court of Common Pleas was engaged all day, on Thursday, in examining witnesses in the land case, Cook vs Brown.

ACCIDENT.—A young Irishman named Carroll Farney, was killed near the depot at Exeter on Friday noon. He endeavored to get on the train when in motion, but missed his footing and fell under the cars. The wheels passed over his leg, mangling it in a shocking manner. The leg was promptly amputated by Drs. Perry and Gorham, but the man died from the effects of the wound in the afternoon. He had recently been at work at Plaistow.

☞ Mr. Geo. W. Stickney, of Exeter, was, on Tuesday last, admitted to practice in the Courts in this State, at the Court of Common Pleas.

☞ Mr. Edwin A. Rowe, son of Mr. Frederick Rowe, of this city, has been elected to the General Assembly of California, from Trinity County of that State.

Daniel Chandler, of Concord, N. H., has been sentenced to the State Prison for life, on conviction of having altered a switch, which caused a train of cars to be thrown from the track of the Concord railroad.

A RARE ENTERTAINMENT.

PAUL JULIEN'S TROUPE gave concerts in Portland on Thursday and Friday evenings. Respecting their performances the Portland Advertiser says:

The Concert was very numerously and fashionably attended, being one of the very best and most successful we have had for a long time. "Little Paul," as he is familiarly called, has been "growing old" a little since he was last here, but is still a mere boy. He is certainly a prodigy, performing wonders on his favorite instrument, with a smoothness and delicacy of execution which we have never heard excelled, and with much less apparent effort than we usually witness in the execution of similar pieces by the most celebrated violinists.

M'lle Durand sings charmingly, and dresses sweetly, besides being very pretty. She was very warmly applauded on singing "Comin' thro' the Rye." Her fine voice, beautiful execution, rare personal charms, and her very arch rendering of this favorite song, seemed to carry the audience as by storm, and she was obliged to respond with something more than a sweet smile—giving most effectively a beautiful echo song, which, we presume, was composed expressly for her, as we never remember to have heard it before, the answering echo being given from an instrument in the adjoining room.

Mr. Goekel, the pianist, is a performer of great skill, as is clearly shown by the fact that he was repeatedly encored—a mark of approbation which is rarely bestowed upon a pianist at a concert of this character.

In short, this was a first-rate concert. The artistes are all of the very first order, and the manager is a gentleman.

It is probable this troupe will give another entertainment in Portsmouth soon, perhaps next week.

LAWRENCE'S
CHERRY PECTORAL.

W. F. LAWRENCE: DEAR SIR,—

It gives me pleasure to state that your CHERRY PECTORAL has given utmost satisfaction wherever it has been used. Some of the most distinguished physicians of the state, are in the habit of purchasing it in bulk, and profess themselves highly gratified with its remedial effects. I can recommend it with confidence as a very superior medicine, and have no doubt that it will earn for itself an enviable reputation. E. H. ROLLINS.

CONCORD, Sept. 20, 1854.

Mr. Rollins is one of the most extensive dealers in drugs and medicines in New England. As the Cherry Pectoral was first introduced in Concord, we subjoin the certificate of John F. Brown, formerly bookseller and publisher, and now city clerk of Concord, N. H., our former agent:

This certifies that I have been an agent for the sale of the medicine, now extensively known as Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral; that so far as I know it has given good satisfaction; that I have repeatedly sold it to physicians in quantity; that I am acquainted with the manufacturer of the Pectoral; that he is a physician of good repute, and that I believe him qualified to conduct the complex operations necessary for the manufacture of this medicine. JOHN F. BROWN.

CONCORD, N. H. April 6, 1854.

The above but few of the many testimonials in favor of Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral. It is used under the sanction and approbated at Dartmouth College by Prof. Dixi Crosby, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty of the N. E. states. It is FATAL CASUALTY.—A correspondent of the Ellsworth (Me.) Herald, writing from Castine, says that the body of Capt. Warren Hibbert was found floating up the river, three miles from that village, on the 10th inst.—Capt. Hibbert was master of the schooner Mentora, just returned from a fishing cruise. His vessel lay on the Brooksville side of the harbor, and on the morning of September 20, he and an English lad started in a sail boat for his schooner. The wind blew a gale, his boat capsized, and being in heavy ballast went immediately down, and before assistance could be rendered they were both drowned.—Capt. Hibbert was a smart active man, and leaves a wife and several small children.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE FROM LOVE.—At Belleville, on Sunday last, Miss Elizabeth Steteli, a native of Switzerland, twenty-one years old, in despair arising from some affair of the heart, resolved on self destruction.—She commenced cutting at the back of the neck, and inflicted a frightful gash, but this mode of taking life not being quick enough, she next commenced on her throat and made several terrible wounds. Immediate death was not the consequence, as she cut too high on the throat, but she survived only until Wednesday evening. She was a young lady of fine character and excellent education.—St. Louis Republican.

NARROW ESCAPE. — On Friday evening last, the flagman on the Norwich and Worcester Railroad station, Front Street, discovered a man laying with his head resting upon the track across the common. A train was backing out at the time and was only stopped within one foot of his head. On taking him up he proved to be a "colored gemman," who had taken a larger "brick in his hat," than he could conveniently carry, and had laid down to rest with the rail for a pillow. His outer man was got up in good style, having on a blue coat with bright buttons, black pants and light vest, he is a stranger in town. He was conveyed to the lock up and brought before the Police Court in the morning and fined $2 and costs for being drunk, he paid up and went his way.—Worcester Transcript.

THE MATAGORDA HURRICANE.—The Brazos (Texas) Planter says all the houses in the town, with the exception of twelve, have been blown down. All the stores are down, and the goods have been greatly damaged. There were five persons killed by the falling of the houses—two Americans and three Germans. Dr. Perry's wife had her arm broken. The house of Col. Lewis, on the peninsula, opposite Matagorda, was also blown down. A large livery stable in Matagorda was also blown down and all the horses killed, and in the neighborhood generally there was great destruction.

HORSE SHOW.—Brattleboro', Oct. 18.—The horse exhibition to-day was fine. The entries included about 150 animals—four-fifths of which were Morgan varieties, Black Hawk predominating. Five thousand dollars were refused for each of two horses on the ground. The attendance on the ground was liberal.—The programme of to-morrow includes sundry trotting and decisions of Judges. Friday will be spent in miscellaneous matches and some of great interest—also trial of equestrian skill for a prize of a gold watch, to be competed for by ladies, and similar prizes for best speed by 3 year old horses.

DREADFUL CASUALTY.—A number of the citizens of Eden Valley were endeavoring to remove an old bridge, over "Eighteen Mile Creek," for the purpose of substituting a new one, when the timbers gave way, and all the persons engaged were thrown into the creek. There were forty persons on and under the bridge when it gave way. Of these, two, Deacon John Carter and Curtis Hubbelt, were so fatally injured that they lived only a few hours, and five were badly wounded.—Buffalo Republican of Tuesday.

SMART FAMILY.—At the late fair in Cleveland, Mrs. Addison of Warnersville, and her young daughters, were competitors with others for premiums. Mrs. Addison took the first premium for the best woolen stockings at the fair last year, and Miss Flora, aged 7, a premium for the second best woolen socks. At the late fair, Mrs. Addison was awarded the first premium for the best woolen stockings and the best cotton hose. Miss Flora the first premium for the best woolen socks, and Miss Mary, aged 6, a premium for the second best woolen stockings.

A physician writes to the editor of the Louisville Courier, that, a few days ago, a young lady of Oldham county, Ky., in her ordinary health—perfectly well, the family say—rode two miles to a physician and had a tooth extracted. Almost immediately paralysis on one side of the body occurred, then stupor, and death followed in a few hours.—She had not inhaled chloroform or anything of that kind.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful
STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.
These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to convince the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of persons, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.
A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S
GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thorough scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long, lingering and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiselled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health. The medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owing to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,

SUCH AS

Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutic Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,

Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,

AND ALL

RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS, COUGHS, SORE THROAT,

AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE

THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metallic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothaches, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linitment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

MR. DOUGLAS' SLAVE PLANTATION, AND HOW HE CAME BY IT.—The Cleveland (Ohio) Leader, of October 3d, is responsible for the following statements with regard to Mr. Douglas' individual connection with the slavery interests of this country, and which are made in reply to an Ohio paper, which had denied that he was the owner of any slaves, or was ever guilty of profane swearing. The Leader says the facts were obtained "from a personal acquaintance of Douglass, who had them directly from his own mouth."

The wife of Douglass, whom he married about twelve years ago, was the heiress expectant at the time, with a sister, of a worn out North Carolina plantation, with its 150 negroes and some $50,000 of bank stock. Subsequently to her marriage, the father-in-law purchased two tracts of land in Mississippi, and stocked one with 80 and the other with 40 negroes, the residue of his "peculiar property" remaining at the dilapidated homestead. A few years afterwards the father-in-law offered to make a gift of the larger Mississippi plantation to Douglass. But fear of public sentiment in Illinois and the North deterred him from receiving the "live stock" in his own name. He suggested to the old man that, under the circumstances, it was better that the negroes should be settled upon his wife, which accordingly was done.

By the deaths of his father-in-law, his wife's sister and his wife, another plantation, with 40 or 50 field hands and a number of family slaves, fell into Douglas' charge, though a portion of the property is incumbered by the life estate of the widow.

Douglass derives the rents and profits of both the Mississippi plantations, and annually pockets the surplus earnings of 160 or more slaves. He visits his plantations frequently, and gives his negroes a grand barbacue once a year, inspects his crop of piccaninnies of African or American paternity; gives instructions to his overseers, as well as receipts for the cash extracted from the toil of his human chattels during the preceding year. He will be legally entitled to repeat his barbacues and collections for fifteen years to come, when his eldest son will come of age and relieve his father of one-third of the profits derived from the slaves. Douglass does not technically own the Mississippi slaves, but he owns their usufruct, as a lawyer would term it, which means, "the right of enjoying a thing which belongs to another, and of deriving from it all the profit or benefit it may produce."

THE RECIPROCITY AND FISHERY TREATY.—The Secretary of State, in an official letter of the 10th, states that, in consideration of the admission of American fishing vessels to the benefits of the inshore fisheries, The United States government is desirous of admitting Colonial fish free of duty at once; but has no power to do it by the existing law.—But he states that an application will be made to Congress by the Executive for an Act for refunding the duties which may be paid on such fish.

The acting Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. P. G. Washington, was to issue on Friday, in accordance with the decision, a Circular to the Collectors, directing them to give special certificates of the receipts on account of duties on fish, with a view to convenience in refunding them upon their presentation, after Congress shall direct this to be done, in pursuance of the Executive recommendation. Under these circumstances, the cirtificates thus issued will be immediately available to the parties receiving them. The Crown officers of the British government have given the opinion that no action of the Imperial government is necessary to give effort to the Treaty, because the laws made in pursuance of the Convention of 1818 are necessarily abrogated by the abrogation of that Convention. The President will probably issue his proclamation giving effect to the Treaty, after the requirements of the Act of Congress shall be complied with, through the necessary Colonial action, and without waiting for an Act of the British Parliament, if such Act be deemed unnecessary by the British government.

It is to be regretted that there is no means of remitting duties on Colonial coal prior to the acceptance of the Treaty. But the Treaty will soon have the effect to stimulate mining operations in the Provinces, and greatly to increase the supply of coal for the markets of the United States.—Journal of Commerce.

AN ODDITY.—The North Adams Transcript gives an account of an old and venerable genius, living somewhere in the vicinity of Conway, who is now nearly 92, goes out to work at threshing by the day; and does a good day's work. The winter he was 80, he went into the woods and chopped and hauled wood for the winter; and last winter, thinking he was rather old for the woods he contented himself with chopping his own wood at his door. He keeps a cow, lives three miles from town, and once a week, rain or shine, takes his butter in a pair of saddle bags, and starts for the store. He furnishes himself with all the necessaries of life, and we are sorry to say, reckons liquor among them. The winter he was 90, a gentleman from New York met him, and promised him a $5 bill for each succeeding birth-day; he has already had one, and says if he dont overdo himself he thinks he will get nine more.

In a sermon on Sunday last, Rev. Dr. Bellows, of New York, alluded to the loss of the Arctic, and said this country was now governed by a mad spirit of haste, and to this we must attribute the fall of character, of ships, of houses, of enterprises, and unless we paused, it would end in the fall of States.—What we most need is a spirit of repose, and for himself he felt that it would be better to have the world decimated, than to live in the red hot haste of the present time. The world would be better, the souls of men happier from such a decimation, than in pursuing its present career.

CHAPTER ON PRINCIPLES.

In an article on the late elections, the New Hampshire Gazette says:

We believe that the Nebraska bill has not been fully accepted by the democracy in any of the Northern States, though everywhere opposition to it has been the rallying cry of the fusionists, and has united them in harmony. Reformers, Whigs, Republicans, Know Nothings, Free Soilers, and other opponents to the Democratic party, are all willing to unite upon a platform, the main plank of which is opposition to the Nebraska bill, while the democrats have too often maintained silence respecting a principle the correctness and justice of which hardly a man of the whole party will dare deny. This course has operated decidedly against us—and will thus operate so long as it is continued. The principles of the Nebraska bill are either republican and democratic or they are not. If the former, it is the duty of the party to sustain them, not passively, but actively, and by every means within their power; not only by their speeches and resolutions, but at the polls, the arena where principles are embodied into vital action.

The only principles or peculiarities of the Nebraska bill, by which it can be distinguished from other territorial bills, are those which legalize slavery there, and that which declares that

"The true intent and meaning of this act is not to legislate slavery into any territory or state, nor to exclude it therefrom, but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the constitution of the United States."

This latter declaration is falsified and nullified by another section, and also by the very next sentence, which reads thus:

Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to revive or put in force any law or regulation which may have existed prior to the act of sixth March, eighteen hundred and twenty, either protecting, establishing, prohibiting, or abolishing slavery.

This proviso distinctly repeals the Ordinance of '98, which prohibited slavery.

Now we do not believe slavery and democracy to be synonymous, but contradictory. We have a high regard for democratic principles, and so have thousands of our brethren in Maine, who have kept silence, but have voted against the bill and its supporters.

We consider the bill itself, and the manner of its passage, to be as anti-democratic as possible. It was got up without any popular petition; passed in defiance of a popular protest; urged through Congress by executive influence;—and as the Gazette truly says "not fully accepted by the Democracy in any of the Northern States!"

Why not? Simply because the democracy of the free States have no confidence in the empty declaration of a principle, which is deliberately violated in the very section wherein it is asserted.

SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.

A despatch from Dr. Rae, dated York Factory, Aug. 4, 1854, has been received by Sir George Semson, Governor of the Hudson Bay Territory, narrating the discovery of Sir John Franklin and most of his company.—They were found dead from starvation at a place to the northwest of Box River. They are supposed to have died in the spring of 1850.

Their ships were crushed and sunk by the ice, while making their way south to the Great Fish River or Back. Near the outlet of that river the party of whites died, leaving evidences of their awful sufferings in the mutilated corpses of some, who had apparently furnished food for their unfortunate companions. No doubt is left of the truth of the report, as the natives had in their possession various articles of European manufacture, which had been in the possesion of the whites. Among these are several silver spoons, forks, &c., on one of which is engraved "Sir John Franklin, K. C. B.," while the others have crests and initial on them which identify the owners as having belonged to the ill-fated expedition. Drawings of some of these articles have been made by Dr. Rae, and sent forward.

Much anxiety is now felt, for the safety of our American expedition, fitted out by Mr. Grinnell.

CHARLESTOWN not BOSTON.—The Boston Journal of Saturday evening says:

"Chief Justice Shaw delivered his opinion to-day upon the questions submitted to the Supreme Court in reference to the annexation of Charlestown.

"The decision declares the provisions of the act of annexation inconsistent with the laws of the Commonwealth and with the constitution of the United States, and sustains the majority of the Charlestown Aldermen in their refusal to sign the certificate of the election. A decree was entered that no further action be had in the matter.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.—Accounts from Prince Edward's Island state that the Legislature there have on their part accepted the Reciprocity Treaty.

IN New York, potatoes sell for $2.50 to $3 per barrel. Greening and Spitzenberg apples bring from $2 to $2.50 per barrel.

MR. JOHN I. MUNFORD, one of the Deputy Collectors of New York, has become editor of the Day Book, administration organ in that city.

THE COAL TRADE SUSPENDED.—The Philadelphia Bulletin of Wednesday, announces that the coal operators in Schuylkill county have combined and suspended the shipment of coal, alleging as an excuse that the wages of workmen are too high. That journal adds the following comments:

The consequence is an almost total failure in the receipts of coal, while the supply in the various yards in the city is probably not more than enough for a week's consumption. The operators could not have done a more unwise thing; for they cannot convince the public that, with the enormous advance on the prices they are receiving, they cannot pay the very small advance in wages. They will feel the consequences of their folly before long, and we shall not be surprised if one of the first acts of Congress, on reassembling, shall be the removal of the duty on coal.—They will have no one to blame but themselves.

Blame? blame for allowing the poor to warm their houses at the cheapest rate? If the duty on coal be repealed, nobody will be to blame, but everybody who has had any agency in ridding the country of a tax so odious and oppressive will be worthy of praise. Let us make the experiment, and see if that immense class who burn anthracite coal in millions of stoves and grates all along the Atlantic coast, and far in the interior, will be disposed to cast censure on those who vote to take off the tribute they are paying to the owners of the Pennsylvania mines, and to give them cheap coal. The present Congress has done many things which are unpopular. If the members desire to do something in the way of a set-off against their misdeeds, something which shall be acceptable to the people, let them, as soon as they come together, pass a statute for delivering us from this intolerable tyranny of the coal market.

UNITARIAN CONVENTION.—The Unitarian Convention closed its session on Thursday evening last, by the administration of the Lord's supper. It was numerously attended from the United States—there being about three hundred ministers and delegates from the other side of the line. Maine and Massachusetts were largely represented; New York, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont and Pennsylvania, were also represented more or less. The mornings were occupied with meetings for conference and prayer, the forenoon and afternoon by discussion on the various topics presented for consideration, and the evenings by religious services, when sermons were preached.

The Montreal Unitarian Congregation entertained the Convention at a Soiree in the St. Lawrence Hall, on Wednesday evening, when the Hon. John Young presided, and several addresses were delivered by the strangers present. The room was decorated by the flags of Great Britain and the United States, connected and surmounted by the Christian symbol of the Cross. We understand that the great body of the delegates left the city on Friday morning.

At the forenoon session of the Convention on Thursday, the following resolutions were presented by the Rev. S. J. May, of Syracuse, N. Y., and passed unanimously:

Resolved, That while we deeply deplore the present inability of humane and christian people in the United States to give shelter and protection to the poor fugitives from the most cruel and unchristian institution of slavery, we thank God that only an invisable line separates them from this country, where those outcasts may be, as thousands have been, kindly received, and put under protection of the most powerful government upon earth.

Resolved, That we return our grateful acknowledgements to those persons of Canada, who have generously co-operated with the friends of humanity in the United States, in providing homes for the fugitives who have succeeded in effecting their escape from slavery.

Resolved, That we earnestly entreat all in Canada, upon whom our words can make any impression, to use all the influence they may, in keeping alive the public sentiment that will resolutely withstand any attempt to open this fair land to the hunters of men, or to throw even the least impediment in the way of those who are fleeing for liberty, dearer than life.—Montreal Herald.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—At the Woman's Rights Convention this afternoon, Mr. Garrison and Lucretia Mott continued the argument upon the Bible quotations, offered by Henry Grew, from the Old and New Testaments, to prove that woman was not the equal of man, and showing her subjection to him, controverting them by other quotations. The resolutions offered on the first day were unanimously adopted. The Convention agreed to meet again next year, at Cincinnati. Wendell Phillips is the Chairman to decide upon the merits of the different essays upon the subject of Woman's Rights, and the prizes to be offered. The meeting in the evening was addressed by Emma R. Coe, Mary Grew, and Lucy Stone.

BRATTLEBORO', Oct. 20.—Three ladies, Mrs. Stone of Surry, Mrs. Bascom of Brattleboro', and Miss Kate Wise of Middletown, competed for the prize for the best equestrianism to-day. The Judges with excellent skill, divided the prizes, as all the competitors were equally skilled in the menage, and a contribution by Mr. Baxter of Rutland gave each $30.

A trot for premiums of $50, $30, $20 and $10 came off in the afternoon; and was spiritedly contested. J. J. Josselyn of New Haven won the first prize.

Mr. Baxter of Rutland trotted his mare Nelly against time, for the premium of $300. The manager will be able to cover the expenditures with the receipts, which will amount to $4000.

PORK PROSPECTS.—It is estimated there will be no falling off in quantity in this part of the country, though it is the general belief that the quality will not be as good as usual. The number of hogs in the country being much larger than ever before, and there being no corn to feed them, vast quantities will be harried into the market mast fatted. The price can be guessed at—probably it will not be below $4.—Vincennes (Ind.) Gazette, 10th.

LOCAL.

MAP OF ROCKINGHAM COUNTY, NEW HAMPSHIRE.—An accurate survey of this County is nearly completed, under the direction of J. Chase, Esq., Civil Engineer, from which a Topographical Map will soon be issued by Messrs. Smith, of Philadelphia. Every road will be laid down accurately, with all the dwellings, churches, school houses, post offices, hotels, stores, mills, shops, &c., marked in their proper places. Extra maps of the principal villages will be shown on the margin, together with suitable views taken in the County—to make a highly ornamental border.

This map will be about 4 1-2 feet by 5 feet in size. The Publishers will very soon pass through the different towns to correct and revise the work, and solicit orders for the same.

We have seen specimens of similar maps of counties in New York, and should judge the proposed Map to be worthy the confidence of all. The publishers have the fullest recommendation of the most competent of judges.

EXHIBITION AND DANCE.—Mr. Lamprey has spared no pains to present a most agreeable entertainment, for young and old, at Congress Hall on Wednesday evening, 25th inst. Excellent music will be furnished, and besides the performances of beautiful children, in large numbers, the grown-up children will have a fine opportunity to join them in keeping step to the music. Those who know, say the entrance Wreath March will be well worth the price of tickets. See advertisement.

SOCIAL ENTERTAINMENT AT DOVER.—The ladies of the Universalist Society will give a grand entertainment in the Town Hall in Dover, on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 7. Music, speaking and refreshments will be on hand, and every exertion will be used to make the occasion satisfactory to all who love a good time. Doors open at 6 o'clock. Admission 12 1-2 cents.

☞ The Court of Common Pleas was engaged all day, on Saturday, in examining witnesses in the land case, Cook vs. Brown.

A Unitarian Society has recently been formed in Exeter, N. H., and Rev. Mr. Angier, of Milton, has been engaged to officiate as pastor during the coming year.

This new Unitarian Society embodies most of the late Universalist Society in Exeter, and worships in the Church which they erected and lately occupied.

GOOD SPUNK.—Two boys belonging to Newburyport, who shipped as apprentices on board the ship Driver, a few weeks since, ran away from the vessel on her arrival at St. John, N. B., and walked the entire distance home. Their ardor for a "life on the ocean wave," had considerably oozed out on their return to their anxious mothers.—Herald.

WHIGGERY AND TEMPERANCE.—At the last session of the Legislature, the whig members voted, almost in a body, for the Maine Law.—N. H. Patriot.

THANKSGIVING.—The Governor of Kentucky has appointed Thursday, the 30th of November, to be observed as a day of thanksgiving; and the Governor of Maryland has appointed Thursday, the 23d, for the same purpose.

LIFE BOATS.—In view of the loss of so many lives by the wreck of the Collins steamer Arctic, the agents of the Cunard line of steamers in New York have given orders to Mr. Francis to furnish two additional life boats for each steamer, on their arrival at that port.

GEN. CASS AND SLAVERY EXTENSION.—Gen. Cass in a recent speech at Kalamazoo, Michigan, said that "if in voting to repeal the Missouri Compromise I am a doughface and a swindler, then I am both; for, said he, if we do not submit to be governed by compromises, the South will fight. If you do not give them more slave States they will say as one of old, 'To your tents, O Israel!'—they will dissolve the Union."

When a man dies, people generally inquire, "What property has he left behind him?"—The angels will ask "What good deeds has he sent before him?"—Albany Knickerbocker.

U. S. steam frigate Susquehanna, Commodore Perry, and sloop of war Vandalia, Commander Pope, were at Shanghae, July 24.

BANGOR, Oct. 19.—The ship James Littlefield was launched this morning, fully rigged. By too suddenly checking her with an anchor she was capsized, and the ballast shifting, she remained on her beam ends. Her upper spars and yards are being taken off, and an attempt will be made to right her.

Messrs. Sunderland & Co. have engaged two thousand still-fed hogs at $3.50 per hundred, and have already killed and packed some 120 of them. From all that we can learn, hogs promise to be plenty here and all over the country, and prices fair but not extravagant.—Burlington (Iowa) Telegraph.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE
ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.

The British steamship Africa, Capt. Harrison, from Liverpool 7th inst., arrived here this afternoon. She brings about 150 passengers, among whom is Jerome Bonaparte.

THE EASTERN WAR.

The fall of Sebastopol is not confirmed. The accounts published on the arrival of the Baltic appear to have been false. An official extra Gazette publishes the following from Lord Stratford de Redcliffe to Lord Clarendon:—

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 30, 9 o'clock, P. M.—The allied armies established their basis of operations at Balaklava on the morning of the 28th, and preparations were making to march without delay upon Sebastopol. The Agamemnon, and other vessels of war were in port at Balaklava, where there were facilities for embarking battering trains. It is stated that Prince Menschikoff is in the field with 20,000 men, and is expecting reinforcements. The fortifications of Anapa have been destroyed by the Russians, and the garrison was marching to the anticipated scene of action.

The French minister at Vienna had telegraphed as follows to the Minister of Foreign Affairs:—

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—The intelligence said to have been brought to Bucharest, for Omer Pasha, is contradicted. It was an exaggeration of the battle of Alma.

The Austrian Consul at Odessa telegraphs: "The struggle recommenced on the 25, and continued uninterruptedly up to the time our courier left, on the 27th. The allies were on the river Belbec, 10 miles from Sebastopol, on the 27th.

The change of news from Sebastopol was very gradually broken to the people, and it was not until the afternoon of the 5th that the official contradiction made its appearance. The allies, two days after the reported capture, were a considerable distance from the landward wall.

A despatch, dated Paris, Oct. 5, says:—"The Russian entrenchments in the town of Belbec were carried after a third battle, and the allied generals were preparing to lay seige to Sebastopol in a regular form."

On the 30th September, the Russian embassy at Vienna received telegraphic intelligence that two forts had been taken, but it was not known whether they were merely advance posts or within the region of Sebastopol.

The details of the battle of the Alma would not be announced before the 9th, owing to the non-arrival of despatches. Gen. Bonet was killed. The Russians numbered 30,000, and had 100 pieces of artillery.

Letters from Vienna, dated Oct. 2, state, reliably, that the reserves of the allies were not brought into action, and that the work was so well done that the Russians never had a chance. In the retreat of the Russians, which at last became precipitate, Menschikoff was chased by some chasseurs, and only escaped by the fleetness of his horse. The Russian loss is variously estimated at from 6,000 to 10,000, the former being probably the most correct. A large number of Poles deserted to the allies. The French loss was 1,400 men and 60 officers. The English loss was 1,895 rank and file, 96 officers, 114 sergeants, and 23 drummers, killed and wounded. Both Marshal St. Arnaud and Lord Raglan issued orders of the day, praising the conduct of the troops. St. Arnaud informed his men that he expected to lead them as conquerors into Sebastopol on the 3d of October, the anniversary of the declaration of war.

The Cunard steamer Andes conveyed 300 of the wounded to Constantinople, and the Vulcan, steamer, 320 more.

The operations between the 20th and 28th are not known with certainty, but there is reason to believe that several successive actions took place.

Cholera is raging very severely in the garrison of Sebastopol. It is stated that the city is only provisioned for three months, and that the crews of the fleet are already put on three-quarters allowance.

ENGLAND.—The West India mail steamer Magdalena had arrived at Southampton, bringing the absurd rumor that the U. S. ship Columbia, accompanied by a corvette and steamer, had arrived at Samana, and demanded the cession of that place and the adjacent territories to the United States, and that Soulouque was on his way with an army to oppose them. It was also stated that a powerful squadron had left New York for Greytown.

A despatch from Newcastle-on-the,Tyne announces a great fire there. Many lives were lost by an explosion, and property to the value of about £1,000,000 was destroyed.

The returns of the Bank of England show a decrease of £169,000 in the stock of bullion.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.—London, Saturday morning. The firm of Allen & Anderson, the largest house in London, engaged in the American grain trade, had failed. Their liabilities amount to $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

James McHenry of Liverpool has suspended payment, but it was thought his affairs would be satisfactorily arranged.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday morning, 9 o'clock. Reports from Odessa are said to have been received by a Greek house in this city, yesterday, to the effect that Generals Osten-Sacken and Luders had entered the Crimea at the head of forty battallions, besides the garrison at Odessa, which is 20,000 strong.

MARSEILLES, Friday. The Fury, from Constantinople 28th, has on board Lord Binghers, with despatches from Lord Raglan for the British government. Sebastopol was invested on the 27th, the second line of defence carried, and the place entirely surrounded.—The Russians were shut up in Sebastopol, which was to be attacked by sea and land.—One account states that the Russians had eight line-of-battle ships at the entrance of the harbor; another account says only four.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 17.—To-day, in joint assembly of both houses of the Legislature, several ineffectual attempts were made to elect a Secretary of State, in which the votes were about equally divided between two whigs, two fusionists, and one democrat. The matter was finally postponed until Thursday next. A good deal of dissatisfaction is manifested by the free soilers at what they call the illiberality of the whigs.

"Honest industry seeks only its own reward."
Daguerreotypes.
A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,
No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel, making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.
He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.
Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful
STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.
These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Fedduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.
A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S
GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoro' scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rock, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.

The medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owing to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutic Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,
Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metalic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1855," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

THE LOSSES OF THE PAST YEAR.—Henry Ward Beecher, preached a masterly discourse at his church in Brooklyn on Sunday, on the disasters by sea and land, the past year, to an immense audience. From the report of the discourse in the New York Times, we copy the following:

God is chastising us for our unwise legislations which will preserve peace without regard to justice. To show how God had shown his displeasure, Mr. Beecher said he had obtained the following statistics: During the past twelve months, more than 4000 American vessels, including those on the lakes and rivers, have been lost. This is no ministers' calculation, who are not expected to know anything of such matters, but has been computed by those who are expected to feel these losses most severely. During the same length of time, the number of vessels lost throughout the whole world was 10,000. Can it be said that it was chance alone that has caused the United States to furnish 4000 out of the 10,000 that have been lost? Up to the year 1850, the average number of vessels lost all over the world, averaged 3000 a year. The amount of insurance paid by the Marine Insurance Companies in New York, last year, amounted to twelve millions. The losses on land by railroads and otherwise, amounted to eighteen millions, making the total loss by sea and land, to be thirty millions of dollars. It is to be remarked that God has in most instances, struck directly at the pride of our strength. The noblest, the newest of our vessels are the ones taken, as if he meant to prove that it was himself that had done it; and that men might not say, they fell by their own weakness. Let men therefore depart from their infidelity, and put their trust in him, and he will gather them under his wings and no evil shall come nigh them.

FREE TRADE DOCTRINES IN FRANCE.—The Paris Moniteur published a second decree making a reduction of the import duties established by a previous decree, on foreign wines and alcohol. The duty is reduced from 50 to 15f the hectolitre. The occasion of this reduction, is the failure of the grape crop in the wine manufacturing districts of France, and the measure is adopted for the benefit of consumers. It is a policy in singular contrast with that of the Maine Law in this country, and one would suppose that its effects must be far from beneficial to the interests of the consuming classes in France. As might be expected, London merchants have already taken advantage of the admission of foreign spirits into France, at this low rate of duty, to send thither for the first time a supply of Jamaica Rum, Irish Gin, and Scotch Whiskey, to be put in competition with the native cognac and the wines of the country. It may be doubted whether this reform will prove a favorable illustration of the benefits of free trade. It is said that the inhabitants of the neighboring wine growing provinces of Spain, where the product has been abundant the present season, are dissatisfied with the inducement thus afforded to French speculators to purchase their wines, and for a reason quite as unphilosophical as that which induced the French government to encourage the import. In the districts where this dissatisfaction exists, the consumers are probably much more numerous than the producers, and they do not feel indemnified for the enhanced cost of their beverage, by the improved balance of trade between the two countries.—Boston Advertiser.

The drugged and nondescript American liquors will surely follow,—and unless the French are liquor proof, drunken men will roll over that land like a fiery flood.

The Mormons are in favor of Turkey.—Among the toasts delivered on the 4th of July at Salt Lake City, was the following:—"Signs of the Times. Christian Europe sustaining plurality of wives in Turkey. Uncle Sam, please take notice."

LIFE BOATS.—A correspondent of the Boston Courier is prompted by the late awful calamity of the Arctic steamer, to remind shipmasters of a cheap method by which any boat can be made a life boat at a few moments notice. The plan, which was successfully tested by Captain Sturgis a few years since, is as follows. Have on hand in the ship a number of canvas bags from six to twelve feet long and a foot or less in diameter, filled with straw, sewed up at both ends, and covered inside and out with several good coats of paint. Three or four of these bags placed under the thwarts of each boat would suffice to keep it from sinking even when crowded with passengers and filled with water. The object in stuffing the bags with straw is to keep them always distended, and they should be painted outside as often as once or twice a year. Cotton duck is the best for this purpose, as it becomes almost water-proof by being wet. It should be remarked in this connection, however, that the boats of the Arctic appear to have been all life boats, and it was from a want of the requisite number, rather than from a lack of buoyancy compared with their capacity, that so many lives were lost.

POTATO STORIES.—The editor of the Milford Journal has received from a friend, a mess of fine potatoes, the largest of which weighed twenty six ounces, and none of them less than a pound. They were raised together with twenty three and a half bushels of other potatoes, from a half bushel of seed, planted on nine and a quarter rods of ground.

The Worcester Transcript says that the Hon. John G. Thurston of Lancaster, exhibits four potatoes raised on his farm, which together, weigh five pounds and three ounces; the largest one weighing one pound and fifteen ounces. They were taken from a yield of one hundred and twenty five bushels from less than half an acre of ground.

WAR.

A score of able bodied men, with strong arms and cunning fingers—says Professor Teufelsdrock in his grim earnest way—are taken at random from some industrious village of Dumbdrudge, and are clothed in scarlet, muskets put in their hands by drill sergeants, who teach them how to kill dexterously, and are sent over sea to meet a score of able bodied men, taken also at random from some French or European Dumbdrudge, who are clothed in blue, and are taught by blue drill sergeants how to kill equally well; these men are brought face to face, and the order is given to kill. The muskets are fired by the reds and by the blues into each other's bosoms, and the representatives of the industrious Dumbdrudges are blown into nothing! Ach Gott! says the Professor, what quarrel had these men with each other? What did they ever know of each other before they were called upon to kill? Were they enemies? Nay, were they not in some sort friends, and useful to each other as joint workers upon God's earth? Were they not, in fact, brother men, in red and in blue?

Right, O, Teufelsdrock! No interest had they, but in saving (as all men with the instincts of humanity should have) the lives of their brother men; but their masters order them to kill and be killed—and such is war! It is the statesman's game, whose dice are human bones!

Glorious war! over which, though devils may laugh, the angels weep. But Sebastopol, they say, is taken! What then are the results? Thirty thousand of the Dumbdrudges, who might have been of assistance to each other, who certainly had no quarrel with each other, are shot to death with maugling missiles, at the command of their masters; and thirty other thousand die hopelessly, for they die without the false lustre of glory, by disease! These are the results! For what else has been gained? taken for granted, what is by no means proved, that Sebastopol has been stormed, of what consequence is it to the solution of the Eastern question?

Sebastopol is not Russia, nor Menschikoff Nicholas, nor the defeat of the advance guard the conquest of the armies of the Czar. It may be more difficult to retain than to capture that city, and a retreat from the Crimea will be more disastrous than to advance thus far within it. The legions of the great Napoleon marched victoriously to Moscow—how did they return?—Boston Courier.

The above was written before the last arrival from Europe.—It is not injured in the least, however, by the latest news.

CHOICE EXTRACTS.

We have not seen a new book called Totemwell; but the Portland State of Maine gives the following choice extracts from it, in connexion with a commendatory notice.

"The beloved object may be taken from us, but the joy and glory of having loved is ours forever. The higher the object of our affections, the greater is our reward; to love even a bird or a flower, is no small gain; to love a virtuous woman is the height of earthly happiness; but to love God—this is not only in itself a shoreless, brimming sea of happiness, but shows a man to be possessed of the sublimest capacity." p. 126.

"On such insignificant trifles hang the fate of mortals; she had saved her mug but lost her lover; and by making one of twenty pieces of crockery, she missed her chance of being made one with the Colonel. Finding him obdurate in his resolution, she also dismissed all thoughts of matrimony; or as she herself declared, became firmly and indissolubly wedded to the muses; though it is hard to see how that could be, as none of the whole number was ever supposed to be of the masculine gender, which is undoubtedly the reason why women generally have met with such indifferent success, in science and literature."

CHARLESTOWN STILL LIVES.

The Charlestown Advertiser, of Saturday, Oct. 21, says:

The Supreme Court, speaking through Chief Justice Shaw, this morning gave a very thorough opinion on the Annexation scheme, and explanation of the whole affair. The Court is of the unanimous opinion that the Act of Annexation is unconstitutional and void. The Court gave an extended opinion only upon these points, as follows:

First—That it was unconstitutional in relation to the choice of Representatives.

Second—That it was unconstitutional in relation to Senators.

Third—That it was unconstitutional in relation to the choice of Representatives to Congress.

These were the only points the Court had time to remark upon. All other points the Court were obliged to pass for the present through want of time. A full decision on all points will soon be published.

It is sufficient now to say that all the acts of Aldermen Page, Remick, Tuttle and Bailey, were fully sustained. And also that the Annexation Scheme can never be carried out till a new Constitution is framed.

A Crow of Defiance.—The Cincinnati Enquirer dies game. It exhibits a wood cut of Chanticleer, that so often held the prostrate coon in its claws, now prostrate in turn; but it invokes the bird in pathetic strains:

"Proud emblem of the brave and free,
Know Nothings now have fettered thee;
But Freemen's votes shall soon declare
Their native Rooster free as air!"

The Old Ordinance.—We have spoken, two or three times, of the Old Anti-Slavery Ordinance, passed by Congress in 1798. This is an error. It was passed in '87.

Matthew Halloran, convicted of the murder of Michael Ryan, was on Friday sentenced to be hung on some day to be fixed upon by the court, after one year's confinement in the State Prison.—Rutland (Vt.) Herald.

PRISON PUNISHMENT, No. 1.

For a long time it has been a serious question in some minds whether the system of prison punishment should be considered beneficial or not. There are thousands of the miserable foreign paupers who are thrown upon our shores, to whom imprisonment in any of our jails or prisons is very far from being a punishment. It is a privilege, rather than a punishment. They have neither character nor reputation among us, to sacrifice. Poor, ignorant, and half-starved beings, they make a grand profit out of imprisonment in our jails; and secure to themselves comfortable quarters at a very cheap rate. Foreigners are not alone in securing food and lodging in this way. There are too many Americans who do the same, although the number, compared with the number of foreigners, is very small.

There are many miserable drunkards, and other vagabonds, who will do little or nothing, or waste all they earn in intemperance, profligacy, or licentiousness, and then choose out the kind of crime by which they may obtain comfortable quarters, especially in cold weather.

What nonsense it is to talk of punishing a criminal by absolutely paying him a reward for his iniquity. Punishment which is no punishment, is a poor piece of prudence for a wise people.

Our whole system of prison punishment deserves a little overhauling. C.

ROUSE, YE FREEMEN!

BY MISS ANNIE M. ROGERS.

Rouse, ye Freemen, in your might,
Rouse, and struggle for the right!
Break oppression's iron chain,
Bid th' enslaved be free again.
Ye are free to think, to speak;
Truth is strong, and Error weak.
Let the voice of war no more
Send its wail from shore to shore;
Up! arouse! in all your might,
God is with you for the Right.

Be your weapons Love and Truth;
Join the fiery seal of youth
To the counsels, grave and sage,
Of experience and of age;
In each man a brother see,
Rich or poor though he may be.
Try to win the erring back
To a bright and peaceful track;
Up! arouse! in all your might,
God is with you for the Right.

Falter not; ye shall not fail!
God's own cause must e'er prevail!
Place in Him alone your trust,
Man must die and fall to dust.
Long the desperate strife may be;
Yet shall man at last be free.
Oh! then place your trust above,
Be your weapons Truth and Love;
Up! arouse! in all your might,
God is with you for the Right.

Counterfeit Champagne.—A trial in New York has brought out some singular facts touching the manufacture of Newark cider into the choicest brands of champagne. Empty champagne bottles are bought at the hotels and other places, the labels are ingeniously imitated, and the whole finishing and packing are in exact resemblance to the genuine article. The effervescence is given to the cider by forcing air into the bottles. The spurious champagne is sold in great quantities to the hotels and to dealers, and the quantity of it drank, it is said, greatly exceeds that of the genuine importation. The hotel keepers should go direct to a wine importer, on whom they can rely, and thus make themselves sure of the genuine article. No champagne manufacturer in this country can impose his spurious article upon the proprietors of any of the first class hotels in Boston.—Boston Chronicle.

We don't think much harm is done in this way, after all. Bottled cider may be as good as wine, and is not any more intoxicating than some which is used at the best hotels in Boston.

Hydropathic Review.—We have just received from the publishers, Messrs. Fowlers & Wells, N. Y., the 4th and last number of the Hydropathic Review, a professional work, amounting in all to 760 pages, and forming a valuable volume for reading or reference, with numerous illustrations. The quarterly form will not be continued, but the monthly Water Cure Journal will take such matter as was prepared for the quarterly, and the lighter matter will go into a weekly paper, which is to be published by the same house.

New Periodicals.—Fetridge & Co., of Boston, have sent us, via J. F. Shores, Jr., of this city, Dickens's Household Words for October; and the Illustrated Magazine of Art, part 22, with 40 large illustrative cuts, and much valuable and interesting letter press, explanatory of the cuts.

Hunt's Merchants' Magazine, for October, 1854, contains a valuable article on Our American Lake Cities; Mercantile Autobiography, Vincent Nolte; Sound Dues on the Baltic; Trade and Commerce of New Orleans, &c.

Naval.—A day or two since we visited the Navy Yard, and find that the business of the yard is going on with great expedition. Since we were there last, the workmen on the Franklin steamer have been putting up about one frame per day—thirty being now erected.—She will be an exceedingly large and sharp ship, but will have only one propeller, which is to be auxiliary to her sails. The orders from Washington are to push her along as fast as possible. The Santee is progressing, and could be finished without trouble by the time fixed for launching, but for the scarcity of caulkers, who will probably soon be reinforced by additions from private yards, where their work will be finished in a few days. As it is, the launch will not be delayed many days beyond the time fixed.

☞ Uncle Toby's Lecture on the Life, Character and Times of Josiah Moodey, is to be read this evening, at half past 7, at Washington Hall, 24 1-2 Market street.

☞ Rockingham County Temperance Convention is to meet at Raymond, to-morrow, Wednesday.

☞ Rev. Mr. Rines, Pastor of the Church at the Old South, will deliver a lecture there, next Sunday evening, on the Temporal Millenium.

The American clipper ship Typhoon, Capt. Samuel Goodhue, has made an extraordinary short passage from London to Calcutta, said to be the shortest time ever made—being just 80 days from the Lizard to Saud Heads, and 88 days from Deal to Calcutta—dock to dock. She is now performing her third charter to the East Indies on English account, and from her uniform short passages and perfect delivery of cargo at London each previous time, she has become quite a favorite, and received the round sum of £12,000 sterling to perform the voyage from London to Calcutta and back again.

The Typhoon was built at this port. All her trips have been much shorter than an average time; while her first trip, from this port to Liverpool in ballast has been beat but once, we think. The time was 13 days 9 hours.

The New Hampshire Statesman is to be published as a daily campaign paper for four months at the "ridiculously small" price of 37 1-2 cents.

So says the Boston Courier—but the Statesman itself did not say any thing about a Daily paper. The Campaign Statesman is to be published weekly, we presume.

Strong Hint.—A new Episcopal church has recently been built in Davenport, Iowa. A correspondent of the N. Y. Independent says that the following notice was appended to the advertisement of the opening of the edifice:

N. B. The chewers of tobacco are earnestly requested to avoid the use of the article in the church, or else spit in their hats.

Water-Tight Bulkheads.—In the case of the iron propellor Vesta, with her whole bow torn out, a water-tight bulkhead saved her from going to bottom. In the case of the wooden steamer Arctic, with a smaller leak, and without any such bulkhead, she went to the bottom, at a great sacrifice of life and property. A writer in the Boston Courier says: "I think it would be for the interest of owners of steamers and packets to strengthen them and provide them with water-tight divisions up to the lower deck. Interest is a great power, and it would be interesting to hear an official opinion from a formal meeting of Presidents and Directors of insurance offices on the question."

We suppose that two such partitions, dividing a long vessel into three parts, would add quite as much to her strength as to her cost—and add very materially to her safety from filling and sinking. They would also rather circumscribe a fire in most circumstances.

There is no such thing as perfect safety on ship board: but that is no reason why we should not avail ourselves of such safeguards as are within our reach, and are withal, economical as well as life-preserving.

The leaves of the beech tree, collected in autumn, in dry weather, form an admirable article for beds. The smell is grateful and wholesome; they do not harbor vermin; are very elastic, and may be replenished annually without cost.

Apples.—They are plenty this year, and cheaper than potatoes. First rate winter varieties sell here at from 13 to 15 shillings per barrel. Great quantities are arriving by canal. The Rochester Union says:—We notice daily full cargoes of apples going down the canal. The boats load at different points along the Erie canal, between this city and Lockport; also on the Genesee Valley canal. —Albany Register.

HORACE WEBSTER,
o23 Commissioner for Rockingham Co.

INTERESTING INTELLIGENCE FROM DR. KANE'S EXPEDITION.—A letter from Dr. Hayes, of Chester county, one of the second Grinnell expedition, in search of Sir John Franklin, has been received at N. York. It is dated the 20th of July, 1853, at Proven, one of the most northerly of the Danish settlements on the Greenland coast. The expedition was just about to start on its exploration. The most active preparations had been made for the search, which would begin at the point where the vessels could not penetrate further on account of the ice. A boat and sleighing party were to conduct the search. The great object of this expedition would be to pave the way for future operations in the spring. For this purpose they carry with them a stock of provisions, consisting of pemican, preserved meats, meat biscuit, &c., with a few luxuries, to be left at different points on the way. The boat, "The Forlorn Hope," for so she is called, is so constructed as to propel either on ice or water—on ice by eight men operating against wooden bars lashed athwart the boat, while the Doctor will lead off in advance to explore the track. The stern is covered with an India rubber cloth tent, to serve as a protection by night, and cooking apartment by day. Having arrived at the termination of their journey, leaving the Forlorn Hope and provisions to the mercy of the wolverines and bears, they will return to the brig on foot, in the darkness of the polar night, guided by their compass and the stars. The party will endeavor to prevent attacks of the scurvy, caused by living entirely on animal food, by active exercise, and daily ablution in the snow. A large supply of ducks, and other birds and their eggs, abounding in that region, are to serve for the principal articles of food and luxury during the winter. Mr. Bousalt has taken a number of daguerreotype sketches of the country, the chemicals working finely in that high latitude. This is probably the last intelligence which will be received of the expedition till the arrival of the Advance at New York, next month, where she is expected. Should he fail to reach port by that time, it will probably be because Captain Kane had determined to continue his researches in the Arctic regions for another season.

FAST GIRL.—Miss Mary Ann Galway, who has been a clerk in several dry goods establishments in Philadelphia, has been arrested for making most extensive appropriations for her employers' goods, with which she clothed herself very finely, and made most extraordinary presents to her friends. Among her acquisitions was a young man of 17, clerk in a jewelry store, whom she induced to marry her, getting the ceremony performed by a false statement of his age. He belongs to a very respectable family, and she is in prison and in "trouble."

WAKING UP THE WRONG PASSENGER.—The Taunton Gazette states that a few days since one of the inmates of the lunatic asylum in that town escaped from his bondage, and nothing further was heard from him until on Saturday last, when the person in whose charge he had been placed discovered him, as he thought, in a train of cars which stopped at Taunton on their way to Boston. He immediately called a hackman, and entering the car, the two dragged the supposed lunatic to the platform, where an animated altercation took place, the hackman insisting that the prisoner was insane and his prisoner just as strongly insisting that the hackman must be insane. At length the passenger procured evidence which conclusively showed that he was a highly respectable clergyman of Fall River, on his way to preach at Mansfield, the next day.

A RUSE ON THE PART OF COAL DEALERS.—The late announcement that the coal mines of Pennsylvania were about to be closed, because six dollars per ton on the wharves at Philadelphia does not pay a profit, looks very much like a trick on the part of coal dealers generally, to frighten the public into the belief that the price of coal will speedily advance, and therefore that it will be economy to lay in a full winter supply. The operators in Pennsylvania want money, and must have it, and the dealers in New York, New Jersey, and the Eastern States have heavy payments to make on the first of November, all of which cannot be accomplished unless the public will purchase their winter stock. The trick is transparent.—N. Y. Her.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21.—A difficulty has for some time existed between the trustees of the Roman Catholic Church, in Newport, Ky., and the bishop, growing out of the fact of the former having built a school house on a church lot, without the consent of the latter. The bishop applied for an injunction, which was granted to-day by the court, the Judge deciding that the bishop had a right to appoint the trustees for the church, and to use the ground for church purposes only.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. Reuben Sherman, of Wayland, Mass., over eighty years of age, died on Friday night last, in an unfortunate manner. His daughter who lived with him was called away on Friday to attend her sick husband, expecting to return at night, but failed to do so. Mr. Sherman, being thus left alone at night, blew out his light in the kitchen, as it is supposed, to retire to rest. In going out of the kitchen he opened the cellar door by mistake, and was precipated to the bottom of the cellar stairs, where he was found dead next morning. From his appearance it was judged that he lived some time after the fall.

We are happy to learn that the Cunarders here have ordered and taken out large bells, which will be rung in the fogs, and that the steam whistle will be freely used in the Collins' line, in all their vessels hereafter. They have not been used hitherto, because they involved a loss of about ten horse power; but the loss will be incurred now without regard to the expense or waste of power.—New York Express.

MARRIED.—The Rev. Antoinette L. Brown, availing herself of one of the most indisputable of women's rights, has sought and found a loving mate. On the 17th inst., in the pleasant town of Carmel, N. Y., she was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Dr. James H. Merritt. Our cordial wishes for many years of wedded bliss are hers.

Daguerreotypés.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be creat.d at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel, making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various sizes, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

DEATH OF A REVOLUTIONARY PATRIOT.—One of the few remaining participants in the American Revolution has closed his earthly career the present week. Dr. William Hale, of Hollis, N. H., died on Tuesday last, at the advanced age of 92 years. The deceased was born in July, 1762. His father, Dr. John Hale, was the surgeon of Cilley's New Hampshire regiment, and the subject of this notice joined the American army in 1777. He was then a medical student, though but fifteen years of age. He continued in the army connected with the medical staff three years.—For two thirds of a century he was an esteemed physician in his native place. He was permitted to live and witness the growth and extension of that country, in whose cause he enlisted with all the ardor and enthusiasm of his early days, and towards the close of his long and useful life, his days were cheered by the bounty the nation gave to those who perilled their all in defence of its liberties.—Boston Transcript.

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S
GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thorough scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after taking one bath, nothing in the waters a fewmonths, were thoroughly restored to health. Medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous character—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a tender state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,

LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutic Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,

Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metallic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

KANSAS CLIMATE, SOIL, &c.—A letter published in the Traveller some weeks since, from an intelligent and reliable correspondent, threw some dark shades over the couleur de rose pictures generally drawn of Kansas and Nebraska. In the Philadelphia Ledger of the 17th, there is an article which is very much in the same vein with that correspondent's communication. The facts are said to be derived from a correspondent who has resided several years in the territory, and from the experience of others who have resided in it for fifteen years. Among other things the correspondent says:

"The elevated position and location of this territory, in close proximity to the Rocky Mountains, render the climate delightfully cool in summer, but in winter the cold is excessive. At the place where New Boston is to be built, and where the writer resided for years, the winds blow over the praries so coldly that men and horses exposed to the blasts are frozen to death. Mules have been found frozen to death in a standing position, in the bottom lands, among the rushes, where they go for food and shelter from the winds. It is the dampness of the atmosphere that renders the north wind so chilling in this region. A southern climate with a moist atmosphere at one period of the day, and a severely cold and freezing north wind, a few hours after, is by no means an uncommon occurrence, during the winter season."

The same informant, who has just returned from Kansas, says, that at the New England settlement (New Boston,) there was no other shelter provided for the emigrants when he left, but canvas tents; and that some of the emigrants had well nigh perished already with the cold atmosphere which prevails just before day-break. Dr. Robinson, the president of the settlement, informed the writer that they were about erecting a steam saw-mill, which would be in operation in three weeks, and that they would then have frame, instead of log houses. The Delaware Indians had promised to supply them with logs from the opposite side of the Kansas river. But the saw-mill was then at Kansas city, fifty miles distant, and the timber was to be drawn by oxen over a road that in some places presents a plane of 45 degrees of elevation; and the writer feared the mill would not be in operation before winter sets in.

The soil is represented as rich and fertile; though not superior to the prairie lands of the West. Timber, and even fuel, are scarce; but stone, suitable for building, is abundant. Springs of water are rather scarce, but water can be obtained almost anywhere by digging. The roads during dry weather are represented to be smooth and hard; but after a rain, soft and slippery; and when the frost is coming out, absolutely impassable. The air is said to be pure and wholesome; and in summer, the climate is delightful.

REPORTING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.—A reporter of a Boston evening journal, we are informed by the Traveller, learning that the Know Nothing Convention was to be held in Tremont Temple, on Wednesday, secreted himself in the baptismal tank to take secret notes of the secret proceedings. An "examining committee" ascertaining this fact, let on the water, giving the unluck eave dropper a more complete introduction to aqua pura than he had enjoyed for years past. At the same convention, another curious individual was found snugly ensconced in one of the organ pipes! Whether or no the music was "let on," to give the latter gentleman a "blow out," we have not been able to ascertain.

The funniest stories now in vogue are the original sayings of little folks, whose impressions of things are sometimes remarkable for quaintness and humor. Thus lately, as we had it from the lips of the lady herself—her little son, a roguish chap, knee high to a hole in the ground, heard her complaining at the table of the quality of the butter in market. Evening came, and he knelt and repeated the Lord's prayer; he paused after asking for his daily bread, and added, in a whisper—"Mother, hadn't I better speak for a little good butter, too?"

COLLISIONS AT SEA.—It is impossible to provide effectually against collisions at sea. Our blood runs cold to-day at the remembrance of a steamer crossing the bows of a sailing vessel that bore us to Liverpool, so near that three minutes later a collision would have been inevitable; and yet she passed like a grim phantom in a fog, a black hull and a red pipe faintly looming athwart our bows at a distance of only twice the ship's length, while in her watch our vessel was probably invisible. We heard her paddles, and the roar of the sea as it parted before her ponderous bulk; we heard the tolling of her bell as from a phantom-ship; her direction and her progress could only be guessed by sound; but we felt that invisible power that might in an instant crush and overwhelm us, drawing nearer and nearer,—while the tolling of our bell, scarcely audible above the noise of her own motion, could hardly convey to her a warning of our presence.

At length she passed in the fog—no longer a phantom—but a thing of life, urging her resistless way through the dense vapors with a fearful precision. We never knew her name or destiny. How easily might both ships, each to the other entirely unknown, have sank into the depths of the sea by unavoidable collision! But here we are, by God's mercy, to record our near escape from that which has befallen six hundred of our fellows. These possibilities are fearful to contemplate while sitting quietly in our own study; but how fearful while lying wakeful in one's berth at sea, or groping the deck in a dripping fog. And yet with all the possibilities of calamity by collisions, by storm, by iceberg, or by fire, that are inseparable from the navigation of the ocean by steam, that navigation is safer than railroad travel in the United States.—New York Independent.

PRISON PUNISHMENT, No. 2.

Patrick O'Neal is a jolly Irishman, and when he keeps out of the way of rum-shops, he lives quite happily with his wife Mary, and with the second edition of the O'Neals. But Patrick is quite in the habit of putting himself in the way of those land-sharks, the rumsellers, and of getting merry a bit at the expense of his reason; and when he does so, he gives Mary and the children the most unmerciful beatings and abuses.

The law steps in just then, and takes Pat from his fun of fury, and dooms him to the jail or house of correction, where he has very comfortable quarters for three months.

The law says not a word to Mary and the children—says not a word about them; but it passes sentence on them silently and positively, when it takes Patrick to his boarding house, the jail. The sentence of Mary and the children is, that while Patrick must have comfortable fare at the public cost, THEY must beg, or steal, or starve.

The law says nothing to that land-shark, with the bloody mite of money in his mouth; only this, that until some of his slain victims shall rise up from the dead and testify to his transgression of the law of licence, he shall be fully protected in his person and his property; and not a single soul, however blackened by the burning curse of his base business, shall tear his skin, or black his eye, or bruise his body.

Now hear me, what the law provides:

Protection for the perfect villain, and a prison for the victim of his wrongs;

A boarding house and comfortable home for him who beats his wife and little ones without a cause;

And beggary, temptations, sufferings and shame, for those entirely innocent.

A wise people make wisdom live in law; but ours is folly's blush.

O dreary dungeons! open your dread jaws to grasp the guilty, who for greedy grains corrupt the land.

O whipping post! come up for brutal men, who beat and bruise the innocent and helpless.

O generous people! give innocence protection—virtue a reward. C.

"WHERE'S THE DIFFERENCE?"—A cart load of putrid beef, on its way to market, was seized in the streets of New York one day last week. That was all right enough. Why, of course, nobody has any objections to seizing "putrid beef" and destroying it. To sell it is contrary to law, and contrary to common sense. Pounce on the man that will dare to do it! But, see here, there is some talk of making a law by which something that is sold to people to drink, which is quite as injurious to the public health, and infinitely more injurious to public morals, can be seized and destroyed in the same way. Any objections, anybody?—Exchange.

FACTORY CHILDREN AND SCHOOLS.—We recently recorded the action of the School Committee of Lawrence, in enforcing the State laws which forbid corporations, under considerable penalties, from employing children who do not attend school at least thirteen weeks in each year. The Lawrence Courier, the philanthropic editor of which journal is the Superintendent of the Schools in that city, thus states the operation of the law in several cases.

"The recent action of the School Committee, in regard to the employment of children in the mills, has resulted in a careful investigation into the ages and qualifications of their young operatives, by the agents and overseers, and a prompt discharge of all who should be at school.

The law on this subject contemplates the good both of individuals and of the public.—But as is often the case with the best of laws, it produces, in special instances, severe calamity. Thus some eight or ten orphans, who were supporting themselves by their labor, have been cast out from that support, and if help is not extended to them, will soon become houseless and homeless.

One girl who was supporting three younger sisters and brothers, has been cared for by prompt subscriptions from the Bay State. A second we have guaranteed the board of, for a limited time. The poor children have beseiged us most piteously in our official capacity, as Superintendent of Schools, to do something for them, but in that capacity, of course, we could not interfere. And now we bring the case before the generous public of Lawrence, believing that here is an opportunity to show that there is the kindest spirit towards the foreigners, that they shall not suffer in distress; that the laws shall not operate to produce individual suffering.

Let it not be said that poor, industrious orphans, turned out from earning their support, by the operations of the law among us, are forced to lose school and everything, for want of bread to eat. We shall be glad to take charge of any donations, however small, contributed for this object."

Nearly six thousand immigrants reached New York on Saturday from various ports in Europe. The ship J. A. Westervelt lost thirty out of seven hundred passengers by cholera, and on board the ship R. L. Gilchrist there were thirteen deaths from the same disease.

Capt. Carpenter, of the New York police, was severely wounded in an attempt to quell a disturbance in a bad house in that city. His assailant was George Haley, a junk dealer in Washington market, who was bailed in the sum of $1500.

LOCAL.

OLD FOGYDOM.

An unknown correspondent has just sent us the following chapter of descriptive hits at one of our best, if not oldest, institutions.—Uncle Toby confesses a liking for things fifty years old, and for personages older than that. He honors the silver-greys where they are honorable; and these special delight in punching the fire for himself, though he is not one of the firemen at the Atheneum, nor even a passenger in that carefully regulated craft.—He is permitted, now and then, however, to rummage its noble library in search of some old forgotten fact or ancient name; and hopes that enough of old fogydom will remain there to preserve all the old books and old pictures; and also to keep the building in its present form; though he don't know certainly that he should object to a little new paint and whitewash to be applied next summer.

He does not think, moreover, that we have, as a Nation, too much conservatism, but too little. We may have more than our equal share of it in New Hampshire, and especially in Portsmouth,—and in his opinion this peculiarity will be found valuable in the twelve months to come, when many reactions must be felt, resulting from fast driving in business for the five or six years past.

For the Morning Chronicle.

MY DEAR FRIEND:—

As we were passing through the town of Portsmouth the other day, examining its public buildings, we thought you might like to hear from a people who remember you so kindly, and whose habits and character you know so well. A curious little town it is. If Young America were triumphant elsewhere, Old Fogydom would find a safe retreat where it could die a lingering death, in Portsmouth. The ancient and honorable gentry of the place especially delight in the things of fifty years ago—not that they were ever good, or as good now as they ever were—but simply because they are the things of fifty years ago. This remarkable predilection for the antique, without regard to value, is shown in the Athenæum, a building used as a library and reading room for the last quarter of a century. The Reading room especially has been the favorite resort of old Fogydom for twenty years or more. Some have grown old indeed at this depot of news—for to some it has not only been a beloved haupt, but a home—and we know not how many a gentle dame has found its attractions greater than her own. It is pleasant to see its denizens gathered in its shade of a Summer afternoon, or warming themselves in the sun in the Autumn, on the sidewalk, easy men that they are,—and what more agreeable than a place where a man can punch the fire in winter, without a reproof. Here, old fogydom meets to discuss the freight, prices at Spring Market, a little State and National politics, the character and prospect of those outside of fogydom, and now and then a bit of scandal seasons the gossip. The politics of such a place are of course conservative;—indeed, the little democracy is decidedly loud and afraid of itself. But it must be confessed that no one feels obliged to define his position, so that the town, to say nothing farther, remains in blissful ignorance of the fact whether these worthies belong to the old Hartford conventionists, the pussy cat politicians of Monroe's era, or the wonderful whiggery of modern times who land the reciprocity treaty. Indeed, the platforms of the Whigs and Democrats now are so new that men of such gravity cannot be expected to be over ready to mount them. A few third party men there are, a few propagandists of their own freedom and every body's else, but though there are wonderful political friendships outside these walls, the sentiment within is decidedly that of Mrs. Malaprop, "You can't be two gentlemen at once."

But the room itself is a remarkable specimen of Fogydom. Twenty-five years of use and misuse has done its work on the paint, the walls, the very wood, as well as on the persons of its frequenters. Indeed, the old lady who diligently pursues her work on the walls is beginning to look a little too young for the chairs and the John Andersons in them. It is curious to observe the popularity of different papers on the well worn floor; not always, however, the popularity of commendation. The foot prints of those who have pondered on the isms of the Tribune, are plainly visible. More have sought the sage but conservative opinions of the Advertiser, the sensible but somewhat one-sided Courier, the dubious Courier & Inquirer, and the astute Intelligencer, while the reliable Journal of Commerce has had still greater admiration. But it is certain that the Atlas has been a constant friend and confidential adviser. None have presented such flattering hopes and prospects in times of disaster and defeat, and none have blown such a triumphant blast of victory. While the Atlas supports the Whig party it can never perish, and whatever the Atlas asserts and the Journal of Commerce endorsed, passes for law in this sanctuary of letters. Many years ago in the days of Webb supremacy, some innovators somewhat secretly put the Courier & Enquirer in the place of the Journal of Commerce; but that day an unsuspecting fogie related a startling announcement of the Atlas as fact, on the authority, as he supposed, of the Journal of Commerce. What was his amazement and anger to find he had only been quoting the Atlas and Courier & Enquirer, instead of the Atlas and Journal of Commerce. His wrath was not to be appeased until the beloved Journal was again replaced on the form, never again to be disturbed. But the Post is clearly the greatest favorite, for the first floor before it is already worn through; and the prospect now is that the readers for the next half century, if there are any, will be lowered into the cellar. We therefore entreat Mr. Shillaber to remember in future how detrimental his raciness may be to the understandings of old Fogydom. Not that the Post is always perused by way of approval, but in the spirit of pugnaciousness; a sturdy antagonist is sought, and like Dicken's showman, nothing so revives the fainting spirit of Fogydom, as pokeing up the bears in the columns of the Post. A few who like old topers sip their ale by the fire, regale themselves with the spicy little Newburyport Herald, while the table is full of the state and town newspapers—itself a truly venerable bearer of news. In truth we discover nothing new about the well built and airy room, for even the few pictures on the wall show the marks of time, (except the gas.) Spectacles and lamps of oil don't agree, and there is a lingering of the proverbial fickleness of young men about Fogydom that it prefers a new flame to the old. We have ventured to this length in our account of the Portsmouth Reading Room and its occupants, as we feel that it must rank soon with the bygones. The floor is wearing, is worn out, so are the chairs and tables, and we have no hope of a renovation. There they sit, embodiments of the one "let alone" idea, and all who come within their influence, straightway become imbued with the same sentiment. So much so, that we are forcibly reminded of the famous old woman who kept the tavern of Heidilberg, who grew so fat that when her husband died, the next keeper was obliged to marry her, as she could not be got out.

☞ A brilliant entertainment is expected at Mr. Lamprey's Exhibition, in Congress Hall this evening. There's a fine chance for a good time, for young and old.

THE CONVENTION of the Independent Democracy of this State, will be held at Concord, on Thursday next, 26th inst., to make all necessary nominations and arrangements, preparatory to the approaching campaign.

LOW WATER.—Lake Winnipiseogee is now so low that the boat "Dover," hauled off the first of the week, and the "Lady of the Lake" will henceforth do no more in passenger transportation than run three times a week to and from Wolfborough.

REV. DR. ARNETT, of Wisconsin, has just had a life insurance of $5,000 secured to him by the congregation of St. Paul's Church. There has been no better charity devised than this—if it be not rather justice. A clergyman is rigidly and rightly required to forego the chance of making a fortune: he is seldom permitted to buy on quite so advantageous terms as other men in his humble circumstances: he is expected to keep open house, which cuts him off from the possibility of "laying up much". At present, his position suffers with that of all salaried men, whose income has not increased in proportion to the increased expense of every thing. The saddest thought about his situation is for the future of his family, accustomed to live comfortably, move in good society, and enjoy the privileges of the more fortunate families around them. How beautiful to see an attached church relieving their minister of this bitter burden; saying to him,—"Go on cheerily with your labors; we assure you your children shall not starve. Give to us your whole strength, and we will see that those who lean upon you shall not be sacrificed." We think the increased efficiency of labors relieved from this galling anxiety will amply repay any intelligent society for the effort. And, as we ponder, it seems rather the payment of a debt than the conferring some unprecedented favor rather preparing on the layman's part a necessary pre-requisite to the fidelity of the minister.—Transcript.

A subscription is going on in New York for the relief of the family of the Rev. Mr. Hanson, who obtained such a notoriety for his writings in regard to the "Lost Bourbon." His sudden death has left a young family in destitute circumstances. Dr. Hawks, in his funeral sermon upon the character of the deceased, stated that Mr. Hanson was related to Oliver Goldsmith. It would seem that the pecuniary circumstances of the deceased resembled those of the "Vicar of Wakefield."

KANSAS EMIGRATION.—The Kansas League despatched another train of emigrants, about 200 strong, from New York for Kansas on Tuesday.

At Jersey City within a few days, eleven hundred complaints against liquor sellers have been entered.

CAPT. LUCE.—A public reception of Capt. Luce took place at Getty's Hotel, at Yonkers, by the citizens of that place, on Saturday, and was largely attended.

HEALTH OF SAVANNAH.—A despatch dated October 23, from Messrs. Padelford, Fay & Co., of Savannah, states that a white frost has appeared there, and advises absentees to return.

A son of Capt. Luce—Robert—entered as a student at the Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y., on the day the Arctic was lost. He was confident the vessel which his father commanded was safe, and that in a few days she would be heard of or come into port, disabled at worst. When the dreadful intelligence of the Arctic's loss was communicated to him, he was so overcome that he immediately became insensible and dropped to the ground.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The packet ship West Point, which arrived at this port to-day from Liverpool, reports the death by cholera, on the passage, of eighteen of her passengers, and two of the crew.

A violent collision occurred to-day between the steamship Prometheus and the Williamsburg ferry steamer Seneca. The latter was badly damaged, and the greatest excitement prevailed on board; but, fortunately, beyond a few bruises, no one was hurt.

Failure of the Balance Dock Launch.—An attempt was made this morning to launch the great balance dry dock just finished by Mr. Webb, the ship builder, but it proved abortive. Another endeavor will be made to-morrow.

THE ROBBERIES ON FREIGHT CARS.—Yesterday afternoon, constable Rufus R. Cook went to Charlestown to procure a warrant to search the house of Ira McCornell, in Reading, for goods stolen from freight trains on the Worcester and Western Railroads. In company with Deputy Sheriff Nichols, of Charlestown, constable Cook proceeded to Reading, and found in McCornell's house, a quantity of clothing, furs, furnishing goods, &c., to the value of over $300, which the officer seized and brought to this city. Last evening, constable Cook arrested Frank Jerrah, a brakeman on the Worcester road, at his house on Albany street, who confessed to having stolen articles from freight trains. About four o'clock this morning, the officers attached to station No. 4, arrested at the Worcester freight depot, four brakemen, named Aron G. Rowell, Charles W. H. Jackson, James McKeen, and John Stevens, all of whom are implicated in robbing freight trains. The six persons were committed to jail, to await an examination, but it is understood that McCornell will be used as a witness.

These depredations appear to have been very extensive, and it is hoped the rogues will be ferreted out.—Boston Journal.

LAWRENCE'S

CHERRY PECTORAL.

W. F. LAWRENCE: DEAR SIR,—

It gives me pleasure to state that your CHERRY PECTORAL has given utmost satisfaction wherever it has been used. Some of the most distinguished physicians of the state, are in the habit of purchasing it in bulk, and profess themselves highly gratified with its remedial effects. I can recommend it with confidence as a very superior medicine, and have no doubt that it will earn for itself an enviable reputation. E. H. ROLLINS.

CONCORD, Sept. 20, 1854.

Mr. Rollins is one of the most extensive dealers in drugs and medicines in New England. As the Cherry Pectoral was first introduced in Concord, we subjoin the certificate of John F. Brown, formerly bookseller and publisher, and now city clerk of Concord, N. H., our former agent:

This certifies that I have been an agent for the sale of the medicine, now extensively known as Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral; that so far as I know it has given good satisfaction; that I have repeatedly sold it to physicians of the city; that I am acquainted with the manufacturer of the Pectoral; that he is a physician of good repute, and that I believe him qualified to conduct the complex operations necessary for the manufacture of this medicine. JOHN F. BROWN.

CONCORD, N. H. April 6, 1854.

The above are but few of the many testimonials in favor of Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral. It is used under the sanction and approbated at Dartmouth College by Prof. Dixi Crosby, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty of the N. E. states. It is EXCELLENT REPARTEE.—The Rev. Dr. M'C——, minister of Douglas in Clydesdale, was one day dining in a large party where then Hon. Henry Erskine and some other lawyers were present. A great dish of cresses being presented after dinner, Dr. M'C——, who was extravagantly fond of vegetables, helped himself much more largely than any other person, and as he ate with his fingers, with a peculiar voracity of manner, Mr. Erskine was struck with the idea that he resembled Nebuchadnezzar in his state of condemnation. Resolved to give him a bit for the apparent grossness of his taste and manner of eating, the wit addressed him with, "Dr. M'C——, ye bring me in mind of the great king Nebuchadnezzar;" and the company were beginning to titter at the ludicrous allusion; when the reverend vegetable devourer replied, "Ay! do I mind ye o' Nebuchadnezzar? That'll be because I'm eating among the brutes!"

GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoro' scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.

Medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutive Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,
Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metallic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the production of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

MODERN CHURCH MUSIC.—Mr. Doesticks has communicated to the Detroit Advertiser some of his experience in New York. Having exhausted the amusements of the theatre, the museum, the opera, and the concerts, he tried the church. The following is his account of the music:

Pretty soon, music—organ—sometimes grand and solemn, but generally fast and lively enough for a contra dance. (B. D. said the player got a big salary to show off the organ, and draw a big house. He commenced to play Old Hundred. (Damphol suggests ancient century.) At first, majestic as it should be, but soon his left hand began to get unruly among the bass notes, then the right cut up a few monkey shines among the treble; left threw in a large assortment of quavers, right led off with a grand flourish and a few variations; left struggled manfully to keep up, but soon gave out, dead beat, and after that went back to first principles and hammered away religiously at Old Hundred in spite of the antics of its fellow; right struck up a march, marched into a quick step, quick step into a gallop; left still kept at Old Hundred; right put in all sorts of fantastic extras to entice the left from its sense of propriety; left unmoved; right put in a few bars of a popular waltz; left wavers a little; right strikes up a favorite polka; left evidently yielding, right dashes into a jig; left now fairly deserts its colors and goes over to the enemy, and both commence an animated hornpipe, leaving poor Old Hundred to take care of itself. At length, with a crash, a squeak, a rush, a roar, a rumble and an expiring groan, the overture concluded and service began.

At length, with another varietta upon the organ, and all the concentrated praise and thanksgiving of the congregation, by four people up stairs, the service concludes. I thought from the manner of this last performance, each member of the choir imagined the songs of praise would never get to heaven if he didn't give them a personal boost, in the shape of an extra yell.

IMPORTANT FACT.—A writer in the New York Evening Post boldly and flatly denies the public chimera that a sinking vessel makes a whirlpool, and instances one whereon he was, which, spite of the folly of old sailors, went quietly down, so that the crew were able to step from it aboard the boats without wetting their shoes. The writer asserts, positively, that had the nautical nonsense about the imaginary whirlpool made by sinking ships, been dispensed with on the occasion of the loss of the Arctic, all aboard might have quietly waited, and, entering the boats and a raft, been saved.

"Establish it," says the writer in question, "that a ship sinks slowly, without this great convulsion, and you will give nerve to all. In the case of the Arctic, with calm weather, the land near, and the ship just in the track of vessels, had the boats all remained near her, and the attention of all turned to making a raft, all might have been saved. A raft half lashed inspired no confidence; but how different would it have been with four or five large boats in attendance, to keep the raft together, restore confidence, and put after vessels in sight, or to land for help?"

DONATION.—The Boston Journal states that the Hon. Samuel Appleton left a fund of $200,000 which the executors of his will were directed to distribute at their discretion, for scientific, literary, religious or charitable purposes. On Saturday last the executors transferred stocks belonging to this fund, to the par value of $25,000, to the Boston Athenæum. The interest of the donation is to be applied to the purchase of books.

MR. GUPPY, a man of wealth, living in Corinth, Me., has confessed to the robbing of the store of H. K. Dexter & Co., and most of the goods have been found and returned. Mr. Guppy lost his wife some three weeks since. A brother of his has been in the Insane Hospital some time.

YOUTHFUL TRAVELLERS.—The steamer Penobscot, Capt. Flowers, from Bangor, brought to this city yesterday, the Rev. John Sawyer, of Garland, Me., aged 99 years, and one of the deacons of the church in Garland, aged 75 years. "Father Sawyer," as every body down east calls him, is the oldest minister in Maine, and has long been distinguished for his useful and assiduous labors in the ministry. Though now well stricken in years, he retains much of his early vigor, being able to preach once or twice on a Sabbath, without inconvenience, and in a voice that would probably fill the largest meeting house in this city. Mr. Sawyer is now on his way to preach, by appointment, in the town where he began his ministry in New Hampshire some seventy-five years ago.

The venerable deacon who accompanies Father Sawyer, has lived on the Penobscot fifty years. In 1804, he ascended the river, and took up his abode in that wilderness, and has never been down to the mouth of the river from that time to the present trip.—Boston Traveller.

FACT AND PHILOSOPHY.

The Dover Gazette of Oct. 21, says:

1. The present position of the democratic party in the northern States is by no means unforseen, though far less favorable with reference to present successes than is common or desirable.

2. The election returns from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, are by no means favorable to the continued ascendency of democratic principles. So far as returns have come in, the results are decidedly against the administration.

3. Changes of party ascendency are incident to a popular government like our own.

4. The mass of the people in whom the sovereign power resides, may be deceived, and under the influence of delusion be led to act in direct opposition to their own best interests. They often are deceived by the baseless clamors of unprincipled demagogues, who seek only their own personal advancement.

5. We, therefore, venture the prophecy, that whatever may be our reverses as a party, the very fanaticism of the opposition will produce a reaction, which will bring down its various clans in irretrievable defeat, and place the democratic party on a more permanent basis than it has ever before stood upon.

6. Since the foundation of our government, the democratic principle has never suffered defeat.

Will the reader please compare No. 2 with No. 6. The latter asserts that the democratic principle never has been defeated under our federal government: the former seems to intimate that it is suffering a defeat just now. Yet the writer did not mean to contradict himself,—and would not have done so, if he had known the proper distinction between the democratic party, and democratic principles.

He has made the distinction, in No. 5;—and if he had made it throughout, he might have summed up his statements in these few words, viz.: Democratic principles have prevailed, but the democratic party is defeated.

The prediction, or prophecy, in No. 5, we think very likely to be fulfilled, in the future triumph of the democratic party, or rather of a democratic party, or one bearing that name. But we do not believe any thing about the permanent basis of any party; because as the writer truly says, in No. 3, "changes of party ascendency are incident to a government like our own." And also, because, as he says in No. 4, no less truly, the people are "often deceived by demagogues."

Now we profess to be ardently attached to the democratic principle, viz., that the People should govern, rather than any Aristocracy or Monarchy. Yet we believe, with the writer in the Dover Gazette, that the people are sometimes in error, and do wrong.

We believe finally, in a principle, higher and purer than that of democracy, aristocracy, or autocracy, viz., a principle of Honesty and Fairness, without which parties are mere traps, and platforms are but rotten wood, hay and stubble. With rulers of tolerable honesty, the people may be trusted without much fear; and when, as we read above in No. 4, they are for a time deceived by the dishonest, we always look forward with hope, to a reaction, such as is spoken of in No. 5, which shall not so much restore any party, as arrest and confirm a principle.

WATCHES vs. TAR AND FEATHERS.

We have barely stated the fact, that a portion of the people of Ellsworth, Maine, have recently stripped, robbed, tarred and feathered, a Roman Priest named Bapst, in revenge for some injury, real or supposed, which he had done there.

Now, per contra, some citizens of Bangor, where Bapst is located, have given him a fine gold watch, and sent him the following letter:

BANGOR, Oct. 19, 1854.

SIR:—The undersigned learn with regret, that the lawless portion of the inhabitants of Ellsworth, claiming the proud title of American citizens, on Saturday last, made a wanton and unprovoked attack upon your person, destroyed your clothing and robbed you of your watch and a sum of money. From the expressions that fell from the mob while engaged in their work, the motive that impelled the act was doubtless hostility and persecution of the Catholic church, and an adopted citizen. Although not agreeing with you in the tenets of the faith you profess, and of which we are happy to know you are an ornament, we are unwilling to see any man proscribed for worshiping God according to the dictates of his own conscience. We claim the privilege to ourselves and desire it may be extended to all others.

The spirit that dictated the insult to you should be rebuked, and we believe there is but one opinion among the citizens of this city upon the outrage you have suffered.

As the evidence of our own, we respectfully present you with a watch in place of that taken from you by the citizens of Ellsworth, transmitted herewith by the hand of A. Hayford, Esq.

We do not see how the conduct of the Ellsworth people can be successfully defended: on the contrary, they are clearly guilty of very high crimes and misdemeanors, and exposed to fines and imprisonment in consequence. We have wondered what it was, that provoked the votes in Ellsworth town meeting, and finally the tar and feathers; as we never knew any such things to be done without some provocation, real or fancied. At last we have a hint of the matter, from the Ellsworth Herald, which says:

"The nature and history of this crusade is too familiar with our readers to require any review in detail. All remember his efforts to banish the Bible from the public schools; no one can have forgotten his insulting petition to the School Committee, wherein he pronounced the Bible "the most pernicious of all poisons for the corruption of the faith and morals of the faithful!" and finally, that it "contains hundreds and thousands of religious errors called by Saint Paul, DAMNABLE HERESIES!!" Neither can any one have forgotten the vexatious law-suit in which he has involved the town, and which is still pending. And if any one has forgotten, he will be reminded by the tax collector that SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS have already been voted by the town to defray the expense of that suit and place it upon the record that the descendents of Revolutionary Sires have a right to use the Bible in their free schools."

The editor of the Herald, after giving some account of the manner in which many of the people of the village had been grossly assaulted by Irish Catholics of the place, and himself especially, gives the following:

"After this quiet was restored, and fully impressed with the belief that good order could alone be maintained by the absence of the Jesuit Bapst, at a legal Town Meeting of the voters of Ellsworth, called for the purpose of seeing if the town would defray the expenses of the vexatious law-suit before alluded to, the following Preamble and Resolution was read, passed UNANIMOUSLY, and as Town Clerk we entered it upon the records of the town:

"Whereas, we have good reason to believe that we are indebted to one John Bapst, S. J., Catholic Priest, for the luxury of the lawsuit now enjoyed by our School Committee, therefore Resolved, That should the said Bapst ever show himself again in Ellsworth, that we manifest to him our gratitude for his kindly interference with our public schools, and his efforts to banish therefrom the Holy Bible, by procuring for him and trying on an entire suit of new clothes, such as cannot be found at the shop of any tailor, and that when thus apparelled, we present him with a free ticket to leave Ellsworth upon the first rail-road operation that may go into effect."

After defending the newspaper attacks on the people of Ellsworth, the Herald goes on to say:

"Now, let any one take the matter home, and imagine themselves insulted and abused as have been the people of Ellsworth by an intriguing Jesuit; a wretch whose cruelty has driven to despair at least one woman, who never did aught against him; a cold blooded villian who cursed the poor woman in Belfast, and caused her to abandon the husband of her love because a protestant; a scoundrel who would well adorn the torture room of the holy Inquisition of his holy church; imagine all this and then suppose him to return to the place from whence public opinion had driven him, at a time when the whole community were in deep anxiety about the Ellsworth Bank, and have the impudence to assert that the trouble had all happened on account of his having cursed Mr. Tisdale, the President, who was also one of the School Committee. Let any American take this home to his own town, and we venture to assert, that no matter what his judgment might teach, his feelings would prompt him to say "put him through."

SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.—Dr. John Rae, who has been an explorer of the Northern Regions, ever since 1849, gives the following account of the information he has lately gathered from the Esquimaux Indians respecting Sir John Franklin and his party. His letter also contains an accurate description of the articles found, leaving no shadow of doubt of the truth of the sad story. The substance of the information, obtained at various times and from various sources, was as follows:—

"In the spring, four winters past, (spring, 1850,) a party of white men, amounting to about forty, were seen travelling southward over the ice, and dragging boats with them, by some Esquimaux who were killing seals on the north shore of King William's Land, which is a large island named Kei-ik-tak by the Esquimaux. None of the party could speak the native language intelligibly, but by signs the natives were made to understand that their ships or ship had been crushed by ice, and that the "whites" were now going to where they expected to find deer to shoot. From the appearance of the men, all of whom, except one officer (chief) looked thin, they were then supposed to be getting short of provisions, and they purchased a small seal from the natives.

At a later date, the same season, but previous to the disruption of the ice, the bodies of about thirty white persons were discovered on the continent, and five on an island near it, about a long day's journey (say 35 to 40 miles) to the N. W. of a large stream, which can be no other than Back's Great Fish River, (named by the Esquimaux Out-koo-hi-ca-lik,) as its description, and that of the low shore in the neighborhood of Point Ogle and Montreal Island agree exactly with that of Sir George Back. Some of the bodies had been buried (probably those of the first victims of famine,) some were in a tent or tents, others under a boat that had been turned over to form a shelter, and several lay scattered about in different directions. Of those found on the island, one was supposed to have been an officer, as he had a telescope strapped over his shoulder, and his double-barrelled gun lay underneath him.

From the mutilated state of many of the corpses, and the contents of the kettles, it is evident that our miserable countrymen had been driven to the last resource—cannibalism—as a means of prolonging life.

There appears to have been an abundant stock of ammunition, as the powder was emptied in a heap on the ground by the natives, out of the kegs or cases containing it, and a quantity of ball and shot was found below high water mark, having been left on the ice close to the beach. There must have been a number of watches, telescopes, compasses, guns, (several double-barrelled,) &c., all of which appear to have been broken up, as I saw pieces of these different articles with the Esquimaux, and, together with some silver spoons and forks, purchased as many as I could obtain. A list of the most important of these I enclose, with a rough pen-and-ink sketch of the events and initials on the forks and spoons. The articles themselves shall be handed over to the Secretary of the Hon. H. B. & Co. on my arrival in London.

None of the Esquimaux with whom I conversed had seen the "whites," nor had they ever been at the place where the dead were found, but had their information from those who had been there, and those who had seen the party when alive.

FAREWELL.—The World's Crisis of October 25th, says:

"Finally, Brethren, Farewell." As this is our last number of the Crisis, I would like to say a word by way of taking leave of friends who are identified with the Advent Message; but time fails. God is at work wonderfully in connection with the last message on time—divine power moves the wheels both in the spiritual and political world.

In the spring we moved on definite time, proclaiming to the world that the Advent of our Lord would take place in 1854, and the world moved to arms; but while this sealing message was going, the winds of war were in some measure held, that the servants might be sealed. We now move on specific time in the year, and the battle commences in good earnest.

We intend to strike off 25,000 copies of this number, and as many more as needed while our means hold out.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—In the case James M. Cook vs. Stephen Brown, which has occupied the attention of the Court for the past week, the evidence was concluded on Tuesday morning, when the case was argued for the Deft. by Mr. Christie of Dover. He was followed the same evening, and Wednesday forenoon, by Hon. Geo. W. Morrison of Manchester for the Plff. The Jury were then instructed by Judge Morrison, and sent out to determine their verdict, which will probably be returned this morning.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION LECTURES.—It will be seen by an advertisement in another column, that the first lecture of the course will be delivered by Edwin P. Whipple, Esq., of Boston, one of the most celebrated essayists in this country, to be followed on the same evening by a Poem, by James T. Fields, Esq., of Boston. The Lecture Committee had hoped to procure the services of Hon. Rufus Choäte for the opening lecture, and received strong assurances from the gentleman that he would accede to their request. A few weeks since the committee received a letter from Mr. Choate, from which we extract the following:

I cannot possibly have the honor of opening the course for such a society, and with such a list of lecturers as you present. All I am able to promise, is, should health permit, to fall in somewhere in the ranks, and so be safe by being undistinguished.

Being determined to offer unusual attractions on the opening night, the committee announce a lecture and a poem for the first evening, which is a novelty in this vicinity, although the custom in our large cities. It will be remembered that only one week will elapse before the commencement of the course, and but few tickets remain unsold.

NAVY YARD.—The Boston Courier has the following:

"A correspondent at Portsmouth, who understands that the Boston people want to get rid of the Navy Yard at Charlestown, and who desires that the institution and its accompaniments should be transferred to the Portsmouth station, is informed that there is no present prospect of the surrendering of Charlestown as a naval station,—it is too important in its position, and for various other reasons, to be discontinued, at least at present,—but when the station is given up here, Portsmouth, from its excellence of harbor and facilities of ship-building, is the place to which its movable property should be transferred.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The steamship Washington, Capt. Lines, from Bremen via Southampton, has just arrived. She brings 250 passengers, and London dates to the 11th inst.

The Washington left Bremen on the 11th inst. Among her passengers is Baron Gerwolt, the new Russian minister at Washington; Baron de Bodisco, bearer of despatches to the Russian legation at Washington from St. Petersburg; J. H. Porter, Jr., attachee to the United States legation at Berlin.

The Collins steamship Pacific had arrived at Liverpool. On the 5th she passed a screw steamship, supposed the Ottawa, from Quebec for Liverpool.

The U. S. steam frigate San Jacinto still remained in dry dock at Southampton.

WAR NEWS.—No official despatches have yet been published in relation to the battle of the Alma. The English lost 2000 men, killed and wounded, and the French 1400. Nothing but the want of cavalry prevented this decisive victory from being turned into a complete rout of the Russians. The allies had changed the plan of operations, and would attack Sebastopol from the South, where it was found to be weakest. The base of operations is Balaclava, where the cavalry and siege artillery are landed.

Marshal St. Arnaud is dead, and Gen. Canrobert is now in chief command of the French army.

VIENNA, Tuesday evening. On the 29th September, between 120 and 130 heavy guns were discharked at Balaclava.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 5.—Six thousand of the allies have taken possession of Cape Chersonne.

Prince Gortschakoff is ill.

There is a great concentration of Turkish troops at Matschin. Omar Pasha will immediately commence operations against the Russians in Bessarabia.

PARIS, Tuesday.—A despatch from Vienna states that a despatch from Menschikoff, received that day, announces that the allies had established themselves at Balaclava and Cape Chersonne, and that no attack had been made upon Sebastopol up to the 3d of October.

The 3 per cents closed to-day at 76f 25, and the 4 1-2's at 98f 70 for the end of the month.

LATER.—A despatch from Marseilles of the 10th, announces that orders have been given to receive the remains of Marshal St. Arnaud with all the honors that were paid him upon his departure for Constantinople. The farewell which he had addressed to the army, dated at his bivouac, on the 21st of September, had arrived at Toulon. He says that, overcome by the cruel disease against which he had so long struggled, he is obliged to resign his command. He pays the highest compliment to his successor, Gen. Canrobert, who, says the Marshal, will pursue the victory of the Alma, and will have the good fortune which I had imagined for myself, and which I envy him, that of leading you to Sebastopol.

The news of the death of Marshal St. Arnaud reached Paris and London on Sunday, the 8th.

After the battle of Alma, the Russians burnt all the villages which they passed through in their flight. They left about 6000 wounded behind them.

Sebastopol was completely invested, and a body of 5000 French and Turkish cavalry was to have left Varna on the 28th September.

The Sinai arrived at Marseilles on Sunday evening. Advices to Oct. 9 were at Constantinople. The allied army arrived at Balaclava on the 26th, and the post was surrendered on the 28th. 1000 Russians, who were escorting a convoy of munitions of war, had been made prisoners. Menschikoff himself narrowly escaped capture. The garrison of Anapa, which has already been reported burnt by the Russians—15,000 strong—was on its way to Sebastopol.

BERLIN, Sunday evening.—The following official despatch was published at St. Petersburg on the 6th:—Prince Menschikoff has advanced his army to the North Fort. The French have left the North side without a contest, and advanced to join the English, who have landed at Balaclava.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.—Cotton—The sales for three days have been 17,000 bales. The demand was but moderate, and prices are quotably unchanged.

Flour was in moderate demand. Western Canal was quoted at 33s, Ohio 35s. Holders of Indian Corn were pressing it upon the market, and the rates obtained were 1s lower; yellow and white quoted at 39s; mixed 37s.

Consols closed at 95 1-4 a 95 3-8. The money market was tight.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

Private despatches state that great demoralization prevailed in Sevastopol. The allies had destroyed an aqueduct which supplied the fortress with water.

The inhabitants of Odessa had given a pledge that they would burn the place rather than allow it to fall into the hands of the allies.

After the battle of the Alma, the carriage of Menschikoff was taken, together with his private correspondence and about 50,000 f, by the French.

The city of Memel, in Prussia, has been visited by a destructive fire. The loss is stated at £2,000,000, and owing to the large destruction of tallow by the fire, that article had advanced 1s 6d in the London market. Hemp was also considerably dearer.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE

ARRIVAL OF THE NIAGARA.

HALIFAX, Oct. 25.

The steamship Niagara, Capt. Lang, from Liverpool 14th inst., arrived here at an early hour this morning.

Up to the latest dates no impression had been made upon Sevastopol.

Prince Menschikoff kept the field on the North, and expected daily to be joined by Gen. Ostensacken and Prince Gortschakoff, who were at Perekop.

It is confirmed that Menschikoff sunk seven line-of-battle ships to defend the entrance of the harbor of Sebastopol.

It is said that the energetic notes from France and England have caused Prussia to express a willingness to act with Austria.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 14.—The cotton market continues dull, but the leading houses continue the quotations sent by the Africa. The demand has been moderate, and the sales of the week are 39,000 bales.

Breadstuffs firm. Flour in good demand, at an advance of 1s 6d from previous Friday. Western Canal Flour, 31 a 34s; Ohio, 36s. Wheat, white, quoted as high as 10s 7d.

YOUNG HOLLAND.—It is said that the father of Stuart Holland, who served the signal gun of the Arctic till the last, still clings to the hope that by some such miracle as saved Capt. Luce, his son has also escaped the perils of the steamer's wreck. Conversing with a friend in Washington the other day, he exclaimed, "My boy is not lost; I will not give him up." "But," he continued, "better a thousand times that he should perish in the manly discharge of his duty, than have saved a craven life by such cowardice and selfishness as marked the conduct of many of the crew."

In Savannah on the arrival of the Florida steamer, while the fever was at its height, as the passengers one by one came down the gangway, they were stopped by a wag of a mechanic, who with foot rule in hand, proceeded to measure them for their coffins, with the simple inquiry "whether they would have them made of pine or mahogany."

The New York Evening Post pertinently remarks that "the South is a spoiled child, which if refused what it asks for, always threatens to throw itself down stairs. The North is a foolish nurse, who believes it will fulfil its threat, becomes frightened, and fussily goes and gets for it whatever it may fancy it wants."

"Honest industry seeks only its own reward."

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel,

making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated, and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder, with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Pedunzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1836) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. They were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

By Royal Letters Patent

HERTS BROTHERS

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

MANUFACTORY, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

May be had, Wholesale, at the Manufacturers' DEPOTS,

J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have been so many as to make it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., the note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

THE BIBLE AND WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

A Woman's Rights Convention was recently held in Philadelphia, during which the position of the Bible on the question of Woman's Rights was canvassed. The following, from the Philadelphia "Ledger," reports the views of Wm. Lloyd Garrison:—

Afternoon Session.—When the Convention reassembled, Wm. Lloyd Garrison made a long speech in reply to Mr. Grew's argument upon the scriptural authority for the inequality of the sexes. He said, as regards the majority of the Convention it was a matter of but little importance as to the quotations made, as they had gone over the ground and they placed their cause upon the decrees of Nature. They had long known that man and woman are equal in sight of God, and that they were bound by the same ties of life, and have no taste for the discussion of the dry texts. But the mass of the people believe that the Bible comes from God, and that if that book decrees it, that settles the question, though they would be converts to Woman's Rights were it not for the Bible difficulty. But why go to the Bible to settle the question, when we have, by the Declaration of Independence ignored that book? That declaration of the equality and inalienability of the rights of man included the whole human race.

The Bible, he contended, never settled any question, but had filled the world with Ishmaelites; each man's hand being against his neighbor's in the theological discussions growing out of the various interpretations given to quotations. The speaker contended that the human soul was greater than any book—the soul sits in judgment on every book. If there is truth in the Bible, we take it—if error, we discard it. In this country, the Bible had been used to support slavery and capital punishment, while in the old countries, it had been used to sustain all manner of tyranny and persecution. We must take things independently; we find women endowed with capacities, and it was of no importance what book denied her the possession of them.

Does Mr. Garrison believe that the Bible supports slavery? Does he believe that its doctrines tend to the oppression of woman? If he does, why does he read it? If he does not, why does he play the desperate game of brag with God and his Truth. Let the mass of the people believe otherwise concerning the Bible than Mr. Garrison, in the above report, affirms they believe, and social ruin is at once triumphant. The history of the world presents multiplied illustrations of the utter oppression and outer darkness of the people who have not had the Bible; or having it, have looked upon it as Mr. Garrison pretends to look upon it. It is pitiful to behold a man uttering sentiments, which the sober and charitable convictions of his friends and enemies, regard as mere brag and fustian, and not in any wise the sentiments of an honorable, truth loving, or sane person. E.

[We must doubt the correctness of the report, in relation to the Declaration of Independence.—Ed. Chron.]

LAWRENCE'S
CHERRY PECTORAL.

W. F. LAWRENCE: DEAR SIR,—

It gives me pleasure to state that your CHERRY PECTORAL has given utmost satisfaction wherever it has been used. Some of the most distinguished physicians of the state, are in the habit of purchasing it in bulk, and profess themselves highly gratified with its remedial effects. I can recommend it with confidence as a very superior medicine, and have no doubt that it will earn for itself an enviable reputation. E. H. ROLLINS.

CONCORD, Sept. 20, 1854.

Mr. Rollins is one of the most extensive dealers in drugs and medicines in New England. As the Cherry Pectoral was first introduced in Concord, we subjoin the certificate of John F. Brown, formerly bookseller and publisher, and now city clerk of Concord, N. H., our former agent:

This certifies that I have been an agent for the sale of the medicine, now extensively known as Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral; that so far as I know it has given good satisfaction; that I have repeatedly sold it to physicians in quantity; that I am acquainted with the manufacturer of the Pectoral; that he is a physician of good repute, and that I believe him qualified to conduct the complex operations necessary for the manufacture of this medicine. JOHN F. BROWN.

CONCORD, N. H. April 6, 1854.

The above are but few of the many testimonials in favor of Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral. It is used under the sanction and approbated at Dartmouth College by Prof. Dixi Crosby, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty of the N. E. states. It is

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1854.

NEW YORK.—The quarrel between the two sections of the Whig party in New York is as fierce and bitter as any "Hard" or "Soft" feud which ever raged among the Democrats of the Empire State. The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, which is said to speak the sentiments of Mr. Fillmore, says of the Whig candidate for Governor:

Myron H. Clark, a man of inferior talents, deficient in education, and most of whose experience in public life was acquired in discharging the office of County Sheriff, was put in nomination by the Syracuse convention in September, for the important and responsible post of Governor of the State of New York—a post of great respectability, and demanding character, ability, information and political experience. No man in the State, whose opinion is worth regarding, and who is willing to express it, will say that this M. H. Clark aforesaid was nominated on account of his eminent fitness for the office, or any other reason whatever than because he was the leading advocate of the liquor law which Gov. Seymour vetoed.

The Commercial is not much more complimentary towards Mr. Raymond, the Whig candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and declares that the ticket is not a Whig ticket,—that its most powerful and influential supporter is the New York Tribune, a paper which spit on the Whig platform before the last Presidential election, and formally and in set terms renounced the Whig party immediately afterwards. The editor of the Tribune scouts and derides the idea that there is any longer a Whig party, and writes editorials in his raciest style to prove that "fusion" is the only Northern politics for the future, and asserts that for some time it has been "clear enough to all discerning vision that old party distinctions were superceded and unmeaning."—With such a split in the Whig ranks, a Know Nothing nomination against them, and the Liquor Law hanging upon them, there seems to be hardly a possibility of the success of their State ticket.—Boston Courier.

Let no one be frightened out of his propriety. If the Whig party in New York should be dashed in pieces, and all other parties there should share the same fate; the State would still live on; and the people, we dare say, will find some patriots sufficiently self-denying to fill her good fat offices.

THE GOOD TIME COMING.—The New York Herald thus speculates on the future.

What a gloomy prospect after March 3, 1855. Niggers will be thrust in the face of the administration at every turn. After an ineffectual fight to repeal the Nebraska-Kansas act—ineffectual because of the Senate—the first session of the next Congress will probably wind up with a grand fight upon the Civil and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, which will doubtless have engrafted upon it, by the House of Representatives, a repeal of the Fugitive Slave law. The Senate will refuse to acquiesce in it. The House, fearing no responsibility for stopping the wheels of government upon such an issue, insisting upon it, and the Appropriation bill in consequence falling through! Or the Senate yielding to the pertinacity of the House, and the bill, with the repeal of the fugitive law, coming before General Pierce for his assent or veto!

Among the passengers who arrived at this port yesterday by the steamship Africa, from Liverpool, were the wife and daughter of the Rev. Doctor Jonas King, Missionary of the American Board at Athens, Greece. Mrs. King is a Greek woman, about fifty years of age, and this is her first visit to the United States. She shares, in a remarkable degree, the beauty generally ascribed to her countrywomen. Her daughter is a young lady of perhaps twenty, and of very prepossessing appearance.

Dr. King was in good health at the time his family left Athens, early in September. He has been absent from this country, we believe, for thirty years. His wife is now on a visit to their children, several of whom are receiving their education in New York.

Mrs. King and her daughters are staying at the residence of Mr. John Peck, No. 196 Henry street, South Brooklyn.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

Mr. King is well remembered by many persons in this city and Newburyport. He is one of the best specimens of Yankee Missionaries that ever went abroad.

ODD ERRORS.—Some errors in type are of little consequence; others are serious and ought to be corrected, lest some readers should be misled; and others still are ludicrously Partingtonian.

The types in Thursday's daily Chronicle, spoke of arresting a principle, and defending an attack. If the reader will please to imagine them asserting a principle, and resisting an attack, he will probably make sense of the passages wherein they occur.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for November, 1854, is just received by Federhen & Co., Boston, and J. P. Morse of Portsmouth. The engravings are, Peace, an emblematic scene; colored Fashion Plate; School's Out; and dozens of fashion and pattern plates.

Groans of a Wealthy Citizen; Moth and Rust; Mrs. Cathcart's Friend—are excellent articles. The variety of matter; its fitness for ladies; and the patterns and fashions,—make it the most popular book among the female members of the household.

It may be had by addressing Louis A. Godey, Philadelphia.

ARREST OF LIQUOR DEALERS.—In New York, on Saturday, in one ward, sixty two unlicensed liquor dealers were arrested by the police, and held in $300 each for trial.

ROCKINGHAM TEMPERANCE CONVENTION. Forty-four delegates, from a dozen towns, in Rockingham County, reported themselves at the County Temperance Convention, which was held in Raymond on Wednesday, October 25. These, with other friends of temperance, both men and women, made up a good convention, which occupied the Congregational Church, forenoon and afternoon.

The meeting was opened, in the morning, by reading the scriptures and prayer; after which the convention was organized by the choice of the usual officers, including a committee on resolutions, and the remainder of the forenoon was spent in listening to accounts of temperance efforts in some towns, and of the need of them in others.

The committee on resolutions reported, early in the afternoon, a series of resolves, which recommended, 1, an earnest effort, in every town, by meetings, lectures, &c., to impress the people with a sense of their moral obligation to aid in the suppression of intemperance. 2, the enforcement of the existing license law of the State, accompanied by proper measures to secure the passage of a more efficient law. 3, the formation of temperance watchmen's clubs in every town; the choice of a county committee, &c.

Besides these, other resolutions called upon the judges of our Courts to impose higher fines on liquor sellers, and condemned them for taking notes of hand for fines imposed by the liquor laws.

The discussion and final passage of the resolutions, occupied most of the afternoon.—The discussion was spirited, and sometimes warm; and the effect of the meeting on temperance efforts in that neighborhood must be valuable.

A temperance meeting was also held in the evening, in the Union Hall, which was addressed by Dr. Jackson, of Maine.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The committee appointed by the State Temperance Convention, held at Lowell in June last, has addressed letters to the different candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, respecting their views of a prohibitory liquor-law.

The letters of the Whig and Free Soil candidates for Lieut. Governor, Messrs. Plunkett and Sumner, are in the affirmative with regard to the interrogatories, and that of Mr. Sumner is strong and ultra in its opinions.

Gov. Washburn in his letter declines to give a pledge in advance to support any uncertain law with regard to the liquor question, and General Wilson merely refers to his former temperance votes and letters. No answers were received from the candidates of the Democratic party. The Telegraph, as the organ of the Temperance Free Soil party, says:—"It will be seen that some of the letters are to the point, and contain sentiments decidedly in favor of prohibition. Of course the necessity for calling a convention is obviated."

THE TWO DOUGLASES.—The editor of the Chicago Tribune, in a letter from Aurora, Illinois, says that the few friends and adherents of Judge Douglas, in that vicinity, were sadly disappointed on the 19th inst., with his want of "spirit and determination" in refusing under the plea of illness to meet his colored namesake in the warfare of political argument. As soon as he heard that Frederick Douglas had arrived he retired, to his room and there remained in magnificent seclusion till the departure of the cars at five o'clock, for Chicago.

The Tribune of the 21st, says that the speech of General Cass in Chicago, on the preceding day, attracted an audience of from ten to fifteen hundred people, and was listened to without disturbance. At its close, Senator Douglas and other gentlemen shook him by the hand, and then commenced a scene of uproar such as is seldom witnessed even at a political meeting. Three groans were called for, but none given, for Senator Douglas.—Cheers were then given from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana. The Tribune thus describes the concluding portion of the scene:

At this juncture considerable confusion prevailed, when some one called for a speech from Frederick Douglas, who was in the room. It was caught up and responded to, apparently by five hundred persons. The effect was as exciting as if a bomb shell had been thrown into the room. Colonel Snowhook rushed upon the stand and brandished his fist at the crowd, while Col. Hamilton declared in the most emphatic manner that if Douglas came to the stand he would have him sent to the watch house. Such an uproar as followed we have seldom witnessed. It seemed as if pandemonium had broken loose, and the threats of the Nebraskaites only made the matter worse. Mr. Frederick Douglas had the good sense to retire during the confusion, but the crowd did not know it.

The meeting was finally declared adjourned, and the gas was shut off and the hall rendered as dark as Erebus. A number of drunken Irishmen took advantage of this and rushed into the middle of the room, cursing the "nager" who was to insult gentlemen, and commenced throwing the chairs in every direction, to the great danger of the limbs and lives of those who had not escaped. One fellow, more desparately drunk than the others, tried to break a chandelier with a chair, but in the effort lost his balance and tumbled to the floor. Matches were soon lighted in various parts of the room so that the crowd could escape, and thus ended the demonstration.

EARTHQUAKE.—A slight shock was heard and felt in Keene, N. H., about half past ten o'clock Tuesday night. It is reported that in some instances buildings were shaken.

Judson, or Ned Buntline, has been arrested at Bowdoinham, Maine, for shooting a colored man in a row, and wounding him badly in the leg.

Bills on the Ship Builders' Bank, at Rockland, Me., and also bills on the Bank of Hallowell, at Hallowell, Me., are not received at the Suffolk Bank.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.

In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, the Mayor being absent, Ald. Jenkins took the chair.

The ordinance respecting the pay of the watchmen was amended so that their pay from Dec. 1 to April 1 should be $1 50 per night; the remainder of the year $1 25 per night—sent down for concurrence.

A. S. Marden and others petitioned for a gas light near the north bridge—granted.

A message was received from the Common Council in relation to the vane and dials on the new north church, recommending that the subject be referred to a joint special committee vested with full powers; it was voted that the same be adopted, with the exception of that part relating to the vane. [This amendment was concurred in by the Common Council.]

A report was received from the Common Council respecting the removal of the cause of the effluvia from the south mill pond, advising that the flats should be removed; but as the season is so far advanced and no appropriation having been made for the purpose, it was suggested that the future board be advised to prosecute the work.—Adopted

In the Common Council, the bill from the Aldermen, regulating the pay of the watchmen was read twice and laid on the table.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 26.

In the case, State v. Samuel Wilson, appt, a motion was made by deft's counsel to quash the warrant issued by the Police Justice, on the ground of its insufficiency in not alleging the street in which the offence was committed. The motion was granted and the deft. discharged.

In the case, Cook v. Brown, the Jury returned a verdict for the plff. A motion has been made by the deft. to set aside the verdict. The case has occupied nine days.

In the case, Remick v. Butterfield, a verdict was taken by agreement for plff. and the case transferred to the Superior Court upon a question of law.

The case Moses & al. v. B. & M. Railroad, was commenced Wednesday afternoon, and is still on trial. The action is assumpsit for the recovery of the value of certain wool estimated to be worth $400, which was left in deft.'s freight house at the time it was destroyed by fire. The case was probably be closed tomorrow forenoon.

No. 101, Stearns et al. v. Veasey & als.

No. 114, Wendell v. Hale et als.

DANCING EXHIBITION.—Mr. Lamprey dancing entertainment came off as advertised, at Congress Hall, on Wednesday evening, and was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever got up in this city. The exhibition commenced with a grand wreath march, in which twenty-eight couple participated;—all being dressed tastefully and nearly alike, and each couple carrying a pretty wreath, they made a beautiful appearance. A hornpipe was danced in a style not to be surpassed, by Misses Adams and Lowd; and the highland fling by Misses Hadley, Hartshorn, Lowd and Adams, we have never seen excelled. A number of polkas and fancy dances were gone through with, to the entire satisfaction of a large number of spectators, and to the no small gratification of the pupils themselves. These occupied the time till about ten o'clock, when the older children had an opportunity to show their skill in the mazy dance, which they were not slow to improve. The dancing was kept up with spirit till half past eleven, when, it being time for the younger portion to retire, and the dust having become intolerable, the company dispersed. It is to be regretted that a city as large as Portsmouth, cannot sustain an elegant and spacious hall, to be used exclusively for dancing, as it is almost impossible to clean a hall that is used indiscriminately for every thing, so that the dust will not prove troublesome soon after a dance begins.

FOR GOVERNOR.—At the State Convention of the Free Democratic Party in New Hampshire, held on Thursday, at the State House in Concord, Asa Fowler, Esq. was nominated as the candidate for Governor, at the election in March next.

Mr. Hamblet, of the Ocean House, Newburyport, not dispirited by the calamitous fire which has swept away a large portion of the profits of his business, since he purchased the house, has made arrangements to build a new stable and employ such a number of workmen as will enable him to complete the building next week. The horse which was burned in the building, belonged to a pedlar, who had arrived in town an hour or two before, and was valued at $125.—Herald.

Talk about the enjoyment of wealth—it never was, and it never can be enjoyed. An abundance of money is a heap of misery. A man who owns a small house, a small farm, a small wife, a big dog, a good cow, two or three fat pigs, and two children, ought to be well satisfied. If he isn't, he never can be.—Charleston Adv.

THE MASSACRE AT FORT LARAMIE.—The Indian version—or what is said to be such—of this fatal occurrence, has at length been received. They say that two pieces of ordnance were taken into their encampment; that Lieut. Grattan commenced a parley about the killing of the cow, when Big Bear, the chief, wounded him with a sort of lance, calling him a squaw and a coward, and charging him with being afraid to fight; that Grattan then fired his revolver a number of times, wounding the chief, after which he elevated and fired the cannon to intimidate the Indians. Upon this the whole band of Indians rushed upon and killed him and all his men except one. This man was wounded in several places, but managed to crawl to the fort, where he stated that he had been driven away from the Indian camp by one of the French traders. He could give no explanation of the massacre. The bodies of the slain lay unburied for three days in sight of the traders, who were deterred from burying them through fear of the Indians. Subsequently, however, when the Indian agent, Major Whitfield, arrived, to distribute the presents and annuities to the Indians, these traders buried the bodies for a reward of two hundred dollars, which he gave them. Lieut. Grattan fell upon the cannon, to which his blood still adhered, but when found he lay under the cannon, pierced by twenty arrows and a number of bullets. The Indians had taken off his boots and stuffed them into the cannon, which also they had filled with manure.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The ship South Carolina, which arrived this morning from Rotterdam, had fifty deaths by cholera among her passengers on the voyage.

Some startling cases of sudden death by cholera, superinduced by eating oysters, are transpiring in this city. Three of these cases are reported in this afternoon papers, viz:—John H. Cornell, Cashier of the Mechanics' Bank; James Foster, Jr., Agent of the Dramatic Line of Packets, and Morris M. Davidson, Counsellor at Law, all of whom died after only a few hours illness. Rumors are current of numerous persons being sick with cholera from the above cause.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—Two of the gang of counterfeiters on trial here—Tree of Durham, and Hurd, the engraver—have been convicted of uttering counterfeit notes, and two others—Gleason, of Durham, and Wellington, an American—have withdrawn their former plea of not guilty. They have not yet been sentenced.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Burns Case. Steamer Contracts—The Star says that the cost of reclaiming Burns was $27,000, $15,000 of which was paid from the treasury this morning. The same paper says that the contracts for the machinery of the three remaining steam frigates have not yet been given out.

QUEBEC, Oct. 25.—In the House of Assembly to day, the second reading of the Clergy Reserves Secularization bill was carried by a vote of 93 to 15. If all the members had been present the vote would have stood 114 to 16.

BRIDGE FELL IN.—On Saturday afternoon a portion (some 40 feet) of the A. & St. Lawrence Railroad bridge, near the Portland Company's works, fell in. The breach is a bad one, and it will be some days before the workmen will be able to repair, and render it fit for travel again. At the time the accident occurred there was fortunately no train on that portion of the bridge. The workmen were busily engaged yesterday and last night in repairing the damage. The bridge itself will soon be done away with, as the company are rapidly filling up that portion of their works, in order to make a solid foundation from the depot to Fish Point.—Portland Adv.

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel,

making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his MIGHTY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, LASTING PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community,

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

HERTS BROTHERS'

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting this useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but vendors warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green st. Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

LIFE INSURANCE.—Every week, almost, occurrences take place which call upon every one to provide for their families in a pecuniary point of view. Railroad accidents, and a thousand other casualties are common, and the consequences are, families are left destitute without one single dollar to meet their various wants. This is no crime for a family so situated. On the contrary such a state of things may occur, even when utmost prudence and economy are in common practice. Now, what can be done to prevent this state of things? Life Insurance comes with its blessings. For the payment of a small sum of money, one can secure a policy that will make his life comfortable and those of his nearest friends happy. Dr. Franklin who has done much to instil in the minds of our countrymen, habits of economy, says, "my object is not to undervalue beneficial societies, but to call the attention of the considerate and provident to the fact that a policy of Life Insurance is the cheapest and safest mode of making a certain provision for one's family." We understand a few days since a person died in New Orleans, formerly of Rochester in this State, who had his life insured for two thousand dollars. His wife and children are comfortably provided for, not looking to an uncharitable world for daily support. We say, then, that upon the Lawyer, the Physician, the Farmer, the Sailor, the Mechanic, the Manufacturer, the Clergyman, the certainty of the benefits and the utility of Life Insurance press with irrestible force. It is indeed the cause of the Widow and Orphan, and the cause of every man and woman in the nation. Dover Enq.

HARVARD COLLEGE LIBRARY.—The annual catalogue of Harvard College states that the total number of volumes in the libraries of the University is as follows:

College Library, about	65,000
Medical Library, about	1,600
Law Library, about	14,000
Theological Library, about	4,500
Society Libraries of Students, about	13,000
Total, about	98,100

Besides these volumes there are probably more than 25,000 pamphlets. The annual income from the permanent fund for purchasing and repairing books, amounts to about three hundred dollars only. Nearly all the books in the College Library are donations.

FIRST FRUITS OF THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.—How the Canadians must chuckle when they think of the reciprocity treaty! For years and years, the St. Lawrence between Cornwall and Montreal has been considered as only navigable one way in consequence of the rapids, and very expensive canals have been built, through which vessels westward bound pass on their way to Kingston. This, of course, greatly enhanced the cost of navigating the river. Scarcely has the reciprocity treaty been agreed to when the distinguished engineer Mons. Maillefert is requested to visit these insurmountable rapids. He announces that he will, with the aid of his submarine apparatus, very speedily remove the obstructions which prevent vessels ascending the stream. Should his anticipations be fulfilled, the St. Lawrence will soon be navigable, for heavy vessels, both ways from Lake Ontario to the gulf.—New York Herald.

We learn from the Columbus (Miss.) Democrat, that a gin house in Noxubee county was burned with twenty five bales of cotton and eight negroes. One of the hands had taken a lantern into the room where the ginned cotton was being stored away, when the lantern broke from the ring by which it was held, fell among the cotton, and immediately set it in a blaze.

A resolution has passed the Common Council of Washington, to provide wood for the poor. This is a seasonable movement, and brings to mind a fact which deserves an annual tribute of honor, that a fund of $600 is applied yearly by W. W. Corcoran, Esq., for the purchase of fuel for the poor of the adjoining city of Georgetown.

LAWRENCE'S
CHERRY PECTORAL.
W. F. LAWRENCE: DEAR SIR,—
It gives me pleasure to state that your CHERRY PECTORAL has given utmost satisfaction wherever it has been used. Some of the most distinguished physicians of the state, are in the habit of purchasing it in bulk, and profess themselves highly gratified with its remedial effects. I can recommend it with confidence as a very superior medicine, and have no doubt that it will earn for itself an enviable reputation. E. H. ROLLINS.
CONCORD, Sept. 20, 1854.
Mr. Rollins is one of the most extensive dealers in drugs and medicines in New England. As the Cherry Pectoral was first introduced in Concord, we subjoin the certificate of John F. Brown, formerly bookseller and publisher, and now city clerk of Concord, N. H., our former agent:
This certifies that I have been an agent for the sale of the medicine, now extensively known as Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral; that so far as I know it has given good satisfaction; that I have repeatedly sold it to physicians in quantity; that I am acquainted with the manufacturer of the Pectoral; that he is a physician of good repute, and that I believe him qualified to conduct the complex operations necessary for the manufacture of this medicine. JOHN F. BROWN.
CONCORD, N. H. April 6, 1854.
The above are but few of the many testimonials in favor of Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral. It is used under the sanction and approbated at Dartmouth College by Prof. Dixi Crosby, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty of the N. E. states. It is

PRISON PUNISHMENT, No. 3.

An enormous sum of money is paid yearly, in every State, to maintain the system of prison punishment. It is contended that the present course of prison punishment is exceedingly humane, and greatly calculated to benefit the community by reforming the prisoner. I should be glad to believe it; but I cannot while the evidence is the other way.

Of all the vile nurseries of crime, none exceed these criminal establishments where young transgressors, and old hardened offenders are herded together to spend perhaps the Sabbath, or other time, in deliberating deeds of wickedness. A thousand fold more merciful would it be to such young offenders, and to the families with which they are connected, were they subjected to flogging, within the prison walls, and then sent away smarting for their crimes. But it will be answered that the custom of flogging is a barbarous custom.—Very well, no matter what you call it; but let us have the proof that the utter degradation of the moral and social character, by such a system as that of the present prison punishment, is for any common sense reason whatever to be preferred above that which makes the flesh quiver at the touch.

Suppose a lad of fifteen, or a young man of twenty five, for whose life and happiness a father, a mother, sisters and brothers, and a large circle of friends, are strongly interested, is led into the commission of such a crime as would doom him for three months in a county jail, or house of correction; there he must be for that period, with robbers and rascals of every grade. The circumstances of the case assure us that the state has taken measures to make that young man a villain for life. I would dread the thought of such a punishment, and its after influence upon a son, almost as much as I would dread the thought of the eternal loss of his soul. I should dread it almost infinitely more than I should the smart and the remembrance of a flogging upon him.

Rash, reckless and inconsiderate men care for little else than physical suffering. It is more dreaded, at the same time less dangerous to the sufferers than any other punishment. C.

THE NEXT HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—The Augusta Age says:

"If the complexion of the elections which have taken place in the free States is an indication of the character of those which are yet to come off, there is great danger that the next House of Representatives will contain a majority opposed to the administration."

The Washington Sentinel, in canvassing the probable complexion of the next U. S. House of Representatives, remarks:

"In the great and destructive flood that has inundated Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, the ark of Democracy has saved, we are sorry to say, but few of the sound and National Democratic candidates. The results of these elections have been most disastrous.

It is much to be feared that the next House of Representatives will be an opposition House. It is possible that our apprehensions may not be realized. It is possible that the elections may leave us with a small majority. But whether with or without a majority, it is in vain to endeavor to disguise the fact that a great and sudden change, temporary, it is true, and not on cardinal principles, has taken place in the public mind. It is in vain to attempt to disguise the fact that the immense masses of our countrymen north, south, east and west, that united to place a democratic administration in power, have dwindled into a minority, in some sections of the country."

THE FREE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION assembled at the State House at Concord, on the 25th inst. 286 Delegates attended. The galleries were filled with spectators. Gen. Holtt of Sandwich was elected temporary chairman. The usual committees on organization, credentials, and resolutions were appointed. Judge Wadleigh was elected President, and a number of Presidents and Secretaries were chosen, after which prayer was made by Eld. Hutchins of Dover. The Convention was then addressed by C. Rowell of Allenstown, and W. Claggett of Portsmouth. The Convention then adjourned until 1-2 past 1 o'clock, P. M., when C. G. Parsons of Windham, Me., and J. P. Hale of Dover, addressed the meeting. There were then two ballotings for a candidate for Governor. At the second ballot, 286 votes were cast, of which John Preston of New Ipswich, had 130; scattering, 7; and Asa Fowler, Esq. of Concord, had 149 and was declared elected as the candidate. Moses A. Cartland was elected the candidate for Railroad Commissioner. A series of spirited resolutions was then reported by the Committee and adopted, and at 4 o'clock the Convention dissolved.

GREAT CASE.—In the Portland Police Court, on Tuesday, S. R. Leavitt, a Representative elect to the Legislature, was fined ten cents, without costs, for an assault on Seth C. Mason, a deputy city marshal, in the shop of the former.

GRAIN TRADE.

The present prospects are not in favor of eating cheap bread this year. The state of the grain trade in England is set forth by the London Mercantile Gazette thus:

The wheat trade has certainly taken a very different course since harvest than that generally expected. The admitted fact that the yield of all kinds of grain in most parts of the British islands was above an average, the excellent condition in which the greater part was secured, and the belief that the crops on the continent of Europe had in general given a good return, naturally led to the conclusion that we were about to have a season of low prices. This impression was so general that buyers of wheat refused to pay the rates asked for what was brought forward by the growers in August, and we had a period of extreme depression, during which capital qualities of red wheat were sold at 48s. to 50s. per quarter at Mark lane, and lower at several of the markets in the agricultural districts. The exhausted state of the stocks of old grain was for a time overlooked, and so long as prices continued to recede, there was little inclination on the part of millers to buy; after a time, however, it began to be discovered that large as were the deliveries from the growers, the quantity brought forward only sufficed to supply the daily wants of consumers, and that so far from any accumulation taking place, the small stores remaining in the hands of merchants and millers continued to be drawn upon. So soon as this was found to be the case the demand improved. About the same time an export inquiry on rather a large scale began to be experienced, and in a very short period prices advanced about 10s. per quarter. Whether any further rise will take place we are not prepared to say, but it is quite evident we are not to have low prices for the present.

THE REV. HENRY WOOD, late of Hanover, N. H., under appointment of U. S. Consul for Beirout, sailed from Boston on Wednesday, in the barque "Gay Head" for Smyrna, from whence he will proceed in a steamer to the place of his destination. We understand that besides the discharge of his official duties, Mr. Wood intends to devote his time to the study of the geography and antiquities of the old world in which for a season he will reside; in the prosecution of which object he will, as opportunity presents, visit the important localities of Palestine and Syria, and make excursions to Constantinople, Asia Minor and Egypt. He will also, as far as he may be able, co-operate with the numerous missionaries from this country in that region. By an act passed at the last session of Congress, the whole of the Holy Land was added to ancient Syria, making both one General Consular District. Beirout is the principal commercial city of the district, containing at the present time from 20,000 to 25,000 inhabitants.—Traveller.

Mr. Wood is the clergyman of Concord, who certified in favor of Gen. Pierce's temperance and religion, when the latter was a candidate for the presidency. He was for some years the editor of the Congregational Journal, and is a writer of considerable ability.

TEN FATAL ERRORS.—A writer in the Tribune points out a series of ten mistakes made by Capt. Luce, at the wreck of the Arctic; no person familiar with nautical matters, can read them, without being satisfied that whoever else may be censurable, Capt. L. is highly so, and that any degree of presence of mind or of ordinary caution on his part, would have saved his ship and all on board.

[Rather too sweeping a conclusion.]

END OF THE WORLD.—Elder Cummings, one of the Immediatist Second Adventists, lectured in Mechanic Hall, on Tuesday afternoon and evening, on the Second Coming of Christ. At the end of his evening lecture, he said that the Jews reckoned by moons—that on Saturday last we had a new moon—that it was the last moon we should ever have—that the 10th of the 7th month would be about the 1st of November, when the mediatorial office would cease—and that being so, Christ would certainly make his appearance on the 13th or 14th of November. He then remarked that he should never meet with his hearers again on earth, and took an affectionate leave of his audience, bidding them a last farewell.

An agent of the World's Crisis was in the cars yesterday morning en route for the East, circulating, gratuitously, the very last number of the "World's Crisis," the Second Advent organ, printed at Lowell.—Salem Register of Thursday.

AUTUMN.

The dry leaves are falling,
The cold breeze above
Has stripped of its glories
The sorrowing grove.

The hills are all weeping,
The fields are a waste,
The songs of the forest
Are silent and past.

The songsters are vanished,
In armies they fly
To a clime more benignant,
A friendlier sky?

The thick mists are veiling
The valley in white,
The smokes of the village,
They blend in their flight.

And lo! the poor stranger
Upon the hill stands,
And sees the pale Autumn
Pervading the lands.

Though sorrowful wanderer,
Sigh not—nor weep,
For nature though shrouded,
Must wake from her sleep.

An exchange, describing a counterfeit bank bill, says the vignette is cattle and hogs, with a church in the distance! A very good illustration of this world's doings.

Reported for the Chronicle.

Court of Common Pleas—Adj. Term.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

FRIDAY, Oct. 27.

The jury, in the case Moses vs. Boston & Maine Railroad, gave a verdict for the plaintiff, for $352.01 with interest from Nov. 4th, 1850, and costs, on the ground that the Railroad company did not take due care of the freight.

The Court adjourned to Monday morning.

YARN MAKING.—Owing to the effect of the unprecedented drought upon Lake Winnipisseogee, the yarn mills at Meredith are unable to run their cards—which have been lying idle for several weeks, with no immediate prospect of starting. There is a large number of hand looms, probably a hundred, usually running in Portsmouth, which depend for their stock upon the mills above named, and are now lying idle. Why don't some of our enterprising men of capital establish a yarn manufactory here? It could not fail of being a profitable investment, besides increasing business. There are men enough here of experience and judgment to carry on the business successfully—and who would have engaged in it ere this, but for the large amount of capital required. The manufacture of hosiery goods is of very great importance to Portsmouth; and the business, in which she is almost without competition, could be carried on to better advantage for the hand weavers, with a sure supply of stock always at hand.

☞ An old man of this city, who is very parsimonious, called upon one of our Market street traders, a few days since, and asked if the bills on the Piscataqua Bank were good, as a grocer had just refused one of five dollars, and he had twenty more at home on the same bank. The trader informed him that the bank closed several years since, and asked if he did not see the notices in the public papers at the time. The old man said, "I never took a newspaper."

☞ "GO PREACH MY GOSPEL," SAITH THE LORD.—There will be preaching on Market Square to-morrow, Sunday, afternoon at 5 o'clock, the Lord willing, by one that is not a stranger in the City.

LAUNCH.—A fine ship of over 1000 tons burthen, will be launched from the yard of the Mechanics' Ship Building Co., on Monday next, at 8 1-2 o'clock. She is owned by Capt. Ichabod Goodwin, of this city.

☞ On the outside of this paper, will be found an advertisement of Lawrence's Cherry Pectoral, which is highly recommended. Mr. L. has been for several years located at Epping, and is now dealing pretty heavily in drugs and medicines.

A LARGE ELM.—The neighboring town of Stratham may boast of one of the largest elms now existing in this vicinity. It is called the Avery Elm, and is situated near the Greenland line, on the farm of Mr. David French, Jr. One foot from the ground, before the earth was heaped up about it, its girth was 28 feet; four feet from ground, 24. Its four principal branches measure 11 1-2 feet, 10 1-2 feet, respectively, and the other two 9 feet each in circumference. It has one hundred branches measuring over 1 1-2 feet in circumference. The span of the tree is 100 ft., and its height is about 90 ft.—Exeter News Letter.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 26.—A letter dated Marion, Ala., Oct. 16th, states that the Howard College had been burned down, and that twenty two of the students had been severely injured by jumping from the window. Two are reported to have died from their injuries.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Nicholas Beehane, who has been on trial for several days past at Riverhead, L. I., for the murder of the Wickham family, has been found guilty and sentenced to be hang. He treated the matter with perfect recklessness, and made some jesting remarks to the judge after the passing of the sentence.

BANGOR, Oct. 26.—An attempt was made to-day, before the Grand Jury at Ellsworth, to have seven persons indicted for being engaged in the recent outrage against Rev. Mr. Bapst, Roman Catholic priest of this place. The jury found no bill against them.

ANOTHER HOAX.—The press was done brown, it appears, by the story that Rev. Antoinette Brown is married. A young lady bearing this name (without the prefix) may have been married to Mr. Merritt, as stated, but the Rev. Miss Antoinette Brown still "roves in maiden meditation, fancy free."—Boston Journal.

The Editor of the Manchester Mirror, at a fireman's supper last week, gave as a sentiment, "The Ladies,—the mothers of veterans." Well, we thought the mothers favored us with young 'uns, mostly. Doesn't the editor believe in "Young America?"—Exeter News Letter.

The grand jury of Richland, S. C., at a late session of the Court, presented the laws against the African slave trade, as detrimental to the interest of the South, and to the physical and moral nature of the slave.

Our "Foreign Relations" are in a good state; five thousand of them landed at New York last Sunday.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE GEORGE LAW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The steamer Geo. Law, with the California mails is below.

By the arrival of the steamer Goliah, Los Angelos papers to Sept. 21 had been received at San Francisco, and had also the San Diego Herald of the 16th.

A report had been brought to the crossing of the Colorado, that a company of emigrants numbering 50, all from Texas, were murdered, Aug. 20, by the Indians.

Several women and children who were in the train, were doomed, it is feared, to a more horrid fate. Six hundred head of cattle were also carried off.

The news was brought by a small train, which had been in the rear, and fortunately escaped.

Other parties of Americans encountered the Indians near Tueson, and one American was killed.

The Apaches were becoming more troublesome every day. Twenty-five Americans had perished for want of water.

NEW YORK, 26th.—FOR LIBERIA.—The barque Estelle sailed from this port yesterday, for Liberia, with about thirty emigrants and seven missionaries. The Rev. J. B. Phinney, editor of the Colonization Journal and Secretary of the New York Colonization Society, also went out in the Estelle.

SEIZURE OF WATCHES AND JEWELRY.—Yesterday morning, the custom house officers on board the steamship Washington seized about $5,000 worth of watches and jewelry found upon the persons of two second class passengers, who intended to smuggle them ashore.

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.—Miss Elizabeth Green of Oldtown, Me., has received $1625, in shape of damages, for breach of promise of marriage, in a suit against Mr. DeWolfe, who wrote some very sentimental poetry in his letters to Miss Green. He argued his own case before the jury of the Supreme Court at Bangor—but they would not believe his story, and thinking his poetry had more real argument than his plea, gave a verdict as above. The lady, however, claimed $10 000, for broken heart or promises—so that he accomplished something in the way of stopping the "bleeding" with which he was threatened.

NEW YORK.—The Buffalo Express, a Seward journal, declares that there is a conspiracy on foot in the State "to overthrow the Whig organization, and overwhelm Whig principles," and it insists that Millard Fillmore, Mr. Haven, member of Congress, and the Buffalo advertiser, are among the conspirators, and all this, it insists, is for the purpose of bringing down the political prospects of Wm. H. Seward. The quarrel, by all accounts, is both bitter and personal.

SELLING OUT A NAVY YARD.—The Navy Agent at Memphis, Tennessee, advertised to be sold to the highest bidder, on the first day of November, all the movable public property belonging to the Navy Yard at the said place, consisting of an immense schedule of hemp, tar, buildiug materials, machines, tools, furniture, horses, wagons, artillery, &c., in pursuance of the late act of Congress, surrendering the said Navy Yard as a free gift to the city of Memphis. So much for a Navy Yard established "above the point of the yellow fever; and too far up to be reached by the enemy in time of war."

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by which increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be creat.d at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel,

making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as the personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

HERTS BROTHERS

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a facsimile of the Manufacturers' name.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

The decision of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, in the case of the Lowell Railroad vs. the Boston and Maine Railroad, orders the latter road to disconnect with the Salem and Lowell road at Wilmington, so far at least as to compel passengers from Boston to Lowell to change cars there. The charter of the Lowell railroad provides that no competing road shall be established, for its entire length, within a distance of five miles, up to the year 1860. The Court held the existing connection of the B. and M. at Wilmington to be a competing road within the meaning of the statute.

The German immigration to this country is largely on the increase, while the Irish immigration is proportionally decreasing. Thus, while in the month of September, 1847, there were but a little over seven thousand Germans arrived at New York, and less than six thousand in '48, '49, and '50, in the same month this year there were over fourteen thousand, and this is a thousand more than in September of last year.

A couple of travellers lately took lodgings for about ten days at a tavern in York county, Pa., and fared sumptuously, drinking two or three bottles of wine daily. The last day a dispute arose about the speed of their horses, and they at last agreed to enter on the proposed contest. The landlord was appointed judge, each being the rider of his own horse. When they were mounted, the judge like those at the Olympic games, gave the words, "One, two, three, and go!" Off they went, and have never been seen or heard of since, leaving the landlord fully compensated by having had the honor to be the judge who started them.

SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.—The English Book of Heraldry describes the crest of Sir John Franklin precisely as the No. 5, described by Dr. Rae, and No. 4 crest and motto as that of Lieut. Fairholme, of the expedition. The initials on the forks were those of H. D. S. Goodsie, assistant surgeon, and A. McDonald, surgeon of the expedition.

FAILURE OF A BANKER.—The Cincinnati papers report the flight of Mr. E. P. Manchester, a noted banking speculator of that city.—His bank suspended payment a few days since, and he immediately fled from the city, having previously made an assignment of his property to a Mr. Mallon. His real estate was mortgaged, and his stocks and notes all hypothecated. The deposits made with him are said to have exceeded $70,000, chiefly in small amounts. The case had created great excitement in Cincinnati.

THE FRANKFORT HOMICIDE.—Dr. Thayer, indicted for causing the death of Leason at Frankfort on the 4th of July last, has been found guilty at Belfast of assault and battery only, the jury believing that with deceased, death was caused by weakness induced by liquor and drugs. It will be recollected, that Leason, former husband of Mrs. Thayer, was travestying the part of a physician in a party of 4th of July masqueraders, separated from his party, came to Thayer's house and was holding communication with his children, when the doctor struck him, or pulled him from his horse, and soon after Leason died.—Eastern Argus.

The silver grey whigs of New York, not liking the whig State ticket, threaten to secede and form a new one. The silver greys form only a small slice of the party.

A divine once praying said, "O Lord, give us neither poverty nor riches," and pausing solemnly a moment, added, "especially poverty."

Genius unexerted, says H. W. Beecher, is no more genius than a bushel of acorns is a forest of oaks.

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel,

making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his MOONLIGHT-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community,

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1854.

TITLE TO SLAVES.

We have several times quoted a few words from the Nebraska bill, sect. 9, which we have understood, and still understand, as legalizing slavery. We quoted them as follows, in the Daily Chronicle of the 21st October.

"In all cases involving title to slaves, the said writs of error or appeals shall be allowed and decided by the said supreme court, &c. &c."

And upon this we said, "This language expressly legalizes slavery, if words can do it." To this remark, agreeably to our request, the N. H. Patriot replies at some length. From this reply we make, below, some extracts, interweaving our own rejoinders in the form of a dialogue.

Patriot. A more absurd position we never saw taken by an intelligent person. It would be just as sensible to say that the law of this State giving our courts jurisdiction of the crime of murder, legalizes murder in this State; or that the law of the United States which gives jurisdiction in cases of piracy, to the circuit court, legalizes piracy.

Chronicle. So it would, if these latter named laws spoke of the right to murder, the privilege of piracy, or the title to vessels stolen on the high seas. But the 9th section of the Nebraska bill, as quoted by us, by the Patriot, and by the Gazette, is not speaking of slaveholding as a crime, nor of any crimes at all—but of property, and in this relation it speaks of slaves as property, mentions their value, and speaks of the title to them. Not a word is there about their title to themselves, not a word about their right to liberty, but in this clause they are treated of as property and nothing else.

To make out a parallel case, let us use the word lands, instead of slaves; then let us read—"In all cases involving title to lands the writs should be decided by the said supreme court." From this we should conclude that lands might be legally held there, and titles to lands tried and established in the courts.—And from the similar language of the extract, in regard to slaves, we must conclude that slaves may be legally held, and the owners' title to them established, in the same way.

Patriot. The provision which the Chronicle so unfairly quotes and perverts, was undoubtedly designed for the protection of persons claimed as slaves, as the whole context plainly shews.

Chronicle. If the design of this section had really been to protect all persons claimed there as slaves, it would have been done by saying "no slavery or involuntary servitude shall exist in the territory." But the Patriot will see, in a moment, that if one person is claimed there as a slave, by another, and the two Courts to which the matter belongs, shall decide that the owner's title to that slave is good and valid,—then slavery is legalized there, actually, and to all intents and purposes.

Patriot. We cannot see how any candid mind, in reading the whole clause, can put the construction upon it that the Chronicle does.

Chronicle. Please to give us the whole clause; and as you say we quote it unfairly, will you please to quote it fairly?

Patriot. The section from which the above words are taken is the 9th, which is devoted to the judicial power of the territory. It vests this power in certain described courts, and defines the jurisdiction of those courts. It then declares that "writs of error, and appeals from the final decisions of said supreme court, shall be allowed, and may be taken to the supreme court of the United States, * * where the value of the property or the amount in controversy * * shall exceed one thousand dollars; except only that in all cases involving title to slaves, the said writs of error or appeals shall be allowed and decided by the said supreme court, without regard to the value of the matter, property or title in controversy."

Chronicle. Very well; we like this quotation quite as well as our own; it means exactly the same thing. And now, as you say we pervert it, will you please to explain it?

Patriot. Now this clause was evidently designed to favor the cases of persons claimed as slaves, by enabling them to be carried to the U. S. supreme court, even where such claimed slave was held of less value than $1000; while no other case can be carried to that tribunal unless the amount in controversy exceeds that sum. Without this provision, a corrupt court might consign a free man to slavery beyond all power of legal redress.—Any one could catch up a negro and hold him by force; and if the negro sued for freedom, when the title came to be tried the claimant would put his value at less than $1000, and that would give the territorial court final jurisdiction of the case, and it could decide the negro to be a slave, and he would have no legal remedy—no writ of error or appeal to the U. S. supreme court. And it was doubtless to prevent all chance for such wrongs as this that the clause in question was inserted in the law. It was done to secure to those who may be claimed as slaves, the right of appeal to the highest judicial tribunal in the land—thus putting it beyond the power of corrupt or prejudiced local courts (if such there should happen to be) to deprive a free man of his liberty.

Chronicle. Be it so, in regard to a "free man caught up and held by force"; but suppose some question arises about the title to those slaves whom Judge Lecompte is now carrying to the territory—the Court over which he is to preside, may rule that his title is good, (while he looks on,)—and this case goes up by appeal to the supreme court of the United States, where the title is confirmed. One such case legalizes slavery there—to all intents and purposes.

Patriot. Every slave carried there becomes in law a free man the moment he sets his foot upon the soil of either of these territories.—All admit that there is no law tolerating slavery in these territories; and in the absence of such law slavery is illegal.

Chronicle. If this were true, then there could be no title to slaves at all, and of course the courts would have nothing of the sort to try. There could be no danger of free men's being caught up and claimed, where slavery has no existence. The courts of New Hampshire do not try titles to slaves, for the simple reason that there are no such titles here.

We do not understand the Nebraska bill sect. 9, nor the Patriot in speaking of it, to have any reference at all to fugitive slaves. If they had meant to refer to these, they would doubtless have said so. But we understand them both as speaking of the title to slaves held or claimed in the territory. The bill or clause which admits or makes it possible for one man there to have a title to hold one slave as his property, makes slaveholding as legal as landholding.

Patriot. The section in the Nebraska law containing this provision, appears to be a verbatim copy of those on the same subject in the Utah and New Mexico laws.

It is strange too that a provision which no one ever objected to when embodied in the Utah and New Mexico laws, should be thus made a great bugbear of when incorporated into the Nebraska law.

Chronicle.—Somewhat strange, perhaps, but not so strange as the fact that this great Nebraska bill, so very favorable to liberty, and so very unfavorable to slavery, should be scouted, with its authors, by all the free states which have yet spoken, and endorsed, so far, only by Florida and South Carolina!

If we are wrong in our interpretation of the bill, and in our idea of its intent and purpose, we err in common with at least three-quarters of all the intelligent men in New England.

CHINESE INSURRECTION.—The Chinese rebel chief has written a letter to the residents of Hong Kong, signifying his pleasure to them. He terms them "slaves and foreign devils;" says they are but "lowls, apes, and dogs by kind," ignorant of the fine relations and not susceptible of civilization. He demands the authorities to release such of his people as are in prisons and treat Chinese gentlemen with respect. He says:

I, the King, have spoken of war, and have talked of the movements of troops. We have many thousand guns of divine power, weighing millions of pounds. We have many myriad vessels, 100 chang in length, which, without wind, can convey themselves hence to the three Kiang provinces. On a lucky day, which we shall select, we shall descend straight on the province of Canton, and in the autumn shall send you a challenge to fight. Our clustering standards will shade the nine heavens, and with numberless swords and spears we shall enclose the seas. Our divine fire shall consume your ships, our troops your dwellings; our divine weapons shall flash to the pole, and our divine youths and maidens shall be as thunder shaking the skies.

The Cincinnati Gazette of the 24th says:

"The ruined banker, Mr. Manchester, left this city on Saturday evening. Since the failure of his banking-house it has not been safe for him to be seen abroad alone. His property has been placed in the hands of assignees, but, from what we can gather, the assets will not meet the liabilities. Many of those who are losers are hard working men and women. His failure is chiefly attributed to stock speculations, borrowing money at large rates of interest, and extravagant living. Some months ago he bought fifty thousand dollars worth of stock in one of the railway enterprises in this State, which fell on his hands very rapidly, and his losses were heavy. In our city there are few, very few, who express any sympathy for the ruined banker, while "curses, both loud and deep," follow his footsteps like an echo. One of the sad evils which follow wrecked fortunes and wrong doing is the sorrows which fall upon the innocent family. The bane of modern city life is a desire to live in a style beyond our legitimate means to afford."

REPUDIATING THE PRESS.—The late Roman Catholic Council in this city came to the conclusion that the connection between the church and their self-constituted oracles should be publicly severed; and that when an organ was to be recognized it should be placed in charge of competent theologians, and confined within strict limits of theology. Such sheets as the Freeman's Journal, the Celt, the Boston Pilot, the Irish American and Brownson's Review will, under this decision, be secularized or entirely suppressed.—N. Y. Mirror.

A Virginian has beaten the Yankees at their own weapons. John J. Rollow, of Fredericksburg, Va., has invented a machine which will husk and shell corn at one operation. The ear with husk is thrown in its mouth, and in the twinkling of an eye the corn falls at one point, the clean cob coming out at the other end. Its capacity is about four hundred barrels per day.

DEATH OF GOV. BURT.—Governor Burt, who was on his way to Nebraska Territory to assume the office of Governor, to which he was appointed, died on the 18th inst., near Independence, Missouri. He left Washington in perfect health.

JAIL TO LET.—The Paris (Oxford Co.) Jail has been tenantless for more than six months last past. They are Maine Law people up there.

LOCAL.

MURDERER CAUGHT.—It will be remembered that the body of a young man named Charles Brewster, was found in South Berwick, a few weeks ago, which bore marks of having been murdered. The citizens of South Berwick have been untiring in their efforts to discover the murderer, but without success. Suspicion finally rested upon a man named William B. Smith, as the guilty person, and he was traced to Vermont, in which State he robbed a boy, taking besides his money his boots, giving him in exchange a pair which were identified as having belonged to Brewster. The pursuers caught up with Smith in Brunswick, Vt., on Thursday night last, arrested him without a requisition on the governor of Vermont, and brought him to South Berwick, where he arrived on Friday afternoon, and was lodged in jail. He will be examined this week.

☞ The friends of Temperance will hold an adjourned meeting at the Vestry under the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock, for consultation with regard to future operations.

☞ Uncle Toby has taken off his wig and rubbed his head as well as his glasses, to see, if he can, what other Uncle Toby has written something about "pro-slavery antecedents and proclivities," which the N. H. Gazette quotes as coming from him. The paragraph quoted, containing these words is a good one, but to the best of our recollection, Uncle Toby never wrote it.

With his glasses on, and wig too, he reads the following:

"It is already admitted by all intelligent observers that both Nebraska and Kansas will be free territories."

He has seen this assertion at least one hundred times; but the admission he has not seen. He hopes these territories will be free; other men fear it. But what force there could be in any admission, as to an event yet in the uncertain future, he cannot perceive. He likes the close of the Gazette's article so well, that he here copies and adopts it.

"The sequel will show that the doctrine of popular sovereignty, now so much abused, will be nobly vindicated by the people of the nation; and that at no distant day. Let us live and learn."

RAILROAD BRAKES.—At New York, on Thursday, in the case of Henry Tanner vs. the New York and Erie Railroad Company, for an infringement of the patent granted to him, (Tanner,) July 6, 1852, for Batchelder and Thompson's Railroad car brake, the jury in the United States District Court returned a verdict for the plaintiff, and decided that the Stevens brake and the Hodge brake are infringements of the same brake.

EXPENSIVE.—The Washington Star reports that the sum of $27,000 mentioned in connection with the case of Anthony Burns was for "extra police and military force alone." It adds: "This does not cover the usual ordinary expenses incurred in the case, such as the fees of the regular officers of the United States employed in the case."

BATH UNIVERSALIST AND UNITARIAN SOCIETIES.—The Times is informed that the Universalist Society in Bath have extended an unanimous invitation to Rev. Massena Goodrich, of Portsmouth, N. H., to settle as their pastor, and that Rev. Richard Metcalf was to be ordained pastor of the Unitarian Church, Summer st., on Wednesday evening.

☞ The entire repeal of the Usury Laws in Great Britain, says the New York Courier, has been accomplished at the recent session of Parliament. The act by which this was effected is known as ch. 90, 17 and 18 Victoria, and it is now lawful in Great Britain to loan money at any rate of interest, and on any description of property, either real estate or otherwise.

We learn from a private letter received from Hong Kong, that Commander Ringgold, of the United States Surveying Expedition, has been deemed incapacitated for duty, on account of mental abberation, and is now bound for home on board one of the storeships of the squadron.

An eminent writer says: "It is my firm opinion, derived from experience, that the period of courtship cannot be too short. I have reason to say, that when you have hooked your fish, the sooner you use your landing net the better."

CONVICTION.—The case of S. T. Beale, dentist, charged with rape, went to the Jury this afternoon, under the summing up of Geo. W. Wharton for the prosecution. Further argument was dispensed with. The Jury came in this evening with a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to the mercy of the Court.—Philadelphia Ledger.

SAD FIRE.—The English papers state that the recent great fire at Newcastle and Gateshead, was the most destructive of any which ever happened in England, except the great fire in London. It originated in a worsted manufactory, and spread to another factory containing a large quantity of naptha and saltpetre. At a time when the burning buildings were surrounded by a vast crowd of people, a terrible explosion occurred, the shock of which was felt for miles. Several houses in the immediate neighborhood were thrown down; others were seriously injured, and large stones and pieces of timber were hurled to immense distances; large masses of ignited matter were projected to the other side of the water; and a very few minutes elapsed before it was discovered that a considerable portion of the buildings in Newcastle, immediately opposite the conflagration at Gateshead, were also on fire.

In addition to the dead bodies that were recovered from the ruins, 112 persons, more or less injured, were carried to the Newcastle Infirmary. Of these, five persons have died since their admission, and two more are not expected to recover. The whole number of deaths will be close upon 40.

CRUELTY.—The law, at least in some places, interferes between a man and the beast he drives, and punishes him for any cruelty he inflicts. Whether there be laws which protect children from the brutality of parents, we do not know. It would, in extreme cases, be well if such a shield should be interposed.

The people in a certain neighborhood of this city are not unfrequently compelled to hear, and too often to witness the treatment a woman, apparently possessing the ferocity of a she wolf, inflicts upon her children. The shrieks heard within doors, since cool evenings have come, make it certain that what was visable when the days were long and warm, is going on unseen, and doubtless with the same unsparing severity. A child, apparently no more than five years of age, has been seen frequently to reel and fall under blows inflicted with the hand of the enraged mother. The tenement is apparently the abode of anger and cruelty, and children being reared under circumstances which will so beat down their spirits, sour their tempers, and steel their hearts, as that, in due time, they will be prepared to deal with the community as a ferocious parent now does with them. If there be a way to reach such cases, it should be pursued.—Concord Statesman.

Canal navigation in New York continues only about six weeks longer. The Albany Argus of Thursday states that as compared with last year, during the season of canal navigation, the receipts of flour are over 1,000,000 barrels short, and the falling off in wheat is equal to 600,000 barrels of flour. As an offset, however, to this, the receipts of corn show an increase over last year of over 5,000,000 bushels, and will probably continue increasing until the close of the season. The Argus adds—"No doubt, more wheat and flour will find its way to market, via Canal, during the remaining few weeks of navigation, than has reached tide water in double that length of time."

THE LEMMON SLAVE CASE.— We learn from the New York Evening Post that satisfactory security for the costs in this case has at last been furnished by the State of Virginia, and the case will probably come up for argument before the general term of the Supreme Court in November. Whichever way it is decided it will be carried up to the Court of Appeals, and without doubt, eventually, to the Supreme Court of the United States. The State of Virginia intends, if successful, to apply to the Legislature of New York to be reimbursed for their expenses. If unsuccessful, then they will attempt the passage of a special act through Congress to be paid out of the national treasury.

PHILADELPHIA, 28th.—The Port Deposit bridge gave way this morning while a drove of 150 cattle were passing over. It was broken away between three of the piers in the middle, and each end hangs on the abuments in a dangerous condition. A large number of cattle perished, and it is feared that some persons lost their lives, as some hats were found floating in the water.

COUNTERFEIT QUARTER EAGLES, which almost defy detection, are in circulation in New York. They are said to be made from a genuine New Orleans Mint die, stolen some years since, and bear the "O" under the talons of the eagle. Professor John Torry, assayer, at New York, has analyzed the coin, and finds that it is made of a casing of pure gold, filled with silver, and probably platina, to increase the weight.

THE HIGHER LAW OF SLAVERY.—The Washington Sentinel contends that slavery could exist in a territory without a positive enactment, and says that "slavery existed long before the formation of legislative bodies, and was sanctioned by Heaven as an existing institution, long before the idea of a legislative enactment ever entered the world!" This is appealing to the higher law with a vengeance. —Boston Journal.

Troubles in Kansas are taking place in consequence of the New England settlers having unwittingly encroached upon the claims of the Missouri settlers. The latter have gathered in armed parties, burned down the Yankee log cabins, demolished tents, and threatened the settlers themselves.

GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoro' scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the skill of eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time became thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health. Medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metalic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers it warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

All we have to say to the Portsmouth Chronicle about the John Marshall business is—just inquire up in Carroll County. Our free soil neighbor, L. D. Mason, won't lie about it, probably, and we will leave it to him.—N. H. Democrat.

We don't know Mr. Mason, and are too far from Carroll County to inquire in any other way than through the newspapers.—This we always do when any mysteries seem to hover about a piece of scoundrelism which is half exposed and half concealed in the papers. From the Dover Gazette, backed by the Morning Star, we now learn and are satisfied that John Marshall, the black man who has lately lectured in Carroll County, has a character blacker than his face.

The Dover Gazette says that "John Marshall visited Eaton, in this State, and attempted to seduce the wife of a respectable minister of the gospel," and Elder Hutchings publishes the following note in the Morning Star:

JOHN MARSHALL.—It is well known to the friends of freedom in many places east and west, that a colored man bearing the above name has for several years been engaged in the anti-Slavery cause. He has been very popular, highly esteemed as a lecturer, and has done much to promote the interests of that righteous enterprise. The friends of the slave will, therefore, learn with pain that he has forfeited their confidence and rendered himself unworthy of their countenance. They will deeply regret his fall, but will not knowingly encourage a man in their work who seeks to destroy innocence, virtue, and domestic peace. ELIAS HUTCHINS.

There: we give this black rascal the benefit of our circulation; and will with pleasure extend the same favor to some white ones of the same description, as soon as we are furnished with the needful documents.

UNIQUE MUSIC.—A Parisian writer states that in a new opera which is soon to be forthcoming in the gay capital of France, a curious and delightful effect is to be produced by the introduction of "frog music." The writer says:—

"A procession of nuns, dressed in white, sings a lay at midnight. In the intervals, a chorus of frogs in the neighboring swamp croak the refrain in unison. Sax, the great brass founder who made the Last Trumpets for the "Wandering Jew," and the instruments for the Band of Guides, is engaged upon the frog-pipes required. The illusion will be heightened by characteristic scenery and mephitic exhalations. M. Sax visited the pool in the Bois de Boulogne known as the Mare d'Auteuil, and brought back many useful ideas in reference to the quadruped with whose vocal powers he desired to become acquainted. The frog voices will be a series of eight, representing a full octave.

A TRUE STATEMENT.—The Salem Gazette, in alluding to the affairs of the Lawrence Machine Shop, says "It falls to the experience of almost every man who invests in stocks of any sort to see some of them greatly depreciating in value."

The following timely comments are added:

When we call to mind the sums that have been lost by our citizens in these out of town investments—going no farther back than the Amesbury and Franconia iron works—we are convinced that an amount of capital has been sunk in them that would, if properly invested here, have made our little city one of the handsomest, of its size, on the face of the globe, and, what is more to the purpose, would have paid to the investors, or their heirs, a fair interest, instead of being a total loss. So, too, if the money had been loaned to honest, industrious, capable men, on safe mortgages, it would have doubled the size of our place, and vastly increased the value of real estate.

"Honest industry seeks only its own reward."

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel,

making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his MOST-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community,

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

PRINCIPLES APPLIED.

A little while ago, the New Hampshire Gazette gave us the following instruction:

"The principles of the Nebraska bill are either republican and democratic or they are not. If the former, it is the duty of the party to sustain them, not passively, but actively, and by every means within their power; not only by theft speeches and resolutions, but at the polls, the arena where principles are embodied into vital action."

Now the Dover Gazette, of Oct. 28, gives us the following instruction on the other side of this great question.

"While we, in common with the larger portion of the democracy, endorse the Nebrasak bill as a great democratic principle, we can see no good or just reason, why it should enter at all into the question of nominating men to represent this State in the next Congress.—The Nebraska question is settled, and the power does not exist to procure its repeal.—Therefore should men who are democratic in every thing else, be proscribed because at the time of the passage of the Nebraska bill, they failed to give it their adhesion? We think not. And we do not think the democracy have it in contemplation so to do. On the contrary, we feel assured that Messrs. Kittredge and Morrison, the present members from districts No. 1 and 2, will receive the usages [suffrages?] of the party, and be returned to the House. These gentlemen, so far as we can ascertain, have carried out the views and wishes of their constituency, and if they have differed upon a single point only, who can complain."

Then, after stating that the whigs and abolitionists will not vote for Messrs. K. and M., the Dover Gazette adds:

"As democrats who have the welfare of the nation at heart, we are bound to again place them in nomination."

We have read these extracts over two or three times; but the more we read them the more we don't understand how to harmonize the two Gazettes together, nor the latter with itself.

The Portsmouth paper tells us, that if the Nebraska principle is democratic, we must act it out at the polls, of course by voting for men to uphold it.

The Dover paper says the Nebraska principle is not only democratic, but a "great democratic principle," and yet advises us to vote for two excellent democrats who voted against it. And then to cap the whole, it informs us that these two gentlemen have carried out the views of their constituency, [good democrats of course] and yet, though they have thus violated this "great principle," nobody ought to complain, but as democrats who wish well to the nation, we are bound to renominate them.

We begin to be puzzled with New Hampshire parties now. We have been used to look into both these Gazettes, to find the Old Line Democratic Party, with its regular nominations and solid columns. But if they begin to waver as above, we shall tremble for the removal of the old landmarks.

COST OF JAILS.

A correspondent of the Salem Register, in the course of an article on the cost of jails in Essex, makes the following statement:

"I have heard it stated by an architect, as well experienced as any in the Commonwealth, that the interest of the saleable value of the land occupied by the jail, and the cost of the jail, in Suffolk, would amount to more than would be the entire charge for boarding all the prisoners at the Tremont House or Revere House in Boston."

As we read the above, we considered that more than half the prisoners in Boston jail are foreigners; and that almost the whole of them are men who frequented the drinking houses and tippling shops of that city. If the people of Boston, therefore, or of any other city or county, wish to diminish their jail expenses, they can do so by cutting off the supplies. If they choose, on the other hand, to keep all the pauperism and crime they have now, and also to increase it, they have only to let the matter stand still as it is.

The Portsmouth Chronicle insists that one provision of the Nebraska law "distinctly repeals the ordinance of '87." Every intelligent man, excepting the editor of that paper, must be aware that the ordinance of 1787 never applied to the territory in question. It was adopted long before that territory was acquired, and was applied specifically to the territory northwest of the Ohio river.—N. H. Patriot.

Thank you, sir: so be it: and it asserted a most important principle, viz., that our Revolutionary fathers deemed it wise and right, to shut out slavery from a territory, by law.

BOSTON ADVERTISEMENTS.—Our columns to-day contain Mr. V. B. Palmer's Fall List of Boston Wholesale establishments, for the sale or manufacture of most desirable goods, wares and merchandise. The attention of dealers is invited.

PROGRESS.—The late convention of Know Nothings held at New York, took a progressive step in the matter of literature, by the passage of the following resolution:

"That no person should be allowed to vote in any Town, County, State or National election, until he has lived in the United States for 21 years, and can read and write."

ONE OF THE SAVED.—Mr. Gilbert, who was one of the saved Arctic passengers, wrote to Geo. Peabody the following letter:

St. John, Newfoundland, Oct. 3, 1854.

My Dear Mr. Peabody;—I avail myself of a steamer that has touched here on her way to England to send you a paper, giving an account, which I have prepared, of the wreck of the Arctic, and the probable loss of all passengers and crew, except those mentioned as saved. My own safety was little short of miraculous. I jumped into the boat at the request of Capt. Luce, having brought the ladies of the Brown family to the side, for the purpose of putting them in, and expected to have them passed to me; but judge of my feelings, when I saw them rudely thrust aside by a number of men, rendered desperate by the struggle for life, and the boat filled without them. I was thus kept in the boat in spite of myself, as I had resolved to save them at any risk, even of my own life. We landed on this bleak coast, after being 48 hours on the deep, many of us with no overcoats, and wet, and with nothing to eat or drink. We then walked five miles to the nearest place, which was a collection of fisherman's houses, and obtained some refreshments.

W. W. GILBERT.

To George Peabody, Esq.

A MILD PARAGRAPH.—The Petersburg (Va.) Intelligencer, of Oct. 21, contains the following amiable paragraph:

DEMONISM.—We observe a paragraph in one of our exchanges which states that that notorious emissary of Satan who goes under the name of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, preached a sermon at Plymouth Church on Sunday last, in which he alluded to the loss of the Arctic, and ascribed it to the wrath of the Almighty thus poured out upon the heads of the shipping merchants for supporting the fugitive slave law. If he did give public utterance to such a sentiment and left the pulpit without bodily injury, it must only have been because he addressed a gang of devils like himself. Such a monster in human shape deserves to have a mill stone fastened around his neck and pitched into the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT BY LUCIFER MATCHES.—We are informed by an eye witness to the scene, that an interesting son of Mr. Jacob Peters, two years old, of Canaan, was burned to death on Saturday morning, 7th inst. The two sons of Mr. Peters, before they had arose from bed, ignited some lucifer matches, which were lying near by, by means of which the bed took fire, and the whole interior of the chamber was soon in flames.—The eldest boy, aged five years, ran down stairs, and escaped uninjured, while the youngest was burned to a perfect crisp, almost within reach of its parents, but who were unable to rescue him from the devouring flames. Much damage was also done to the house.—Newport, N. H. Argus.

CALIFORNIA.—A private letter received in this city from a distinguished resident of California says of business generally:—"California has got to be a state that can export breadstuffs. We want a few boots and shoes, some cotton cloth and a small amount of ready-made clothing, but not half as much as we used to require. Old boots and shoes and old clothes are mended now and not thrown in the street, less than half worn, as formerly. We are getting to be a tolerably prudent, decent sort of people. Miners are doing well, are rich and independent. The poor farmers are ruined by the mighty product of their own labor. The merchants are cramped by the amount of their consignments. A merchant had rather have an attack of cholera morbus than have a ship consigned to him now. The idea of advancing freight and charges gives him a bilious cholic about these days."—Boston Courier.

RESCUED FROM THE PHILISTINES.—A sea captain, who gave the name of "John Smith," was found in Broad street last night, in an intoxicated condition, surrounded by a bevy of citizens of doubtful reputation. He was taken to the station house, when he was found to have $136 in his possession, and was provided with lodgings of a less exposed character.—Boston Traveller.

Among the last Kanzas party from Boston, was the Rev. Mr. Gilpatrick, a Baptist clergyman from Maine. He had resolved to make Kansas his future home, and to go out on his own expense; but a Baptist Missionary Association learning his intention, appointed him agent of the Society for Kansas, and have paid all his expenses to the new territory.—Amesbury Villager.

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—A despatch from Fredericton, New Brunswick, announces the defeat of the ministry, but states that the Reciprocity Treaty is safe.

Ten physicians have fallen victims to the epidemic in Savannah since the fever made its appearance there—having faithfully discharged their duties to the sick.

Peter B. Brigham was yesterday convicted in the Boston Municipal Court, of being a common seller of spirituous liquors.—Boston paper.

REFUSE TO LET.—It is stated that the proprietors of the Music Hall refuse to renew the lease of their Hall to Mr. Parker's Society, which expires on the 31st of December next.—Boston Bee.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY, for November, is punctually on our table, from Mr. Morse, of this city, agent for the work.

Contents—The First Discoverers of America; Cupid and the Wasp; Rambles over the Realms of Verbs and Substantives; Israel Potter; Count Stedingk, Part II; Plurality of Worlds; American Wines; Story of an Opera Singer; Cosas de Espana; American Despotisms; Bathing and Bodies; Vespers; The Three Gannets; Causes and Consequences of the Russian War; At Last; Watering Place Worries; Editorial Notes.

This an action in review of a former action between these parties founded upon a writ of Replevin.

LYCEUMS.—The opening lecture before the Mechanics' Lyceum, is to be delivered by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, on Tuesday evening next, one week from to-night, to be followed by other eminent lecturers. We are informed that the tickets to this course are nearly all sold, so that in order to secure a seat, it will be necessary to apply soon. The number of tickets is limited; and no arrangements have been made for the sale of evening tickets, to this, or the Mercantile course.—Such persons as hope to purchase a single evening ticket to hear a favorite lecturer, will probably be disappointed.

The Mercantile course commences on Thursday evening of the present week.

LAUNCH.—A fine ship of about 1,000 tons belonging to Capt. Ichabod Goodwin, was launched on Monday morning at about 8 o'clock, from the Mechanics' Union yard. The fog was so dense at the time, the launch was seen by but few individuals. We understand that the company will now bring their business to a close. The ship yards in this city will do but little work the coming winter, except to finish such ships as are now commenced.

FIRE.—The residents on Linden street, in this city, had a narrow escape from fire on Sunday morning. A new fence built within a few inches of a shed back of Mr. Murphy's Dye House, was discovered to be on fire at about seven o'clock in the morning, and but for a timely discovery, the building must have been burned. The fire is supposed to have been set.

☞ We understand that the old Gilman Blues celebrated their anniversary at the house of their former commander, Leonard Akerman, Esq., on Monday evening. This company has not paraded for nearly twenty years.

ARREST.—We have already mentioned, in Monday's Chronicle, the arrest of Smith, the supposed murderer of Brewster, at S. Berwick. Smith was the last person seen with Brewster, and circumstances tended to create strong suspicion that he was the murderer.—The Sheriff of Merrimack County, N. H., got track of the villain, and on Thursday night about 11 o'clock found him in an obscure, out-of-the-way school house in Brunswick, Vt., opposite N. Stratford. When taken, he had on the very pantaloons of which Brewster was robbed. He was keeping house in the school house with his sister and a man; his arrest, however, didn't disturb the feelings of his sister sufficiently to induce her to get out of bed or take leave of him. The suddenness of his arrest so startled him, that he lost all self control and fell to the floor.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Collins steamship Pacific, Capt. Nye, from Liverpool 18th inst., arrived here this forenoon.

There is absolutely no news from the seat of war, the despatches, such as they are, being altogether conflicting. It is, however, authentic that up to the 9th nothing had been accomplished.

The Allies now number 90,000 men in the Crimea. They occupy a strong position south of Sebastopol, and have all their seige apparatus landed.

Menschikoff continues to hold the field north of Sebastopol with 30,000 men, expecting a reinforcement of 30,000 more.

LATEST.—Latest datest states that Gen Canrobert had ordered the Russian outposts to be driven in on the 9th, and siege batteries erected.

It is confirmed that the Baltic fleet will return home without further operations.

It is surmised that France and England are at present organizing the re-establishment of the Independent Kingdom of Poland.

Jerome Bonaparte has been re-naturalized as a Frenchman.

BREADSTUFFS—Oct. 17.—The market was excited to-day, and quotations had advanced 3s for Flour, and 6s a 6s 9d for wheat since Friday. Corn firm and in good demand.—Western Canal 36s a 37s 6d; Baltimore, 38 a 39s; Ohio 39s; Indian Corn 38 a 39s.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Infernal Machine.—About 2 o'clock this afternoon, considerable excitement prevailed in this city, owing to an explosion which took place at Earle's Hotel, Park row. Fortunately no person was seriously injured. The building was much shaken, and the damage done is estimated at about two thousand dollars. On searching amongst the rubbish, the parts of an infernal machine were discoverd, which, when put together, presented an implement of the most simple construction, and at the same time of the most deadly character. Attached to a spring was a twelve and a half pound keg and a one pound canister of powder, which was ignited by a pistol, the trigger of which was, by a simple contrivance, attached to one of the bags enclosing it, which was of common russet, and so contrived as not to go off when both of the handles were held. A violent pull of either of them put the interior works in motion. No clue has as yet been obtained as to the manner in which the bag obtained admission into the hotel, nor the reason why it was placed there. The strong presumption is that the bag was sent to the hotel for some person to call for.

THE RECENT RAILROAD COLLISION.—The latest accounts of the recent disaster on the Great Western Railroad, about 20 miles west of Chatham, Canada West, state that 48 persons were killed and many wounded, two of whom have since died.

Buffalo, Oct. 28.—The collision on the Great Western Railroad, near Chatham, C. W., was caused by a dense fog.

The locomotive attached to the express train was overturned, crushing the second class passenger car to splinters, and killing or wounding almost every person in it.

Twenty five men and eleven women were killed outright, and twenty one men and twenty women severely injured, one half of whom will probably die.

The deaths and injuries were mainly among emigrants going West.

FIRES.—The distillery of Messrs. S. & W. B. Thayer, near Quincy, Ill., was burned on the 20th. Loss, $55,000—insurance, $5,000.

At St. Louis, on Sunday morning week, at between 1 and 3 o'clock, the large flouring mill of Joseph Powell, with its contents, was destroyed by fire, which was the work of an incendiary. Mr. Powell was insured for $20,000, and will lose about $20,000 more.

A terrible calamity occurred at Marion, Ala., night of the 15th inst., by the burning down of "Howard College." There were sleeping at the time, in the third and fourth stories of the building, about 26 or 28 young men, and two negro men, all of whom were required to jump from the windows, a distance of from 36 to 40 feet, to the ground below. Twenty-two of the number were mangled in a frightful manner, some more and some less. Some of the boys were burned very badly, in addition to other injuries. The town is in mourning, and looks gloomy enough. One of the black men is dead; he rushed down through the flames to the door. Two or three of the boys are expected to die.

A despatch from Cleveland of Oct. 28 says: "A most destructive fire occurred in this city about two o'clock this morning, entailing a loss of considerable over one million of dollars. It originated in the stables attached to the New England Hotel, destroying the hotel and the entire square on the hill where it stood.

NEW AND ATTRACTIVE BOOK.
TOWN AND COUNTRY: OR LIFE AT HOME AND ABROAD,
WITHOUT AND WITHIN US.
By John S. Adams.
The Undersigned will publish, early in December, the above work, with Illustrations from Original designs, in one elegant 12 mo volume of about 400 pages.

It is a book suited for all times and places, and is distinguished by its living, energetic style, boldness of expression, and originality of thought.

The SKETCHES OF LIFE are true to the originals, exhibiting the various phases of Town Life, its Temptations, Trials, Conflicts, and Conquests of Minds struggling amid diverse circumstances, together with rich and pleasing Pictures of the Country, the sinless heart, and the happy home, cannot but deeply interest the reader, and at the same time touch a cord of the heart that will vibrate in strong sympathy with all those who are battling the right.

Of the Stories, 'Saved by Kindness,' 'The Hope of the Fallen,' 'Better than Gold,' and 'The Disinherited,' will not fail to impart a salutary influence.

Of the shorter Sketches and Essays, 'Little Nelly,' 'The Old Tree and its Lessons,' 'Letters and Letter Writing,' 'What is Truth?' 'A Text for a Life-time,' and the 'Immensity of Creation,' will be found to contain many a fine thought, incentive to an independence of mind in the pursuit of Truth. Of the Humorous articles may be noted, the 'Autobiography of an Automaton,' 'Bandbox Movement,' and 'Not made for an Editor.'

Interspersed throughout these pages are many genuine POEMS, not a mere jingling of rhyme, with more regard to sound than sense, but veritable poems; brilliant, soul-electrifying thoughts, clothed in simple words, yet intense in style and earnest in expression, beating in every line a text for a volume. Of these poems, the accomplished Editors of the "Home Journal" speaks in high terms. George P. Morris, whose judgment in such matters is unexceptionable, says, "Some of them are exquisite, and all of them have merit; their publication in a volume will be a valuable contribution to the stores of American literature." N. P. Willis fully coincides with Mr. Morris in his opinion, and adds, "Those that I have read are true poetry: they are well worth publishing." A distinguished literary gentleman of Philadelphia writes as follows: "I have read several of these poems with much pleasure; that they have been praised by two of the most gifted poets of our country is sufficient indication of their merit."

DELICIOUS GRAPES.—Mr. Charles K. West of Concord, some time ago took from a vine planted in the garden of his brother, the late Mr. James West, in Boscawen, some grape scions, and set them in the garden attached to his residence in Concord. The vine from which they were cut had been neglected, through want of the present knowledge of grape culture, and we think never bore fruit in Boscawen.

Mr. West gave us a bountiful specimen of its product under his careful culture. It is a large, globular, white grape, and is, we understand, of hardihood sufficient to enable it to encounter the utmost winter severity. Its flavor is delicious, and its general introduction will be of public benefit.—Concord Statesman.

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.
This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.
CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens has induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation. It will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DEPRESSION OF THE SHIP-BUILDING INTEREST.—About the time of the breaking out of the Eastern war, the opinion was confidently advanced that the carrying trade of the country would receive an immense impetus from that event, as the mercantile marine of England and France would be in a large measure withdrawn from the seas, or occupied in the conveyance of troops, stores, &c. Thus far, the actual result has been widely different. The national interchange of products has greatly diminished, so that ships remain idle at their wharves for lack of occupation; and ship-building has been discontinued at many of the principal points, except to finish old contracts. The depreciation in the value of ships generally, since the beginning of the year, may be set down at fully 25 per cent. In this vicinity, particularly, where there have been launched annually some 60,000 tons, the past few months have been a season of depression rarely experienced. At Williamsburgh and Green Point, where eight shipyards were located, comprising two or three of the largest builders, four of the number have been broken up, and in two or more instances the property sold by the Sheriff. On this side of the river, greater caution has been exercised, and less difficulty experienced, though no money has been made. The prevailing high prices of materials and labor have chiefly contributed to this result, or rather, the attempt to build vessels for less than they were worth. Timber, for which 28 cents per foot was paid termerly, now commands from 36 to 40 cents; iron advanced from $40 to $85 per ton; copper, from 25 cents to 30 cents; labor, from $2 or $5.50 per day to $3; and even for the latter sum, less labor was performed than under the old rates. We hear of several recent failures among Eastern shipbuilders.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

CRIME BY A CATHOLIC PRIEST.—The Nonpareil, of Springfield, Ohio, has an account of a crime committed by a Catholic priest of that place, M. Howard, in breaking open a letter directed to his care, and abstracting therefrom a fifty dollar check on a Springfield bank, sent to a lady of his "charge," from her husband in California. The priest also cut out a part of the letter, in order to obscure the fact of the remittance of the check. The woman took advice, and obtained assistance from a prominent citizen of Springfield, and finally obtained the check and the letter in its mutilated condition. The Nonpareil says the whole facts are well authenticated, and quotes the laws both of the United States and the State of Ohio, which entitle his reverence to a berth in the penitentiary for his offence.

A BANK JOKE.—Last Wednesday evening, after the bank hours, an Irishwoman came to the Amoskeag Bank and found the doors closed, as usudl, at such a time. She inquired of a by-stander why it was shut. He, seeing a good chance to "sell her cheap," informed her that the Bank had failed! The story run like wild-fire among the Irish, and yesterday a great many of them were filled with trepidation, running hither and thither to men whom they knew, to inquire if such was the fact. They met with but one response, that they could have other money or specie for all the bills they had upon it. So the matter quieted down. We need not say that there is no Bank in New England that it is on a firmer basis, or enjoys more the confidence of our community than the Amoskeag Bank.—Manchester Mirror.

THE TRIAL OF EDWARD Z. C. JUDSON.—This trial was brought to a close at Bath, on Friday afternoon. After an investigation of three days, the defendant, who was charged with assaulting and firing a pistol at a colored man on the highway, on the night of the 22d Oct., was acquitted. He was not positively identified by any of the witnesses, some of whom perhaps were not in a condition at the time of the shooting to identify anybody.—The trial produced great interest, and the verdict of acquittal was loudly cheered.—Boston Courier.

GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be creat.d at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

Convention met at Raymond, on the 25th ult., agreeably to the call of the friends of the cause, in Rockingham County. The Convention was called to order by the Rev. Tobias H. Miller, of Portsmouth, and a Committee appointed to nominate a board of officers, who reported the following list, which was accepted.

President, Rev. T. H. Miller, Portsmouth.

Vice Pres. { Rev. David Burt, Raymond. J. W. Ray, A. M. Derry, and Rev. Lyman White, Epping. Wint'p. Hilton, Esq., Deerfield.

Secretaries. { Samuel J. Hall, Derry. Samuel B. Gove, Raymond.

On motion of Mr. Poor, of Derry, a committee of five were appointed to draft resolutions. Rev. David Burt, J. W. Ray, Rev. Wm. T. Herrick, Rev. Lyman White, and Abraham Emerson, were appointed as said Committee.

The call for the meeting was read, in order that all might have a general understanding of the objects of the meeting.

The Convention was well attended by delegations from all parts of the County.

The morning hour was spent in hearing accounts of the condition of the cause of Temperance in various districts. Reports were given from Derry, Raymond, Portsmouth and Epping.

A few interesting remarks were made by Col. D. S. Palmer, of Concord, and others.

Adjourned till half-past 1 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Committee on Resolutions submitted the following list to the Convention:

"Whereas, the vending and drinking of Alcoholic liquors as a beverage, is still prevalent in this County,

"Therefore, Resolved, that we deem it our duty to hold frequent meetings in the various towns of the County, to promote the cause of Temperance, by inducing its friends to exert their moral influence for the suppression of rumselling, and rum drinking.

"Resolved, That we deem it our duty to enforce, so far as possible, the existing law for the suppression of the traffic in Ardent Spirits, while we use our influence to secure a law more stringent in its provisions.

"Resolved, That it is the duty of our Courts when persons are convicted of an illegal sale of ardent spirits, to exact a fine more exemplary than the lowest allowed by law.

"Resolved, That we recommend to the friends of Temperance, in each town in the County, to organize Temperance Watchman Clubs.

"Resolved, That we recommend the appointment of a County Committee, to transact the usual business of such a committee.

"Resolved, That we recommend to the County Committee to appoint forthwith a prosecuting committee, consisting of five.

"Resolved, That we recommend to the County Committee to issue a Circular embracing these Resolutions, and giving information of the time and place of the next County meeting.

"Resolved, That this Convention earnestly request the Judges of our courts not to settle with persons convicted of an illegal sale of ardent spirits, by taking notes, or otherwise than by enforcing the full penalty of the law."

The Resolutions were unanimously adopted without amendment, with the exception of the last, which was amended so as to stand thus:

"Resolved, That this Convention considers the Judges of our courts obligated to the people not to settle with persons convicted of an illegal sale of ardent spirits, by taking notes, or otherwise than by enforcing the full penalty of the law."

It was then adopted.

The following persons were appointed a County Committee:

Frederick W. Rogers, Portsmouth.
William W. Poor, Derry.
Oliver Tilton, Raymond.
David Murray, Esq., Newmarket.
Joseph C. Plummer, Esq., Epping.

Resolution presented by Mr. Nowell of Portsmouth:

"Resolved, That this Convention learns with pleasure that the State Central Committee have secured the services of Rev. E. W. Jackson as a lecturing agent, and would recommend that our friends in the different towns secure his services and render him all the co-operation and aid in their power."

One by Rev. Mr. Cummings of Portsmouth:

"Resolved, That the deliverance of the suffering thousands of women and children who are sunk low in sorrow by the rum traffic, demands the co-operation of all generous and free-hearted men and women."

The resolutions were severally adopted.

Adjourned till half-past 6 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

Convention opened with prayer. Resolution by Mr. Ray, of Derry:

"Resolved, That the rum traffic is continued in consequence of a neglect of duty, on the part of Temperance people:" which was adopted. After which listened to an address by Dr. Parsons, of Maine.

Adjourned till a time designated by the County Committee.

ARITHMETICAL QUESTIONS. For the Chronicle.—I have two Boards, each 20 feet long and 18 inches wide at one end, and 2 inches wide at the other. If I cut each board in two pieces crosswise, the shortest end of No. 1 board will contain the same number of square feet and inches as the largest end of No. 2 board, and vice versa.—How long will each of the four pieces be, and what is the contents of each piece?

Again:—I have a Board 20 feet long and 12 inches wide at one end, and 8 inches wide at the other. If I cut it in two pieces, crosswise, how long will each piece be for one piece to contain 1-10 of a square inch more than half the board, and the other piece to contain 1-10 of a square inch less than half the board? and what is the contents of each piece?

MILL POND MUD.

We wish to call public attention to the proceedings of our city government, in relation to abating a nuisance at the South Mill Pond. In the doings of the Aldermen, as reported for the Daily Chronicle of Friday, Oct. 27, we have this paragraph:

A report was received from the Common Council respecting the removal of the cause of the effluvia from the south mill pond, advising that the flats should be removed; but as the season is so far advanced and no appropriation having been made for the purpose, it was suggested that the future board be advised to prosecute the work.—Adopted.

Here is an acknowledgment of the well known fact that there is a nuisance there, and also of the duty or obligation of the city to remove it.

The question arises at once, When shall it be done? We would answer, Begin now, as the weather becomes cool; take time enough for it; do it thoroughly, and get it all out of the way before the next summer comes on, which otherwise would create a stench like the last, only a little more so.

But no! (say our city Fathers) it ought to be done; the city ought to do it; but we will not touch it, we will neither make a special appropriation, nor procure a loan, nor go on tick—but, we will advise our successors to do it next summer, when the nuisance created by the removal of such matter would be absolutely intolerable.

We thought of some comments, but on the whole we will not make them at present; but offer, instead, some suggestions about doing the work.

A few years ago, Mr. Walker, then proprietor of the North Mills, constructed a proper mudboat, wrought by horse power, by which he removed a large amount of mud from his pond, for which one of the neighboring farmers paid him half the current price of stable manure. This farmer found the manure valuable, and it has proved on his land to be durable.

About 40 years ago, the elder Mr. Walker, who then owned the same North Mills, when about to repair his works, notified the neighboring farmers, and they hauled many hundreds of loads of excellent manure, some of it by driving down their teams into the bed of the pond, and other portions of it by loading it into mudscows or gondolas, as they lay aground at low water, but floated on the tide, as it rose.

In justice to the city council, it should be added, that they suggest the examination of the premises by proper persons, under the direction of the Mayor and Aldermen, and an estimation of the expense, preparatory to operations next year.

We approve of the inspection—but this could be made, estimates and all, by a good engineer, in two or three days; and we can see no good reason for delaying this work till next year;—but on the contrary, many reasons why it ought to be commenced soon, and completed before hot weather comes again.

If it be desirable, besides removing the filth now in the pond, to stop any of the drains which carry it in there, cool weather is better than warm for making this change. If our city fathers do not bestir themselves in this matter presently, suppose their sons get up a general town-meeting, to admonish them of their duty?

MECHANIC SHIP BUILDING CO.—We are requested to correct an error in our statement yesterday, respecting their closing business, and would state that such is not the case.—They are ready to contract for building, and for guarantee of excellence of the ships they have built, in beauty, workmanship, and good qualities, the public need only examine the one launched for I. Goodwin, Esq., on Monday last. She will speak for herself, and we feel assured, will stand a good chance to perform quick and safe passages, without calling on owners or underwriters.

THE NEW SHIP MOULTRIE.—The editor of the Savannah (Ga.) Republican, thus compliments this splendid clipper, recently launched from the yard of Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, of this city:

On Sunday last, while passing along the wharves, we noticed at anchor in the stream a new and remarkably beautiful ship, with the name "Moultrie" floating at her mast-head. On Monday we were kindly received on board and permitted to take a survey of the vessel. We were not disappointed in finding her inner and outward appearance quite in keeping. Everything about her presented fine architectural beauty, and at the same time of staunch and durable construction, reflecting credit upon her builder. She is of 890 tons burthen, has an excellent and comfortable cabin, and her entire accommodations of a superior class. The "Moultrie" is designed for the Charleston trade, and is owned in that city, in New Hampshire, and Wiscasset, Me. Capt. Chapman is her commander.

THE PRACTICAL DENTIST.—Dr. Frank Fuller of this city, has just published the second number of his Dental periodical with this title. The Dr. "believes in advertising," and adopts this as an attractive method of laying his business before the people. The neat little sheet is filled with valuable information respecting teeth and dentistry; complimentary notices of the press, and advertisements of some of our most brisk business men. Dr. Fuller handles a pen equally well with the implements of his profession; but as everybody will see the Practical Dentist, we need not speak for it.

THE PORTSMOUTH "TRIBUNE."—Many a time and oft, letters, papers, &c., come to our post-office, for the "Tribune,"—sometimes "Daily Tribune." We never knew a paper here of that name—though it is put down in some of the old printed lists of newspapers in the United States. Do revise and correct your lists, gentlemen, and say whether you mean Chronicle, Journal, Gazette, Messenger, or Practical Dentist—which are all the papers we afford here.

POLICE COURT.—An Irishman was arraigned before Justice Parker on Monday for selling liquor on Sunday. He was fined $5 and cost.

Samuel Wilson was also convicted, on Tuesday, of selling liquor on the Sabbath, and was fined $5 and cost. He appealed.

THE SOUTH BERWICK MURDER.—On Monday, Oct. 30th, William B. Smith was arraigned at South Berwick, before Abner Oakes, Esq., Justice, for the murder of Chas. Brewster. Owing to the absence of important witnesses, the examination was postponed till Tuesday next, Nov. 7th, at 10 o'clock A. M. We have made arrangements to give our readers an early and accurate report of the testimony in the case.

FIRE.—The large barn of Mr. Joshua Pillsbury, in High street, Newburyport, was destroyed by fire on Monday night, at half-past 10 o'clock, with 15 tons of hay. Insurance $300 at the West Newbury Mutual, which will not more than half cover the loss.

Thus by the reckless folly and wickedness of an incendiary hand, another worthy and industrious man has lost in an hour the hard earnings and savings of years.

Incendiarism is a great and terrible evil in our country, and peculiar to it, flowing from the loose police of our institutions. Our municipalities need reform in this matter, and suspected individuals should be placed as in the cities of Europe, under the silent but sleepless surveillance of the police. The circle of offenders though small is capable of doing infinite mischief. By systematic watchfulness it may be greatly narrowed, by the discharge of numbers of the innocent in each case, and as the circle gradually narrows, vigilance may be increased and concentrated, until the real criminals are ultimately as surely brought to cover, as the fox by the stealthy closing circuit of the hounds.—Newburyport Herald.

DRY TIMES.—The mills of the Manufacturing Company in Dover have run but half of each day for several weeks past in consequence of the scarcity of water. The streams have not been so low since 1846.

A good cause makes a courageous heart, and they that fear an overthrow, are half conquered.

So also does the alcohol without the camphor, if used too frequently, induce insanity in that worst of all forms, delirium tremens.

GREAT EXCITEMENT—ARREST OF AN U. S. OFFICER.—Worcester, 30th.—Asa O. Butman, one of the Boston U. S. Marshal's officers, who was somewhat conspicuous in the arrests of the fugitives, Thomas Sims and Anthony Burns, was found booked at the American House, in this city, yesterday, and was posted throughout the city, in the evening, in placards holding the most violent language.

A committee of citizens went to the hotel, and watched Butman's movements. He there flourished a pistol, and threatened to use it, whereupon a warrant was issued, and he was immediately arrested. He was brought up before the Police Court this morning, charged with carrying concealed weapons. His case was postponed for two weeks, and he was required to give bonds to appear.

A large and excited crowd watched around the court room, and it being evident that Butman's life was in danger, Mr. Geo. F. Hoar, son of the venerable Samuel Hoar, who was driven out of South Carolina, appealed to the crowd to let the kidnapper depart in safety for the city. The crowd then made way, and Butman, accompanied by a guard, went to the railroad station, followed by the populace.

There a number of colored men fell upon him, and would undoubtedly have taken his life, but for the interference of Martin Stowell, Joseph A. Howland, Mr. Hoar, Rev. T. W. Higginson, and Stephen S. Foster, all abolitionists. Butman was hustled into a carriage, accompanied by Mr. Higginson, and escaped with his life.

Mr. Higginson was considerably cut and bruised by missiles thrown at the carriage, and Butman was pelted with rotten eggs and stones, and was kicked and beaten almost to death. He promised never to visit Worcester again, and probably never will. He is now out of harm's way.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—The creditors of Mr. P. B. Manchester, banker, met to-day, and declared a pro rata dividend of five per cent.

Some hogs are arriving, but the weather is too hot for packing. The views of packers range below $4.

Money Market very stringent. Eastern exchange 1 1-2 per cent.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 29.—The extensive foundry of Messrs. Rowe & Bennett, and the carriage factory of Messrs. Bradley & Carson adjoining, on Buffalo street, were destroyed by fire last night. The loss is about $20,000, which is partially covered by insurance.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—Failure.—Messrs. Hambleton & Son, heavy dry goods dealers, have suspended payment.

Truth will lighten ignorance into an amiable simplicity, and render deformity itself agreeable.

Members of Congress in Massachusetts are now elected by plurality, on the first ballot. The law was changed at the last session of the Legislature.

The jail in Dover now contains fourteen occupants, a larger number than for several years.

Miss Martha Parker, of Westmoreland, N. Y., recovered a verdict for $2500 against a fellow who had slandered her, and the young men of the place gave her a gold watch.

THE FINAL WINDING UP.—The Advents stated in their meetings last Sabbath, that it was their last Sabbath day, and that Wednesday was to be the final winding up.—Dover Eag.

REV. T. PARKER'S SOCIETY.—The statement of the Bee and other papers that the proprietors of the Music Hall refuse to renew the lease of the same to Mr. Parker's society after the 31st of December next, is entirely without foundation. The society have a lease extending one year from the 21st of November next.—Boston Telegraph.

BEWARE OF RATS.—Last Sunday evening, soon after six o'clock, a child at the age of twelve months was put to bed with a young sister, ten years of age, in the house of their parents, in Sewall street. About an hour afterward a scream was heard from the infant, upon which the mother hastened to the chamber, and found him, as it was expressed to us, "in a pore of blood." A rat had bitten and torn all the fingers of one of his hands very badly, causing it to bleed profusely, and the little fellow in his movements had dabbled himself all over, so that he was a frightful sight to behold.

One of the lessons to be learned from this incident should be the extermination of every rat in a dwelling house by cat, trap or poison. —Salem Gazette, 27th.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

B. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

Late Commissioner of Patents."

HERTS BROTHERS

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

CHEAP COAL.

The New York Herald and other papers contain the proclamation of the Canadian government anticipating the ratification of the Reciprocity Treaty, and permitting the articles therein mentioned to be introduced into Canada free of duty, on the importers giving bonds to pay the duties if the treaty is not ratified. On this matter the Herald remarks:

What a shameful thing it is that our government should be thus outdone by a petty colonial administration! Here are we paying $7.50 a ton for poor anthracite coal, while the best bituminous is selling at Quebec for $2.50 a ton, and could be brought here for a mere trifle more. Our administration agreed to take bonds for the duties on colonial caught fish: why, in the name of all that is reasonable, was the favor restricted to one out of the list of articles to be exchanged? What objection could there be to such a measure as that taken by the Canadian government? What possible motive can there be for relieving fish from the operation of the duty, and retaining that onus on an article so much more needed, as coal? Can it be that the coal miners of Maryland and Pennsylvania, whose clever combinations to 'sustain trade' are mulcting us of seven dollars and a half where four would give them a profit, have succeeded in gaining a control over the White House? Has anybody in Washington coal lands?

MEMORANDA OF AN ACCOMPLISHED YOUNG LADY.—The Buffalo Republic says, we recently picked up the following memoranda, which we saw dropped by a young lady attired in an embroidered velvet Talma, an exquisite Honiton lace collar, a white hat and plume, and a painfully brilliant silk dress, with exaggerated flounces:

"I must get a—Vail, Broun hoes,
Sarcoknet, Laise,
Gluvs, Shimmyzet,
Kulone."

We confess we were startled at the last item, but we think it means cologne. The whole simply proves that wealth and intellect do not always hunt in couples.

A gentleman having occasion to call upon a physician in Cincinnati, the other day, stopped at the door and rang the bell. The summons was answered by a Dutch servant girl, of whom he inquired if the doctor was in.

"No!"

"Is his lady in?"

"Yes!"

"Is she engaged?"

The girl looked at him a moment, while a curious expression settled on her features, as she replied:

"Why, she is already married!"

M. de Balzac was lying awake in bed, when he saw a man enter his room cautiously, and attempt to pick the lock of his writing desk. The rogue was not a little disconcerted at hearing a loud laugh from the occupant of the apartment, whom he supposed asleep.—'Why do you laugh?' asked the thief. 'I am laughing my good fellow,' said M. de Balzac, 'to think what pains you are taking, and what a risk you run, in hope of finding money by night in a desk, where the lawful owner can never find any by day.' The thief 'evacuated Flanders' at once.

STAMPEDE AMONG THE AFRICANS.—The St. Louis Democrat says that on the night of Sunday, the 22d Oct., some fifteen or twenty slaves departed from that city in a body, for the colder climates of the North, under the guidance, it is supposed, of the remarkably efficient underground railroad agents who reside in or about that city. Heavy rewards were offered by their owners for their recapture, and it was thought that unless very skilfully managed by their pilots, they would be recaptured.

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel, making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1854.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM.

We have already spoken of the unlawful doings at Ellsworth, Maine, where the people tarred and feathered a priest of the Roman Church, named Bapst; and in doing so, we said the conduct of the mob cannot be successfully defended. The papers generally have taken similar ground, only most of them go a great deal farther, and not a few fall into the absurdity of treating their assault on him as gratuitous, wanton malignity. One very able and valuable paper before us says:

"He is represented to be a very mild, upright and quiet man, and his sole offence is that he is a Catholic. So it seems that religious freedom cannot be enjoyed in this country."

This representation is very far from the truth, and could be gathered only from such a one-sided course of reading as no editor ought to pursue. It is manifest that his sole offence is not that he is a Catholic, for other Catholics by hundreds live there unharmed.

The term Religious Freedom, employed here, is liable to great abuse. What is religious freedom? We have not the Constitution of Maine before us; but that of New Hampshire, which is probably similar in this respect, provides that no citizen or subject shall be hurt or molested for his religious worship, profession, sentiments or persuasion; provided he do not disturb the public peace, or disturb others in their religious worship.

Now it has been asserted and not denied, that this Bapst interfered in a priestly manner with the schools, bibles, and town affairs of Ellsworth, disturbing the peace in almost every way possible. And worse than all the rest, it is said and not denied, that "his cruelty has driven to despair at least one woman, who never did aught against him; and that he caused the poor woman in Belfast, and caused her to abandon the husband of her love because a protestant!"

Does any one say, that he only acted out the rules of his church, in this cursing? Perhaps it may be so; and if so, what sort of church shall we call it?

Does any one say, he broke no law? He may not have broken the letter of any statute of Maine; and probably the grand jurors, who would not find a bill against the men who mobbed him, have also broken no statute law.

But he violated the spirit of all the laws of christian kindness, and most of those of common decency, if these transactions are correctly reported. It is manifest that he somehow provoked the indignation of the people of Ellsworth, to the highest pitch—so that they inflicted upon him an unlawful and unusual punishment—but we have yet to see it proved that he did not richly deserve one much more severe, inflicted by the law. When we see the testimony, we will make a note of it.

THE KANSAS HERALD OF FREEDOM.—We have received the first number of a large and handsome weekly newspaper, with the above name, printed by steam, in Wakarusa, Nebraska Territory, Saturday, Oct. 21, 1854—$2 per annum. It professes to be "A family newspaper—Independent on all subjects." Its motto is, "Be just; let all the ends thou aimest at be thy country's, God's, and truth's." The editor and publisher sold out his paper in Pennsylvania, to establish this new Herald,—having for his object, "to make Kansas a free State." The paper has a neat vignette at its head,—of which the editor gives this glowing description:

It represents a sunset view on the prairies, with the meandering of the Kansas, and also an indistinct view of the mouth of the Wakarusa; while above, on the southern bank of the Kansas, is seen the beautiful city, which will soon have an existence other than in name. The steamboat is rapidly making its way up the river, heavily laden with human freight, while on the left may be seen a locomotive and train of passenger cars, probably the first trip over the Pacific Railway. In front a train of emigrant wagons are observed, while near them on the left is a small party, perhaps of our southern brethren, who look rather disheartened in view of the immense tide of free laborers who are hourly making their way to the interior portions of the territory.

Portsmouth has at least one representative in this new territory—Mr. Anjevine Hanscom, son of Oliver Hanscom, Esq.,—a young man of enterprise, industry, and excellent habits—just the kind to make a New England of Nebraska. Success to him and all his compeers.

☞ We have seen a letter from Philadelphia, confirming the report which we doubted, of Mr. Garrison's having said, that in the Declaration of Independence, we ignored the Bible.

THE DUTY ON COAL.—The Washington Star thinks there is little doubt that before the end of the second week of the coming session of Congress the duty on coal will be repealed, so that this important article will be admitted duty free into our ports. The public men of all parties seem to be in favor of such a measure at Washington.

LOCAL.

TREES IN CEMETERIES.

The City of Portsmouth owns three or four old burial grounds, all but one of them being small; only one or two of them being now used as places for new burials; and all of them needing a small expenditure of money, for their appearance and health's sake.

To begin with the small burial ground near the Pleasant st Church: no burials have taken place there for a considerable time; the tomb there we believe is empty; but whether this latter statement be correct or not, the ground is simply a piece of neglected ground through which no person walks, but where grass grows rank, lodges, falls, and rots, year by year.—The plot of ground is only about 100 feet wide, and perhaps 500 or 600 feet long, from Pleasant street to the pond. It is treeless, and almost without a shrub, save one bush which grows on the top of the tomb.

Now what we would propose is this, viz:—that the Tree Society, if we have one, or the City Government if we have one; or if not, then the wealthy and liberal men and women in that neighborhood, shall set out a row of elms, perhaps one dozen, on a line through the centre of that yard, from Pleasant street to the water. In ten years, these dozen elms, costing about as many dollars, would form a continuous and agreeable shade, ornamental to the neighborhood, and healthful to the people. Then a path might be leveled beneath the trees, the engraved stones righted, and the place, not desecrated at all as the rest of the dead, might be a pleasant place for the living.

The old ground at the Point of Graves, is nearly of the same size, but of a square shape, and might be bordered with trees, or planted with two rows. More trees would also make the old North, and Cotton's burial grounds look better. Will not some friends of trees go so far as to get liberty from the City, and plant a dozen elms in the Pleasant street ground to begin with?

THE SOUTH MILL-POND.

Messrs. Editors:—I am pleased to see the attention of the city authorities called to the duty of removing the nuisance occasioned by the flats in the South mill pond. The writer very properly suggests several methods by which the mud that causes the unpleasant effluvia at low water, may be removed. There is one other method I wish to have considered by the community or city authorities—a plan which in the writer's opinion would be preferable to removing the mud from the pond.

This is, to purchase the South mill pond, and also so much of the land opposite as would be necessary to fill it up, with the exception of a canal ten or fifteen feet wide to let off the fresh water. The pond could be purchased for about $3000, and sufficient land from Mr. Elwyn for a small sum, I suppose, as it would raise the price of the remainder of his lands to that of valuable house lots. In doing this the city would be able to sell several hundred house lots, and it would result in great gain to the city, in the writer's opinion.

N.

LOST TICKETS.—The opening lecture of the Mercantile Course will be given at the Temple, this evening. We are requested by the Lecture Committee to state that they will not hold themselves responsible for replacing tickets which may be lost. It would be well for holders to write their names distinctly on the back of their tickets, so that if found they can be returned to the loser.

The doors of the Temple will be opened at 7 o'clock precisely, at which hour the bell will be rung.

SHADOWS SECURED.—A large company of young ladies and gentlemen, pupils of a school in North Hampton, came to this city on Wednesday, to have their daguerreotypes taken—which was done by Gregory, in his usual good style.

☞ Rev. Moses Ballou of Hartford, Conn. formerly pastor of the Universalist Society in this city, will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday.

REV. MR. KING IN HAMPTON.—Rev. T. Starr King, we learn, delivered a lyceum lecture in the Baptist Church at Hampton last week, before a large audience, who were delighted with his lecture and prevailed upon him to promise them another at a future day. We learn, too, that the wardens of the Congregational Society in Hampton refused the use of their house to the committee who had engaged the services of Mr. King. Such treatment as this to one of the most eminent of American divines comes with a specially bad grace from the wardens of a society which, but a few years since, was wont to worship in a house in which were held town meetings, where little boys sold molasses candy around the pulpit, men retailed cider by the threshold, and people got angry and quarrelled and pushed each other over the pews.—Messenger.

Court of Common Pleas—Adj. Term.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 1.

In the case State vs. Geo. W. Varnum, indicted at this term for an assault upon one Richard Emery, of Auburn, on the 30th of March last, to which the respondent plead not guilty, and afterwards retracted his first plea and plead guilty, the court ordered the respondent to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

State vs. Joseph Locke was commenced last evening. Respondent was indicted on a charge of stealing a gold watch, chain, breast pin, and a sum of money, the property of Capt. W. H. Parsons, from a bathing house at Rye Beach during the past season. Defence, that the prisoner was intoxicated at the time of the alleged robbery, and as soon as he became sober and found that he had the property he concealed the same until he could see the owner and restore it. The jury brought in this forenoon a verdict of guilty. Hatch for state, Goodall for defendant.

No. 115, National Lancers v. Joseph A. Lovering is now on trial. This is an action brought to recover the value of a number of horse equipments sold by Piff, a Boston military company, to a troop of horse, of which the Deft. was a captain at the time of the sale.

The defence is that only a part of the articles in question were contraced for, and that they were defective and therefore useless, and that the balance had been paid for.

Shapley and Marston for Piffs; Hatch for Deft.

LECTURE AT NEW CASTLE.

On next Sunday evening, Deo Volente, in the Congregational Church at New Castle, Rev. T. H. Miller of this city, will deliver his Lecture on the Life, Character and Times of Joshua Moodey.

The services will be opened with prayer and singing; and a collection will be taken at the close: they will commence at six o'clock, should the weather be fair,—but be postponed if stormy.

Mr. Moodey was the first pastor of the first congregational church in Portsmouth, and was imprisoned at New Castle by Governor Cranfield.

This Lecture on his Life, has been delivered in Portsmouth, before the Young Men's Christian Association, and is spoken of in the following terms, by the Portsmouth newspapers.

LIFE & TIMES OF REV. JOSHUA MOODEY.—This was the subject of an interesting lecture delivered before the Young Men's Christian Association on Tuesday evening, by Rev. T. H. Miller. Mr. Moodey was the first pastor of the first Church in Portsmouth. His life was full of incidents, which were well described by the lecturer. Mr. Miller has taken much pains in collecting the materials of what would be a popular lecture for any lyceum.—Portsmouth Journal.

Rev. T. H. Miller of this city, last evening delivered in Washington Hall, to the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association and as many of their friends as the hall would accommodate, a lecture on "The life, character and Times of Rev. Joshua Moodey," who was the first pastor of the first church in Portsmouth, and one of the moral heroes of the times in which he lived. The lecture was full of historical information in regard to the early days of the colonies of New Hampshire and Massachusetts, and was listened to with marked attention and evident interest by the audience.—Rockingham Messenger.

Rev. T. H. Miller gave a lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association of this city, upon the life, character and times of Rev. Joshua Moodey, the first minister of Portsmouth. Moodey was a sturdy non-conformist, an independent man, and held a large influence with the early settlers of this vicinity.—Mr. Miller's lecture is a forcible and interesting delineation of the man and his times, and is worthy of repetition here and elsewhere.—New Hampshire Gazette.

FOR THE SOUTH.—We learn from the Congregational Journal that the Rev. E. D. Eldridge, of Salisbury, formerly of Hampton, has been appointed Principal of the Female Institute at Monticello, Ga. Being fully persuaded that the state of his health requires him to seek a residence in a warmer climate, he has decided to leave his people in a few weeks, to enter on the duties of his new relation.

FIRE IN NEWBURYPORT.—A small barn on the estate of the late Amos Pearson, containing several carriages and harnesses and about half a ton of hay, was consumed by fire about 11 o'clock on Monday night. Loss about $300—insured $130 at the Atlantic Mutual, Exeter, 1st class.—Herald.

SAD DISAPPOINTMENT.—On Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, that being the appointed time for the ending of all sublunary things, according to the Millerite belief, some forty of the believers in that doctrine assembled at the corner of Fourth and C streets, South Boston, arrayed in white robes, and anxiously awaiting the moment when they should make their grand ascension. Whether they are still waiting we know not, but they were certainly disappointed in their expectation of "going up" last evening.—Boston Journal.

OFFICER BUTMAN arrived in Boston in the evening about 8 o'clock, having ridden all the way from Worcester in a private carriage. He was so roughly handled by the mob, that he may not be able to leave his room for several days. He attributes his escape with his life entirely to the exertions of Messrs. Higginson, Hoar, and others of those whose conduct in the Burn's affair he went to Worcester to aid investigating. He was much injured by persons punching him with umbrellas at Worcester depot.—Boston Atlas.

ROBBERY.—Mr. Charles Merrow of this town, was knocked down on Tuesday evening about 12 o'clock, on the corner of Charles and Main streets, and robbed of a watch and about $5 in money. Two or three arrests have been made, one of which was a darkey, known generally about town as "Dandy Paul." He was put under a keeper and was looking about in the vicinity of the railroad crossing on Franklin street for the purpose of procuring bonds; on seeing the cars going by he took leg bail and jumped on behind, and has not since been arrested.—Dover Enq.

The duel at Hoboken was "all about a woman." Johnson, a young liquor dealer from South Carolina, fell in love with a respectable young woman of Hoboken and asked her to join him in a walk. She declined, and he with two friends went to the Barclay street hotel to drown his reflections in some pleasant beverage. While there Norton entered, and astonished him with the news that he was on his way to Hoboken, with the young lady aforesaid, and that he had left her in the ferry house. Johnson concealed his chagrin for a time, and with his friends repaired to the boat, where a quarrel took place, which resulted in the duel.

The fillibusters, according to the N. Y. Tribune, are in a bad way. The Washington correspondent of that paper represents that the agents who have lately been in Washington, found President Pierce undecided, Marcy inflexibly hostile, Jeff. Davis jealous of Quitman, and hostile from that cause, and Cushing the only enthusiast in their scheme. They have also heard that since the appointment of Gen. Concha several wealthy Creoles have abandoned their support of the expedition, which was to sail from New Orleans, Galveston, and other ports, the first part of November, but which is likely to be delayed from want of sympathy at the seat of government and other causes.

BARNUM'S MENAGERIE AND CIRCUS.—The "grand travelling exhibition" of Barnum has at length dissolved, and one hundred and twenty of the horses were sold at public auction in New York on Thursday. Barnum was not, as many have supposed, the sole owner of the menagerie. He had two partners, the one being Mr. Seth B. Howes, late of Franconi's Hippodrome, and the other Mr. Sherwood E. Stratton, the father of Tom Thumb. These three persons had been in partnership four years, during which time their receipts had amounted to nine hundred thousand dollars.

BANGOR, Oct. 24.—Our business horizon is dark. There are some failures. Manufacturers are placed in a strait place. In St. John are lying dead $5,000,000 worth of timber waiting demand. Much of this is owned in Bangor. On the whole there is remarkable endurance and resolute holding out.

ATTEMPT AT FIRE.—On Saturday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock, says the Manchester Mirror, a gentleman saw a flash close by his house, at first suggesting lightning; but on reaching the spot he found a barn, only a few feet from his house, in a blaze. The fire shew through a small air-hole, about five feet from the ground; and the discoverer, by dashing a pail of water in at this hole, extinguished the flames. Under the hole was a large quantity of fine straw, which had been used in beds, and the fire had eaten a hole into it as large as a man's hat. Had the straw been coarse, the flames would have spread rapidly. The paper which had contained the powder, was found on the spot. The Mirror thinks the incendiary will be caught.

DEMOCRACY.—The Boston Post, in speaking of the Pennsylvania election, says "the defeat of the liquor law is a democratic victory."

"LAYING TO IN A DENSE FOG."—A letter from New York says:—"Upon good authority (that of a gentleman in the habit of crossing the Atlantic four or five times during the year) I have it, that the English steamers frequently lay to, and generally run more slowly in these fogs. In one case, says my informant, when one of the Cunarders was laying to in a dense fog, the passengers, at a meeting held for he purpose, voted to request, and did request the captain to proceed, and with his accustomed rapidity, offering to take the "risk" upon themselves. "Gentlemen," was the reply, "you cannot even assume the responsibility that rests upon me as a commanding officer, in so far as your own lives and property are concerned; and much less, the risk of this ship, the cargo, the crew, and myself. I decline acceding to your request, but shall remain where I am until the fog lifts."

GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoro' scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.

Medical properties of these waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and for that reason have become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owing to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutic Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,
Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metalic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor out the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

LIFE INSURANCE.—Let any husband, father or son, ask himself, "If I were to die tonight would those who are dear to me be safe from the pangs of want? Would those children have a comfortable home, and the means of education? Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by forced sales of an administrator to meet the demands of creditors—sales made when the market tends downward, and fair prices cannot be realized?" How few can answer these questions to their satisfaction! They fear to ask them, and cherish the belief that they have a long lease on life. This is both foolish and cowardly. The brave man looks the danger in the face, that he may grapple with it; the wise man, that he may study its nature and palliate its threatenings. This means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all—it is LIFE INSURANCE.—Boston Odd Fellow.

LECTURES ON FRANCE.—Rev. John Lord, the able and popular lecturer on History, is delivering a course of lectures on the History of the Bourbons, before the Mercantile Library Association, in their commodious lecture room in Astor Place. Seldom have we enjoyed a literary entertainment so rich and instructive, as we are sharing in common with the large and intelligent audience in attendance upon these lectures.—N. Y. Independent

Rev. J. H. Hanson, recently deceased, was assistant minister of Calvary Church, New York. He it was, who wrote so much to prove Rev. Eleazor Williams to be the last Bourbon Prince. He was an Englishman by birth, and a descendant of Oliver Goldsmith, and like his progenitor, died poor; a collection is now being taken up for the benefit of his family.

A correspondent of the Albany Evening Transcript records the suicide of a Miss Haley in Pittstown, Rensselaer county, because her mother had whipped her the day previous. The correspondent adds that she jumped into the creek which contained about three feet of water, with her sun bonnet tied over her face, and was found dead there the next day.

ACQUITAL OF CAPT. DANA.—The Washington Star states that the court martial which assembled a Fort Snelling on the 17th of Aug. last, for the trial of Capt. Napoleon J. T. Dana, Assistant Quartermaster, upon charges of peculation in connection with the discharge of his official duties at that post, has honorably acquitted that officer of all the specifications of all the charges brought against him.

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be present, at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient tangible evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel,

making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this community,

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Peduzzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste; and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobins could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's office, 240 Green st.

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Sold by all druggists, New York.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1854.

CENTRAL AMERICA.—The New York Tribune publishes the following "special despatch," with the remark "we shall be gratified to find this intelligence confirmed"—

Washington, Oct. 31.—I am informed from an undoubted source that the British Government has issued orders to its naval officers and diplomatic agents in the West Indies and Central America, which amount to the abandonment of the Mosquito Protectorate as far as Greytown is concerned. These officers are directed not to interfere there any farther than to protect recognized and bona fide British subjects; not to assert any right of sovereignty or any jurisdiction over the place; not to intermeddle with any quarrel between the Transit Company and the town, or with any controversy that may there be going on as respects titles to land or the right of possession, and to leave occupants and claimants to settle it as they can. They are not even to lend any support to the titles to land issued hitherto by the former British Vice-Consul at that place. Claims of actual British subjects for damages in the Hollins bombardment are to be taken notice of, and to be reported, but nothing more. And if the American vessels in the port salute the flag of Nicaragua, or any other flag, nothing is to be said or done against it. In a word, the Protectorate is altogether abandoned, at least at San Juan; and if Nicaragua could now take possession of the place, she would meet no opposition from the British Government.

Costa Rica has also taken an important step in that region. Some forty or fifty miles above the mouth of the San Juan, a considerable stream, known as the San Carlos, empties into that river. At the mouth of the affluent there is an island commanding the navigation of the San Juan, and this island Costa Rica has garrisoned and is fortifying. At the same time she has notified the Transit Company that she is about to take possession of the entire right bank of the San Juan down to its mouth, a territory she has long claimed. This includes Punta Arenas, where are the buildings of the Transit Company, which, if the design be carried out, will have to decamp to the Greytown side of the river. It may be doubted, however, whether Costa Rica can raise soldiers enough for such a scheme.

The North Carolinian, in remarking on the late speeches of General Cass, says—

Without wishing to be understood as apologising for any erroneous opinion entertained by northern men with regard to the institution of slavery, we remark that we see nothing in the above to weaken our confidence in the soundness of Gen. Cass. The sentiments he entertains are those of nine tenths of the northern people; and, while we could wish they were otherwise, the privilege of forming and entertaining their own private views should not be denied. Millard Fillmore, the great idol of southern whigs, does not think slavery beneficial, but, on the contrary, he views it as a great evil; and, in fact, nearly every man in the free states looks upon the institution with disfavor. If they are willing to yield to the south her just rights, we don't care a straw what they think of slavery in the abstract. All we want is our rights under the constitution, and no anti-slavery restrictions put on territory acquired by the blood and treasure of all sections.

Sure enough. What should they care what I think, if I say nothing and do nothing?

BLESSINGS MISUNDERSTOOD.—A writer from Montreal to the Newburyport Herald, speaking of the runaway slaves, says:

Poor, foolish fellows! if they could only appreciate the blessings of SLAVERY in our FREE Republic, as some of our eminent divines expound them, how different would be their feelings as they felt themselves cut off from the enjoyment of the task-master and the lash. Of course a man's owning himself, and wife, and children, cannot compensate himself for the loss of such blessings as these. Perhaps slaves will one day find this out, and then we shall not need to have chains around Boston Court House, or the city placed under martial law, to send a man back to slavery.

TRADE, AT HOME AND ABROAD.—The Newburyport Herald says:

The material advance in breadstuffs, equivalent to 75 cents a barrel on Flour, reported by the last steam packet from Liverpool, has produced no effect on the market, the price having fallen 25 cents a barrel, since the news. The favorable news in regard to the advance in prices, has been more than neutralized by the large failures of the houses of James McHenry and others, engaged in the grain and provision trade.

THE OYSTER PANIC.—A correspondent, who states that he usually supplies from one hundred and fifty to two hundred families in this city with oysters, reports that during the past few days his "occupation has been gone," and he has been reckless enough during the idleness incident to the dull state of his business, to eat his own oysters, and although he has desperately devoured several dozen of said bivalves each day, he is alive and anxious to have the present oyster panic subside.

In New York the dealers hire men to stand at their counters and devour oysters during the hours when customers usually frequent their establishments. Good wages are given, and the example of the paid eaters has quite an influence on the transient customers.—Boston Transcript.

OYSTERS.—The oyster panic in New York, consequent upon the sudden death of several distinguished individuals, who had partaken of oysters, by cholera, has involved many dealers in heavy losses, and disclosed the astonishing quantity of these bivalves used by the people of that city. The daily sales of oysters in that city is stated at 330,000, though, by comparing the figures, we make it only $18,000. This last figure even, shows an enormous consumption of them, and it is said that 200,000 people in the city and its suburbs, more than one third of the population, are daily consumers of them.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY, for November, is just received via Fetridge & Co., Boston, and J. F. Shores, Portsmouth.

The first article is a chapter of Abbott's Saint Napoleon, profusely and handsomely illustrated.

The second is one of the best articles on Fashion's Changes, which we ever saw, principally because it contains 48 well engraved figures, illustrating fashions of different years, on males and females. If there were not one word of printing, except the dates of the fashions, the satire would be easily understood,—for here are the old fashions, "as large as life, and twice as natural." We would like to see the beau or belle that can look at these pictures, and preserve a face of decent length through the operation. We don't say these things in the hope to convert any body: for the author of the article says most truly,

This caprice, which looks only to change for its aliment, is as old as human invention. I maye no doubt that Eve never wore twice the same pattern of fig-leaves, while Adam searched diligently the forests through, to diversify the colors of his vegetable breeches.

There are other spirited cuts, and good articles, which will interest the reader.

☞ We have received a copy of Putnam's Monthly for November, from Fetridge & Co., Boston, via J. F. Shores, jr., of this city.

Israel Potter; American Wines; and American Despotisms,—are prime articles.

☞ Fetridge & Co., Boston, have just issued a pamphlet of 32 pages, of a stirring character, entitled "A Letter of Inquiry to Ministers of the Gospel of all Denominations, on Slavery, by a Northern Presbyter."

RETALIATION.—The citizens of Arkansas are enraged against those of Cincinnati on account of the recent Ohio election, and they propose to quit trading with that city and to patronise Louisville and St. Louis. They state that the trade of Van Buren with Cincinnati is $100,000 a year, and they ask the merchants of St. Louis and Louisville to establish a line of steamers to the Arkansas river and communicate with them.

THE CATHOLICS IN PALMER.—The Palmer Journal says that quite a sectarian excitement now exists in that town. The Catholics are making a desperate effort to counteract the American vote this fall, and twenty four Irishmen are about to be naturalized to vote at the coming election. The same paper says that "no Roman Catholic priest is allowed to visit the paupers in the State Almshouse, and the inmates are required to attend prayers every day, and church service on the Sabbath, at which the Catholic portion of them make no little complaint."

The Irish Militia Regiment, the Meagher Grenadiers, of Jersey City, held an indignation meeting Tuesday, and passed strong resolutions rebuking the Catholic priests for their denunciation of them on Sunday last, and refusing to tolerate the interference of the priests in matters of a civil or military character.

A VIOLENT WOOER.—In the Police Court this morning, a negro of intense blackness named Charles Johnson, came up charged with a violent assault upon a white woman named Ellen Shellen. It appears that Johnson has been for some time unsuccessfully wooing the Shellen woman to become his wife. Finally he became so desperate that he threatend to kill her if she did not marry him, and one night, getting her into a house, he made a violent assault upon her. This novel method of courting did not suit the wife.—Boston Traveller.

HOW TO WED A WOMAN.—Women have really more taste in matrimonial affairs than we are apt to give them credit for. Next to the suitor's money, the lady has undoubtedly an eye to his person, and admires a manly stature and a handsome limb none the less because she happened to marry a manikin instead of a man. A story is told of a Roman suitor who obviously understood human nature—or rather woman nature—far better than our modern beaux. Going to woo a fair lady, he took with him a bag of gold and a bar of iron; the former he threw at her feet, the latter he bent in her presence. Spine and "spelter" did the business.

ONE OF THE "STRONG-ARMED WOMEN."—The Manchester Mirror, in noticing the arraignments at the opening of the Court in Hillsborough county, on Monday last, says four of them were females, among whom were the two that broke out of Amherst jail, stole a horse and wagon and went to Manchester, where they put up their horse to hay and grain. The Mirror says:

"One of them was put back in the same place in the attic of the jail, 24 feet from the ground, and strong bolts and bars put into the window. But she is one of the 'tigers,' and by means of a post in her room, which she tore down, she broke one of the bolts, and again made an escape. But the sheriff heard the breaking of the bolt and the jump, and came into the yard in season to find her."

AN INCIDENT.—The Lawrence Home Review relates the following incident which occurred a few days since in that city:

Sunday evening two pedestrians passing along Lawrence street, very suddenly came to a stop about six feet below the surface, in the sewer which our friend Carter is digging in that vicinity.

'Och hone!' says one, is it purgatory I'm in?

'Bedad its a hole the Know Nothings have fixed for Irishmen,' says the other.

'Sure I didn't see the lanthern that was hanging at the top.'

With such like expressions they were helped out, and limped off breathing vengeance on all persons who make holes in the street, and upon the Know Nothings in particular.

LOCAL.

Reported for the Chronicle.

Court of Common Pleas—Adj. Term.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

THURSDAY, Nov. 2.

In No. 115, National Lancers v. J. A. Lovering, the Jury returned their verdict on the coming in of Court this afternoon, for the Plffs. for the sum of $173.87.

No. 194, Wm. H. Davis v. Town of Barrington, is now on trial. This is an action brought by Plff. upon a written contract, to recover of Deft. for labor bestowed and materials furnished by Plff. in building a new highway in said town. The amount claimed by Plff. is $100.

Bartlett & Small for Plff.; Hatch & Webster for town.

No. 205, Bennett v. Moulton;
" 220, Jewell v. Rolfe & al.;
" 231, Towle v. Chapman;
" 241, Coburn v. Odell;
" 246, Phillips v. Bennett,
—are next in order.

Upon the recommendation of the Bar, Mr. Horatio Parker, of this city, student in the office of A. R. Hatch, Esq., was admitted to practice as an Attorney in all the courts of this State.

There is some prospect that the Court will continue in session another week, Judge Morrison having expressed his intention to remain as long as there are any cases to be tried.

☞ The First Course of Lectures before the Mercantile Library Association, was opened on Thursday evening at the Temple, by a lecture from Mr. E. P. Whipple.

His subject was Individual Character and Culture; in the discussion of which he paid a higher tribute to industry than to genius, and took special notice of three obstacles in the way of high intellectual attainment, viz, Indolence, self-complacency, and fear. The lecture was delivered with ease and fluency, without manuscripts; it abounded in studied antithesis, and other artistic beauties of language, in which the orator delights to clothe the common and pleasant thoughts on which he founds his lectures.

The lecture was followed with a Poem, or rather with beautiful extracts from a Poem, by James T. Fields, on Eloquence; in the course of which, though the poet truly said he could not tell us what eloquence was, yet he made us feel its power.

The house was filled with an attentive and inspiring audience; and as the President of the Association stated that every ticket had been sold, this lecture must be considered the opening of a pleasant and successful course.

SOMETHING NEW.—Prof. Armes, who has been lecturing on educational subjects in the principal cities and towns in the United States and Canada, proposes giving a lecture on the subject of Memory, this evening, Nov. 3d, at the Temple, at 7 o'clock. One or more persons of this city will test the capacity of the new "aid to memory," by giving before the audience the result of a short attention to the rules, having no analogy to any former systems upon this subject. The shape in which Prof. A. comes recommended by many of the most eminent men in the country, should insure a full house. The lecture is to be free, and a collection will be taken to defray the expenses of lighting the hall.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—On Sunday evening, in the Vestry of the Temple, there is to be a Temperance Meeting of social character, commencing at half-past 6. All are invited to attend.

☞ In the Board of Aldermen, last evening, the only business transacted, beside the approval of a few bills, was the granting of the petition of Moses H. Goodrich and others for a sidewalk on North street.

☞ Strangers in the city should not leave before they have visited the beautiful frog-pond on Market Square.

We see many jokes in the newspapers respecting the late election campaign at the West. The last one that has fallen under our notice is a story told of Mr. Hendricks, the present Representative in Congress from the sixth district of Indiana. Mr. H. having voted for the Nebraska bill, and being a candidate for re-election, was addressing an assemblage of his constituents upon the beauties of "popular sovereignty," when he was interrupted by a worthy Quaker:

'Friend Hendricks, I understand from thy discourse thee is much in favor of popular sovereignty. Now if it should happen that thee should be beaten in this race for Congress, by Mr. Barbour, thee would probably regard it as an indication that the people of this district are opposed to the repeal of the Missouri compromise.'

'Certainly,' said Mr. Hendricks.

'Then, friend Hendricks, would thee feel bound by the principle of popular sovereignty to vote for its restoration next winter?'

Mr. Hendricks, with some hesitation, answered that he would.

'Well, then,' said Friend Quaker, 'we will try and elect Mr. Barbour, and thus secure thy vote for that very desirable measure.'

The people of the district liked the Honest Quaker's suggestion so well that they adopted it, and elected Mr. Barbour by a handsome majority. Mr. Hendricks will therefore be compelled to reject his own platform either way, by voting to repeal the Nebraska bill, or by discarding his own exposition of the doctrine of popular sovereignty.—Nat. Int.

Hon. Solon Borland, of Arkansas, late U. S. Minister to Central America, announces in the Little Rock papers that he has "resumed the practice of medicine and surgery, and will in future devote himself exclusively to the duties of his profession."

NEW BUCKWHEAT—For sale by

o21 W. SIMES & CO.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 1.—The pilot boat Dart has arrived from Key West, which place she left 26th ult. She reports that steamer Isabel, from Charleston for Havana, had put into Key West with her shaft broken, and that, if the weather should be moderate, she would return to Charleston with one wheel. One hundred and fifty thousand bushels of salt had been shipped from Inagua this season, and two hundred thousand bushels were on hand. Sir Alexander Bannerman, the new Governor, arrived on the 11th.

SUCCESSFUL SWINDLE.—A friend of ours had a bill presented at his house yesterday, purporting to be from the Croton Aqueduct Department, which, seeming to be in proper form was paid by the family in his absence. Believing this water tax to have been previously paid, our friend applied to the proper office, and was informed that the bill did not emanate from there, and that he had been defrauded. To insure prompt payment, the bill was indorsed in pencil with directions to the bearer to threaten a stoppage of the water in case of default.

Another instance of successful fraud occurred within our knowledge not long since. The sympathies of a worthy lady were excited by a tale of distress, and she was induced to contribute liberally towards the funeral expenses of the applicant's child, represented to be lying dead in his house. Subsequent investigation showed that the address given was fictitious.—New York Journal of Commerce.

It is a pity that rogues cennot be induced to employ in any honest undertaking half the ingenuity some of them show in inventing ways for acquiring dishonest gain.

THE LIFE BOATS OF THE ARCTIC.—The metallic life boat from the ill-fated Arctic, which was brought to this port on the steamship Osprey, on Saturday last, was this morning put into the Delaware, at Brown & Godwin's wharf, above Pine street. A great number of persons got into it, to test its capacity, and it was found that the boat would bear many more than had been rescued by it from the disastrous wreck. The experiment attracted quite a crowd.—Philadelphia Bulletin, Oct. 28.

DIPLOMATIC CONFERENCE.—The London Globe says—"A conference is assembled on the continent which is without precedent, acting, as we understand it under directions of the President of the United States. The Ambassadors of that country are assembled to exchange information, to consult and report to their government on the state of affairs on the Continent. America, trade is carried to every part of the world, and the conference has in view the due protection and advancement of those interests in any new arrangement of treaties that may be made in Europe." Mr. Buchanan left London on Saturday, and he has already been met by the American Ministers from Paris and Madrid."

AN INCIDENT.—Some five weeks since, the City Crier, Mr. Hill, picked up in the street a little boy, apparently about five years old, who could give no account of himself; so Mr. Hill took him to his house, where he has remained ever since, and no information could be elicited from him as to whose child he was, or where he came from, but he was continually talking about his little sister, whom he called "sissy Polly." Yesterday, officer Philbrick found in Washington street, a little girl supposed to be about two and a half years old, and not being able to ascertain who she was, he carried her to the City Crier's.—The moment she entered, the little boy knew her as "sissy Polly," and she at the same time recognizing him as her little brother, they rushed into each other's arms with a perfect rapture of delight. They still remain at the Crier's house, but no information has yet been obtained as to whose children they are, or where they belong.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands preeminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRAGE or Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.
Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use: together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.
TO MARRIED WOMEN.
Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.
MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.
I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

DR. CARL V. MEYER'S
GERMAN
HOMEOPATHIC BALSAM

THE discovery of this remarkable sanative medicine was obtained by means of a thoro' scientific analysis of the celebrated

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CARLSBAD,

In Bohemia, well known throughout Europe and Asia for their wonderful curative properties in all cases of confirmed disease and general debility of the human system.

Every summer, thousands of invalids of both sexes, who are afflicted by long standing and obstinate complaints, that have baffled the most eminent medical skill, undergo a fatiguing journey of many hundred miles, to drink and bathe in the healing waters of Carlsbad. That they are liberally repaid for their journey, the hundreds of testimonials, in all languages, that arrest the eye of the promenader, in his walks about the place, abundantly testify. These enduring testimonials of gratitude for recovery of health, are cut on stone and fastened to huge rocks, some are chiseled fairly on the rocks, some are painted on wood and fastened to fences and trees—all certifying that the undersigned were seriously afflicted by disease and despaired of recovery, but they came to Carlsbad and drank of the water, and after a time become thoroughly cured and testified their gratitude in this way. Many have arrived so feeble and prostrated that life seemed almost extinct, but after drinking and bathing in the waters a few months, were thoroughly restored to health.

The medical properties of there waters are particularly effective in eradicating from the system every species of Humor—particularly of a Scrofulous nature—and they have been become popular resorts for persons afflicted with any long standing or hereditary Humor. They range in temperature from tepid to boiling hot, and are very pleasant to the taste.

This Balsam—owning to its wonderful healing properties—may be used EXTERNALLY, as well as internally, and is far better in its effects than any salve or ointment, for it acts DIRECTLY ON THE PART DISEASED, and on no other, just in proportion to which the part is affected.

The use of this Balsam every second or third night, just before going to bed, will supersede the use of pills, (which generally leave the bowels in a torpid state,) and relieve those affections called

DYSPEPSIA,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
Piles, Costiveness, and
WANDERING PAINS,

In most cases engendered by two close confinement in workshops, counting rooms and stores, where too little time is allowed for meals and recreation.

IN SLOW OR CHRONIC DISEASES,
SUCH AS
Scrofula, White Swellings, Scorbutive Eruptions, Ulcers, Erysipelas,
Paralytic and Nervous Affections,
CANKER,
AND ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN,

This Balsam is exceedingly efficacious.

SALT RHEUM,
PILES,
PIMPLES ON THE FACE,
Running Sores, Eruptions of the Skin,

May be cured by using the Medicine according to the directions.

IN CASES OF NEURALGIA,
AND ALL
RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS,

This Balsam will prove a sure remedy.

FOR COLDS,
COUGHS,
SORE THROAT,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE
THROAT AND LUNGS,

This Balsam is the most effectual and lasting remedy ever presented to the public. If you should have a severe paroxysm of coughing, take some of the Balsam, and it will afford immediate relief.—IT MAKES YOU EXPECTORATE EASILY, AND NEVER TIGHTENS A COUGH.

FEMALES

Troubled with a sensation of fullness at the pit of the stomach, or tightness across the chest, or suffering from obstructions or irregularities of the system, will receive relief by taking one tablespoonful on going to bed.

Those troubled with periodical turns of

HEADACHE,

Will find relief by taking a dose of the Balsam. If at any time there is an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, caused by imprudence in eating or otherwise, this Balsam will give immediate relief.

It also acts powerfully as an ALTERATIVE and will always be effective in

PURIFYING AND REGULATING THE SYSTEM.

Wherever this Balsam has been introduced, it has proved an invaluable

Nursery Medicine,

Superseding the use of all other aperients—and its salutary and soothing effects render it a superior anodyne, and preferable to any of the cordials used for that purpose. Its pleasant and agreeable taste recommends it particularly for

CHILDREN,

Thereby sparing the distress usually at ending the administration of nauseous medicine.

This Balsam is put up in unique Metalic Cases, containing about one pint, accompanied with particular directions for using it, in both German and English. The packages are very compact, and conveniently adapted for transportation without breakage any distance, and can be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States.

Should any purchasers of this Balsam upon trial find the operation different from what is said in the directions which accompany each package, they are at liberty to return the medicine to my office and have the money refunded.

Price One Dollar.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Bank and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Daguerreotypes.

A. GREGORY takes pleasure in acknowledging the discrimination of a discerning public in their appreciation of his work by a steady increase of patronage, and lest an erroneous impression might be created at this time that nothing but cheap Daguerreotypes can be had in Portsmouth, respectfully announces to strangers more particularly, (his friends have already sufficient evidence to need any thing being said,) that he still continues at his old stand,

No. 33 Congress St., opposite the City Hotel, making those superior pictures he is noted for, at such prices as shall be satisfactory.

He has just received a lot of BEAUTIFUL CASES of various styles, and all those desiring likenesses of themselves or friends, will find it true economy to obtain his HIGHLY-FINISHED, LIFE-LIKE, ARTISTIC PICTURES. Please observe that his reputation is of seven years permanent residence in this country.

Particular attention is also invited to his beautiful

STEREOSCOPIC DAGUERREOTYPES.

These enchanting pictures need only to be seen to be appreciated; and once seen they cannot fail to captivate the beholder with their wonderful peculiarities and transcendant beauties. I make these pictures by a rule discovered by Mr. D. Pedozzi and myself, a year since, and in that time they have been the theme of admiration of a large number of citizens, including the highest cultivated taste, and been pronounced perfect in stereoscopic effect.

A general invitation is extended to all to examine his specimens and convince themselves of the superiority of his work. Sept. 22.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

THINGS IN VIRGINIA.

It appears by articles in the Richmond Whig, Enquirer and Examiner, representing three political parties, that they are all terribly frightened at a supposed irruption of the Know Nothings. The Whig seems to be the most alarmed, and gives utterance to the general consternation in the following terms:—

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!! THE ENEMY IS HERE!!!

During the whole of yesterday, the good citizens of Richmond, with its vast multitude of visitors to the fair, were almost frentic with excitement and alarm. No such panic ever before existed within the broad limits of the State. Everybody stood appalled, overwhelmed and speechless with affright. It had been formally proclaimed that they were surrounded by a host of invisible, intangible enemies, and each one felt and acted as if the next moment might be his last. Stern men stood ghastly pale the livelong day; frail women wept and trembled, and cried aloud for help, and children's shrieks pierced all the heavens. The whole city was a scene of wild confusion and unutterable dismay. Danger, we grieve to say, still lurks in the streets and alleys and byeways of the town, and in the face and gesture of every human being we meet. Which way shall we turn, and whither shall we fly for safety? "From murder and sudden death, good Lord deliver us!" is to-day the fervent, heartfelt prayer of more than fifty thousand souls in the city of Richmond, whose lives, and liberties, and effects are all at the mercy of an organized army of thieves, pickpockets and Know Nothings. Great heavens, what an alarming and terrible combination! And just to think, too; that before the rising of another sun, our beautiful city may be drenched with the blood of its noble citizens, and its thousands of honored guests! Oh, may the gods protect us all from assassination by the infamous Know Nothings!

After giving more quotations than we have room for, the New York Herald offers the following remarks:

This is all the information we have thus far of the Know Nothing Grand Council for the State of Virginia; but it is evident from the tone of the democratic press, that they regard the invasion of the "Council of Thirteen," with evil forebodings to the democracy. And, truly, if the Know Nothings do revolutionize the State of Virginia, the game is up with the remnants of the late overwhelming national democratic party. The candidates of young America and the old fogies, hard shells and soft shells, will be compelled at once to go into liquidation. They need have no further fears or jealousies of each other concerning the next Democratic National Baltimore Convention—for, in the event of the triumph of the Know Nothings in Virginia, there is an end of the resolutions of '98 and '99, of the teachings of Father Ritchie, and of the democratic regime, and the democratic party. There will be only three parties remaining in the land—the coalition anti-slavery party, the Know Nothings, and His Holiness the Pope of Rome. We await the results of the Virginia State Fair and the Council of the Know Nothings in her State capital. Richmond is now the Sebastopol of the terrified democracy, and the Know Nothings, like the allies have crossed the river and invested the town.

THE LAW AS AN AVENGER OR AN EXTORTIONER.—In the Court of Common Pleas, now in session in this city, a motion was made, on Friday morning, for the discharge of A. B. from imprisonment. The Counsel for the respondent stated to the Court that his client had been arrested, and was now confined in our County jail by one C. D., who alleges in his writ, substantially, the cause of action to be "for writing the words—'You are a liar,'" meaning thereby that the Plaintiff is a liar. This statement was supported by the affidavit of the respondent, and was uncontradicted by the Plaintiff's counsel. The grounds of the motion was that the said words were not actionable, and that the object of the Plaintiff was to extort money, the damages being set forth in the sum of $1000.

The Court having considered the motion, the said writ being returnable to the next February term, stated that the Statutes of this State gave them no authority to discharge the respondent, however insufficient the said cause of action might be.

Now, unless this respondent is able to procure bail, he must be detained in jail until the case is disposed of at some future time. It seems to be well settled in our Courts of Law, that the mere accusation of "villain," "rogue," "liar," and such like contemptuous declarations, unaccompanied by any express malice, are not actionable.

Should it happen, after all, that the respondent may be able to prove a justification, viz: that the plaintiff is a liar, (and the plaintiff may then be but one of a thousand who talk piously,) wherein will this respondent be able to obtain satisfactory redress for this imprisonment? If these words, as set forth in the plaintiff's declaration, are not actionable, and the Court are clearly of this opinion,—the said writ being issued out of this Court,—should not the Court have such authority, in the premises, as to order a nonsuit, at any moment, when such an outrage is brought to their notice? Is the law thus to be made to minister to such exalted morality as that $1,000 shall be the ad damnum for every lie? There is a grevious wrong herein, through the negligence of our Legislators, which should be speedily remedied. JUSTITIA.

KNICKERBOCKER FOR NOVEMBER, 1854—just received from Federhen & Co., Boston, via J. P. Morse, Portsmouth.

Among the contents are two chapters of the amusing Fudge Papers, closing the series; Why I am a Bachelor; Flower de Sillery, paper 2; &c., &c.

One of the articles on the Editor's Table purports to restore a piece of wit to the right owner.

Speaking of a writer who had given John Randolph credit for a reply he did not make, the Knickerbocker says:

I can excuse him for attributing all the wit in Congress to John Randolph of Roanoke, since he is probably not aware that John ever found his match there. But the author of the wit quoted is a man so little known as Arthur Livermore, of New Hampshire, who in his day was one of the first men of the age, and has been long retired from public life, and within the last two years laid his body to rest in the retired town of Holderness, among the mountains of his native State, upon one of the head branches of the beautiful Merrimack.

I recollect to have noticed this anecdote many years ago, almost in my college-days, and have often wondered that it attracted no more attention. It must have occurred nearly forty years ago, in the United States House of Representatives. The parties concerned were the late Mr. Smythe, of Virginia, one of the Commissioners at Ghent, if I rightly recollect; at all events, a man of eminence and distinction in his native State, the 'Old Dominion,' and greatly respected and deferred to in the councils of the nation. He was a man of some pretension and pomp, and who, on occasion, knew how to 'put on airs' to serve a purpose. He was a man who spoke often, and commanded always the attention of the House. Mr. Livermore was a man of plainness and simplicity, but of great nerve and firmness, and could not bear to be pushed any more than the highest Southern blood.—He did not often speak, but when he did, he commanded the most profound respect. He was a man of invariable directness of aim, and he despised the vulgar arts of rhetoric and political chicanery just about equally.—

It happened that some measure in which Mr. Livermore took a deep interest was before the House, and the House in a good mood for favorable action; but Mr. Smythe, for some reason or other, was determined to talk it out of time. It became of the last importance to strangle him in some way, and this is an operation which a New Hampshire man cannot ordinarily perform with much success upon a 'full-blooded' Virginian in the full tide of successful debate. But Mr. Smythe careered over the whole world at will, with no reference to the subject before the House; and at the close of one of his most eloquent and most satisfactory periods, Mr. Livermore rose, and, in a tone of great firmness and determination, called the gentleman to order for thus wandering from the business before the House. The hot Virginian turned upon his New Hampshire intruder with great wrath and affected contempt. He said 'He would teach the gentleman from New Hampshire not thus to interrupt him. He was not speaking for the edification of the gentleman altogether, or of this House, indeed, but for all future time—for posterity!' 'Yes,' ejaculated Livermore, in a voice which rang through the House like the whistle of a locomotive; 'yes, truly; and the gentleman is in a fair way at this rate to have his audience before him before he gets through!'

The effect was electric, and the House involuntarily broke out into a broad laugh, at Mr. Smythe's expense of course, which affected him so much at the moment that he was quite unable to gather up his scattered forces, and left posterity to get their own light in their own way, and sat down. And all this is now brought up as one of John of Roanoke's best hits! Such is fame!

ARREST FOR FORGERY.—Henry G. Avery, who murdered his mistress, a girl from Worcester, on board a California bound vessel some months since, and was subsequently acquitted by a San Francisco jury, on the ground of insanity, has turned up again in this city, having formerly had a temporary residence here or in this vicinity. Soon after his recent return from California, he took up his second abode here, with a woman claiming to be his wife, and upon plausible representations became indebted to Geo. Church, a grocer of this city, to the amount of some $18. Wishing to raise the wind, last week, he presented to Mr. Church a bill against the New York and New Haven Railroad for $37.50, purporting to be for labor done on that road, and represented in substance, that he could not get the money as soon as he wanted it, as the bill must be sent to the regular paying office. Mr. C. told him to procure the endorsement of the road agent, and he would then take the bill and pay him the balance, which would be about $20, after deducting the amount of his indebtedness at the store. Avery subsequently presented the bill to Mr. Church, endorsed as follows:—"R. S. Parker, good for the amount," and the proposition as above stated was fulfilled, Mr. Church supposing Mr. Parker to be the agent of the New York and New Haven Road, which he is not, but is an agent of the Hartford and New Haven Road. The bill proved to be a fictitious one, and the endorsement a forgery, upon which officer Walker committed Avery to jail, where he is now held to answer.—Springfield Republican.

TESTIMONIAL.—The agents for Lloyd's have placed in the Merchant's Exchange in New York a beautiful engrossed certificate, which is to be presented to Capt. Ludlow, for his humane and gallant conduct in rescuing the crew and passengers of the Meridian.—Under the vignette, which is a fine mezzotint engraving, representing the rescue of shipwrecked mariners, is the following inscription:

"Lloyds.—Presented by the Committee for managing the affairs of Lloyds, to Capt. Isaac Ludlow, of the American bark Monmouth, to mark the sense entertained by them of his noble and generous conduct in saving the crew and passengers of the Meridian, from London to Sydney, New South Wales, wrecked on Amsterdam Island, 24th August, 1853. Thomas Baring, Chairman. Geo. A. Halsted, Secretary."

DEATH OF A COUNSELLOR.—Died, at his residence in Epping, Nov. 2, James McMurphy, Esq., counsellor at law, aged about 33. This mournful event excites the deepest feelings of sorrow in the community of his acquaintance, and among all with whom he was associated in his profession. His character in point of talents and integrity, stood high in the estimation of the citizens of Epping, of which he was this year the Representative in the State Legislature. He commenced the practice of law eight or nine years since, and his successful career gave strong assurance, that had his life been spared, he would soon have been ranked among the most distinguished of his profession. One of his children deceased in September, and he attended the present Court of Common Pleas at the commencement of the session. He took a violent cold which induced a raging fever, and thus was terminated a life affording promise of great usefulness. But he has passed from the transitory scenes of human life to receive the reward of the pure in heart.

"Hear what the voice from Heaven declares
To those in Christ who die;
Released from all their earthly cares
They'll reign with Him on high." Y.

At a meeting of the Rockingham Bar, convened yesterday, the death of James McMurphy was announced, and Messrs. Hackett, Marston and French were appointed a Committee to consider and report what measures, it will be appropriate to adopt on the event.

Mr. Hackett, for the Committee, at a subsequent meeting, reported the following resolution, which was agreed to.

The members of this Bar, having received the painful intelligence that James McMurphy, Esq., Counsellor at Law, who was with us in the discharge of his professional duties, during the first part of this Term, deceased last evening at his residence in Epping,

Resolved, That as a token of affectionate regard for our deceased brother, and of our respect for his memory, we will in a body be present at his funeral; and before the close of the Term, will request the Court to enter upon the records some appropriate notice of the event.

HENRY F. FRENCH, Sec. of the Bar.

George N. Melcher, the third of the clerks charged with larceny from the dry goods store of Mr. Strain, Newburyport, was examined at the Police Court on Thursday, and held for trial at the next term of the Common Pleas. The bonds are $400, the same as in the case of Goodhue, the clerk who was examined on Wednesday.—Herald.

CHURCH BURNT AT CONCORD.—On Thursday evening, Nov. 2, at about six o'clock, the gas was for the first time lighted in the Unitarian Church, at Concord, which has just undergone thorough repairs. After three burners had been lighted, there was a strong smell of gas. A person went below to ascertain the cause, when the gas which had been escaping into the ceiling at once ignited, and the fire in a moment run up the whole height of the church. In an hour and a half this fine edifice was even with the ground.—Journal.

☞ Harper's New Monthly, for November, 1854, just received via Federhen & Co., Boston, and J. P. Morse, Portsmouth. Already noticed.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The Philadelphia Bulletin publishes a table of the Congressional vote in Pennsylvania, comparing the figures with those of 1852. The table makes out a majority against Nebraska of 66,298. The democratic majority in 1852 was 23,475—a change in two years of ninety thousand against the administration. The entire Congressional vote of 1852 was 314,486; in 1854, 451,158; an increase of 36,672. The Gubernatorial vote this year reaches 371,000, or 20,000 more than for Congressmen.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ARABIA.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Cunard steamship Arabia, Capt. Judkins, from Liverpool, with dates to the 21st ult., arrived here this morning.

Reports had again been circulated, simultaneously in Vienna, Paris and London, of the fall of Sebastopol, and large stock operations are said to have been made on the faith of the statement, but the public were slow to believe it.

A Russian corps of 15,000 men was posted on the Ichernaya, near Sebastopol, and the opening of great operations was daily expected.

It is said that Gen. Carrobat has notified the French Government that the position of the Allies is impregnable, being defended by 80,000 men and 200 guns, and that it could easily held out against 200,000 Russians.

In consequence of correspondence found among Menschikoff's effects, when his carriage was captured, after the battle of the Alma, several important arrests have been made at Varna.

Lord Stratford de Redcliffe, British minister at Constantinople, has succeeded in procuring a firman to suppress the trade in Circassian and Georgian slaves.

A large portion of the French Baltic fleet had returned to Cherbourg.

The Journal of St. Petersburg, of the 14th, contains a telegraphic despatch from Vienna, stating that the Commissioners of the Western Powers, and of Austria and Turkey, had met at Constantinople to arrange the question of the protectorate on the basis of the proposals made by the Austrian cabinet.

Market, Oct. 21.—Wheat has been in good request, and buyers have had to pay an advance of 1s. per 70 lbs. on all descriptions.

Flour has been sparingly offered, and dealers being eager to supply themselves, an advance of 6 a 7s. per bbl. has been realized. Indian Corn in demand for export and commands an advance of 2s. The quotations are —Western Canal Flour, 39s. a 40; Philadelphia and Baltimore, 41s. a 42; white Wheat, 11s. 6d. a 12s. Indian Corn, white and mixed, 38s. 6d. a 40s.; yellow, 40s. a 41.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Soft Shell Democratic Ratification Meeting was held this evening, at Tammany Hall. From six to eight thousand persons were present. John Cochrane presided, and in his speech said that the Convention which had nominated Governor Seymour had stated their position on national as well as state questions. The issue on the liquor question had been forced upon the democrats by the nomination of Myron H. Clark, after it had been settled by the veto. He denounced the Maine Law as subversive of individual and constitutional rights. Lorenzo B. Shepherd and John B. Steele also addressed the meeting.

An outside meeting was presided over by John I. Mumford. Capt. Rynders and others were the speakers.

Immigration.—During the month of October there arrived at this port 357 steamers and sailing vessels, bringing 39,630 passengers.

OYSTERS AND BRANDY.—The Washington Star says that no disease from eating oysters has been noticed in that city. It adds very justly:-

Stale oysters, more especially when eaten by a person whose stomach requires a regimen—for the protection of his health—are always apt to be dangerous, particularly if bad brandy or whiskey be drank immoderately before, with, or after them.

It might be added that as pretty much all the brandy and whiskey are bad now-a-days, the safest way is to eat the oysters dry.—Prov. Journal.
